West's Big 4 Study Idea Of U.N. Berlin Protection

Ministers Call For Peaceful Union Of Congo

PARIS (AP) — Proposals to place West Berlin under United Nations protection were laid before the Big Four foreign ministers Monday by their staff of experts. The foreign ministers opened a wide-ranging study of world crises.

At a morning session, before West Germany joined the consultations, the U.S., British and French ministers called for uniting the Congo by peaceful means. Informants said this ruled out recognition of strife-torn Katanga as an independent nation.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville met in the morning at the beginning of a week of momentous consultations that later will embrace all the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Bonn Minister Joins Talks

Then with Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder of West Germany, they took up the next move, if any, in their dispute with the Soviet Union over the status of West Berlin.

The idea for a U.N. protective cloak for the city came up in a long, detailed report from the ministers' experts on the various political, economic, psychological and other aspects of the Berlin problem.

U.S. sources said the report pointed to the key problem confronting the four ministers: should the West go into negotiations with Russia on Berlin at the present time, or should the West wait for a more favorable occasion? France wants to wait. Rusk and Home, with Schroeder's blessing, want to talk now, considering Berlin the most immediate threat to peace.

Transfer Of Agencies Suggested

The experts raised the idea of moving specialized U.N. agencies —such as the Food and Agricultural Organization and the Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization—to Berlin.

One proposal even goes so far as to suggest moving all the United Nations to Berlin and making the old German capital a completely internationalized city.

The Soviet Union has talked of some sort of U.N. presence in West Berlin but has withheld comment on various proposals to move either the United Nations or some of its agencies to Berlin.

Guilt Proclaimed

Adolf Eichmann stands erect in special bullet-proof glass enclosure in Jerusalem court yesterday as presiding judge started reading of verdict proclaiming Eichman guilty for crimes against Jews in World War II, crimes against humanity, war crimes and membership in Hitler's Gestapo.

Convicted Eichmann Awaiting Sentence

JERUSALEM (AP)—Adolf Eichmann's Israeli judges convicted him Monday of "unsurpassed" crimes against the Jewish people. Their judgment linked the former Gestapo colonel directly to three major phases in the Nazi plot to exterminate six million Jews.

The 55-year-old onetime chief of the Gestapo's Jewish affairs section stood ramrod-straight, without a change of expression, as the court pronounced the verdict, which could send him to the gallows.

Eichmann is liable to the death penalty under terms of a 1950 law he has been convicted of violating. The verdict came 18 months after Israeli agents abducted Eichmann from Argentina and flew him here for trial.

Sentence will be pronounced later this week.

Eichmann was permitted to resume his seat behind bullet-proof glass as his three judges alternated in reading their judgment. He never took his eyes off the bench as the justices read out a citation of him as a "chief executor" of:

1. Persecution of the Jews in Germany from 1933 to 1939.

2. Persecution of the Jews from the outbreak of World War II to mid-1941.

3. Final solution of the Jewish problem—extermination.

Opening the day's proceedings, presiding Judge Moshe Landau, in a stern and uncompromising tone, ordered Eichmann to stand, then announced: "Accused, the court convicts you of crimes against the Jewish people, crimes against humanity, war crimes and of being a member of a hostile organization."

The brief verdict, read out rapidly, embraces the entire 15-count indictment against Eichmann, but the court will not get around to ruling on each of the 15 counts until the latter phases of its 300-page judgment.

Eichmann's oft-repeated contention that he was only a cog in the Nazi apparatus who carried out orders but never initiated them was rejected by the court.

Russian Envoy Disputes JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Disputing President Kennedy, Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov said Monday Moscow is "against the export of revolution" around the world.

Menshikov said also there will be nothing to negotiate in the German crisis if all the Western powers want is confirmation of their occupation rights to West Berlin. And he denied any Soviet rift with Red China, over Albania or anything else.

The white-haired, veteran Russian envoy spoke to an overflow crowd at a National Press Club luncheon. It was his second such appearance since he came to Washington about four years ago.

U.S. policy makers believe a basic cause of the continuing East-West clash is a Communist campaign to bring the rest of the world into the Red camp. Kennedy raised this point in his interview last month with Russian editor Alexei Adzhubei, son-in-law of Premier Khrushchev.

Said Menshikov:

"We are against the export of revolution. But we do not recognize anybody's right to export counterrevolution, nor to perform the functions of an international policeman."

British Hold Up Bombs For U.N.

LONDON (AP)—Britain refused Monday to hand over bombs to the United Nations for use in the Congo until it is satisfied about what is going on in Katanga.

The sensational turnabout was announced to a stormy session of the House of Commons by Edward Heath, lord privy seal and deputy foreign minister. Only last week Britain offered 24 half-ton bombs to the United Nations provided they were used only for defense.

Heath made it clear the sudden switch was brought about by developments in the Congo over the weekend, particularly by reported statements by leading U.N. figures at variance with the policy of the United Nations in Katanga.

Heath said Britain must see the discrepancies clarified before it can authorize release of the bombs.

Heath said the request by acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant for the bombs for Indian Canberra aircraft faced the British government with a grave decision.

U.N. Motive Questioned By Tshombe

Katanga Leader Charges Campaign To Break Economy

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP) — Condemning a U.N. air raid on Kolwezi, President Moise Tshombe charged Monday the United Nations is out to cut if not to destroy the copper-based economy of secessionist Katanga.

"This day will be marked with a white stone by the capitalist bourgeoisie to mark the story of its decadence," Tshombe told a news conference. "For us and our African brothers, this day will be marked with a black stone."

The U.N. strike at Kolwezi, a copper center and site of a Katanga air strip 150 miles northwest of Elisabethville, was one of a series of weekend raids and counterraids.

U. N. - Held Airport Bombed

By the light of flares fired by Katanga ground troops, two Katanga planes attacked the U.N.-held Elisabethville airport early Monday. One was a single-engine Piper, the other a twin-engine Dornier. The Dornier was reported to have dropped five bombs. U.N. sources said the damage was slight and there were no casualties.

After waiting for bad weather to clear, U.N. jets took off by daylight in a hunt to catch the raiders somewhere aground.

Two Swedish jets and an Indian Canberra bomber shot up Camp Tshombe, the largest military center in Elisabethville, in an attack with rockets and cannon fire Sunday. The fliers sought to knock out a mortar battery blocking an advance by U.N. ground forces on a strategic underpass.

U. N. Claim Contradicted

Of the general situation, Tshombe said Katanga's secession is not the U.N. target. In this he seemed in agreement with U.N. authorities, who say there is no political motive in the drive launched by the U.N. Congo command last Tuesday. But he contradicted the U.N. declaration that it is a defensive action to restore law and order.

Installations of the Union Miniere Copper and Cobalt Co. at Kolwezi were heavily damaged, diesel oil and water tanks were hit and the town was left without fuel, Tshombe said. Raids on the Elisabethville post office and radio transmitters, he said, have largely cut Katanga's communications with the outside world.

Union Miniere is a $400 million Belgian-British concern whose taxes covered much of all the Congo's governmental expenses when the Congo was a Belgian colony. Now those taxes are the mainstay of the Tshombe administration.

AFL-CIO Votes Ban On Hoffa

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP) — The AFL-CIO acted Monday to keep out the expelled Teamsters Union so long as it is headed by James R. Hoffa.

Delegates to the AFL-CIO convention adopted a resolution by overwhelming voice vote to take back the Teamsters, or other unions ousted on corruption charges, only when such organizations can meet completely the ethical practices standards of the federation's constitution.

AFL-CIO President George Meany told the delegates he intends to enforce these standards. A spokesman for Meany said that meant the Teamsters won't be readmitted while Hoffa is President.

The AFL-CIO action was seen as a rebuff to Hoffa's hopes of regaining prestige lost when the Teamsters were expelled four years ago on grounds that the union was corruptly dominated under Hoffa's leadership.

First Requiem Mass Held For Archbishop

BALTIMORE (AP) — The first of four requiem masses for the Most Rev. Francis Patrick Keough, archbishop of Baltimore, was celebrated Monday.

The 70-year-old archbishop will be buried in a crypt of Cathedral of Mary Our Queen Thursday after a mass pontificated by Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, apostolic delegate to the United States from the Vatican.

Tuesday's mass will be for the school children of the diocese. Wednesday's will be attended by the teaching brothers and sisters.

Archbishop Keough died last Friday after a week's illness.

Public Welfare Changes Slated To Curb Abuses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff announced Monday the first steps in a shakeup of the public welfare program aimed at curbing abuses and helping people get off the relief rolls.

Ribicoff said the actions were dictated by "a hard head and a compassionate heart."

Bearing President Kennedy's approval, the new program includes a crackdown on relief chiselers and the creation of special state units to track down parents who desert their children.

The changes will cost both federal and state governments more money.

The program calls for more effective aid to illegitimate children, and sets the same standards for these children as for those whose fathers desert them.

Ribicoff denied at a news conference that the revamping of the federal state assistance program has stimulated by the controversial welfare plan of Newburgh, N.Y.

"Absolutely not," he said. "It was under way long before that."

Ribicoff said the Newburgh approach "accomplishes nothing" and added: "Newburgh sensationalized the problem and might have helped by bringing it to the public's attention. But Newburgh represents the demagogic approach, the destructive approach."

Enforcement of the Newburgh plan has been temporarily restrained by court action brought by the state. Among other things it would cut from the relief rolls mothers of illegitimate children who continue to bear illegitimate children after being warned.

Ribicoff said the first-year cost of the administrative changes he is putting into effect would be $17,300,000. The federal government will provide half of this and the states will be expected to put up the rest.

Asserting he expects to have cooperation, Ribicoff added that if a state does not go along with the plan "then we get tough" and "cut off their money." The secretary said he has called a meeting of all state welfare administrators in Washington Jan. 29-31 to discuss the new approaches.

The secretary said also he had sent a letter to the governor of each state asking for support.

U Thant Warns U.N. Faces Bankruptcy

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —Acting Secretary General Thant urged the General Assembly Monday to take immediate action to save the United Nations from "imminent bankruptcy."

Thant said the organization's deficit will reach $170 million by next June unless drastic changes are made in the present financial system.

Prehistoric Skeleton

LONDON (AP) — Soviet scientists have unearthed the skeleton of a duck-billed dinosaur from the bed of a dried-up river near Tashkent, the Soviet news agency Tass reported Monday.

Report Khrush May Have Had Stroke Doubted

PARIS (AP) — The newspaper France Soir Monday quoted well-informed Western sources as saying that Soviet Premier Khrushchev apparently suffered a slight stroke recently.

The article by Michel Gorday, France Soir's Russian expert, said observers noted that Khrushchev stopped several times during a speech Saturday, seemed to lose the thread of his thoughts, stammered and had difficulty in finishing sentences or pronouncing certain words correctly. The story added that at the end of the 55-minute speech before the World Federation of Trade Unions, Khrushchev was covered with perspiration and seemed to be exhausted.

Gorday wrote that the reports reaching Paris said a slight stroke apparently was suffered after the closing of the 22nd Communist party congress.

The Moscow bureau of the Associated Press said it had found no substantiation of the France Soir report. Preston Grover, chief AP correspondent there, watched Khrushchev make the speech in question, and said he seemed in fine form.

Canada Expels Soviet Attache

OTTAWA (UPI)—The assistant military attache at the Soviet Embassy has been expelled from Canada for trying to buy secrets from a government employe, the External Affairs Department revealed Monday.

Lieut. Col. Anatoly F. Loginov, about 40, was caught in the act of receiving secret information by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the department said.

The department said Loginov cultivated the friendship of the government employe over an 18-month period, first seeking information of an "innocent nature" and finally making it clear he was prepared to pay for top secrets. At this stage, the department said, the employe went to the police.

East And West Approve Outer Space Program

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. main Political Committee approved unanimously Monday a comprehensive program for international cooperation in exploring outer space. Details were worked out in private negotiations between the United States and the Soviet Union.

U.S.-Soviet agreement broke a three-year deadlock on launching a U.N. program aimed at insuring that outer space be used strictly for peaceful purposes.

Delegates from the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France all hailed the agreement as laying the groundwork for fruitful cooperation in mankind's newest scientific field.

U.S. Delegate Charles W. Yost said unanimous approval gets the United Nations "off the launching pad."

"Whether we actually go into successful orbit will depend upon the energy, the responsibility and the wisdom we demonstrate in the subsequent stages of this great adventure," he added.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin said unanimity would be important in ensuring future cooperation and peaceful coexistence between states with different social systems.

The program was contained in five companion resolutions approved by the Political Committee.

They provided for enlarging the present 24-nation committee to 28 by addition of three African nations and Communist Mongolia. The African members are Chad, Morocco and Sierra Leone.

The Soviet Union had insisted upon a troika division with equal representation for the Communist, Western and neutral nations. The new committee will have 12 Western, eight Communist and eight nonaligned nations.

Under the agreement the committee is to meet no later than March 31 to get the outer space program into operation.

New Snowstorm Sweeps Across Nation's Midlands

CHICAGO (AP)—A snowstorm whirled across the Western plains Monday, slowing air and ground travel and closing schools in some areas.

Stinging cold that ranged to 34 below zero covered much of a frigid zone that extended from the Rockies to the Great Lakes.

The count of deaths since an earlier storm crossed the Midwest Friday night rose to 88. All but a few of the fatalities were caused by traffic accidents on slick roads.

Snow measured up to 11 inches in Nebraska.

A number of schools were closed on the eastern plains of Colorado. Wind-whipped snow scaled up to 18 inches in Pueblo County.

Heavy snow also shut schools in San Juan and Sante Fe counties in New Mexico.

The Will Rogers Airport in Oklahoma City reported no planes were arriving, and few took off, because of an inch of ice on the runways. Landings were on instrument only at the Tinker Air Force Base.

Some schools in the Oklahoma City area were closed. Tulsa school children were sent home an hour early.

Blizzard warnings were issued for the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle, western and north-central Kansas and northeastern Nebraska.

Glaze warnings were issued for parts of Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri.

President Of American Stock Exchange Resigns

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American Stock Exchange, whose trading practices have been under investigation by the Securities & Exchange Commission for seven months, Monday announced the resignation of its president, Edward T. (Ted) McCormick, himself a former SEC commissioner.

The announcement, which climaxed reports current since May of dissension within the exchange over various regulations and practices, came from Joseph F. Reilly, chairman of the ASE board. Reilly was named president pro tem.

The next election for top officers of the board is scheduled for Feb. 12, 1962. The ASE constitution provides that the chairman of the board should take over the duties of the president in the case of "absence or inability to act," and the board, in case of vacancy, may designate a president pro tem.

The board accepted the resignations of McCormick and the ASE general counsel, Michael E. Mooney. Both men said they believed that because of recent publicity it would be in the best interests of the exchange to sever their connections with it.

A board spokesman said McCormick had signed a six-year contract March 1, 1959, as exchange president at $75,000 a year. But the spokesman said that when McCormick announced his resignation Monday he told him the contract was "out the window."

The spokesman said no settlement was involved in McCormick's action.

Connally Will Seek Texas Governorship

JFK Names Korth, Former Army Aide, To Take Over Post

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Navy Secretary John B. Connally Jr. resigned Monday and announced he will run for governor of Texas.

President Kennedy accepted the resignation with regret. He immediately appointed another Fort Worth man, Fred Korth, 52, as Navy secretary.

Connally, 44, said he made the decision to run for governor only a few days ago, although political observers had predicted months ago that he would seek the Democratic nomination.

Connally, an oil man, lawyer and businessman, became Navy secretary Jan. 25 shortly after Kennedy took office. His resignation is effective Dec. 20.

Korth practices law and is president of the Continental National Bank in Fort Worth. In 1951, he was appointed deputy counsellor for the Army, and served as an assistant secretary of the Army in 1952 and 1953.

Connally Friend Of Johnson

Connally is a close friend and advisor of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. He also was a close friend of the late Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House, also a Texan.

"I return to Texas confident in the knowledge that our great Navy-Marine Corps team is ready and capable of carrying out any mission which the President may call upon them to perform," Connally told a news conference at which he made his announcement.

"I am proud to have had the opportunity to contribute to this strength."

"In announcing for governor, I did so with the conviction that military strength alone cannot guarantee our security and our way of life. If I were otherwise convinced, I would not be here today."

Texas Political Picture Scrambled

Connally has been a behind-the-scenes power in Texas politics since his graduation from the University of Texas.

The announcement by Connally is expected to scramble the Texas political picture.

For instance, it may cause Gov. Price Daniel to make an announcement shortly on whether he plans to seek a fourth term.

Two persons earlier announced for governor. They are Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, a Democrat who is feuding with Daniel over several matters, and Republican Jack Cox, Breckenridge businessman.

Marshall Formby of Plainview, former chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, says he will announce in January. Half a dozen others are expected to run.

Moscow Makes Break Official

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union formally announced Monday night it has broken off diplomatic relations with Albania. It accused the Albanians of waging a "slanderous campaign" hostile to the Soviets and deliberately obstructing the work of Russian diplomats in Albania.

The announcement by the official Soviet Tass news agency confirmed the break which was disclosed by the Albanians Sunday. It climaxed a growing rift between the Kremlin and the "Stalinist" leaders of the tiny Communist Balkan state.

(Reports reaching Paris said Albania also had been ousted from the Communist bloc Warsaw military pact.)

Nation's Retail Sales Reach Record High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Retail sales activity rose sharply in November to a record high, the Commerce Department reported Monday.

Led by brisk buying of new cars, retail trade rose three per cent with gains in virtually all lines, the department said.

Sales totalled $19.3 billion on a seasonally adjusted basis. This was $400 million above the previous peak of $18.9 billion set 19 months ago in April, 1960.

Ribicoff denied at a news conference that the revamping of the federal state assistance program has stimulated by the controversial welfare plan of Newburgh, N.Y.

"Absolutely not," he said. "It was under way long before that."

Ribicoff said the Newburgh approach "accomplishes nothing" and added: "Newburgh sensationalized the problem and might have helped by bringing it to the public's attention. But Newburgh represents the demagogic approach, the destructive approach."

Enforcement of the Newburgh plan has been temporarily restrained by court action brought by the state. Among other things it would cut from the relief rolls mothers of illegitimate children who continue to bear illegitimate children after being warned.

Ribicoff said the first-year cost of the administrative changes he is putting into effect would be $17,300,000. The federal government will provide half of this and the states will be expected to put up the rest.

Asserting he expects to have cooperation, Ribicoff added that if a state does not go along with the plan "then we get tough" and "cut off their money." The secretary said he has called a meeting of all state welfare administrators in Washington Jan. 29-31 to discuss the new approaches.

The secretary said also he had sent a letter to the governor of each state asking for support.

U Thant Warns U.N. Faces Bankruptcy

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —Acting Secretary General Thant urged the General Assembly Monday to take immediate action to save the United Nations from "imminent bankruptcy."

Thant said the organization's deficit will reach $170 million by next June unless drastic changes are made in the present financial system.

Prehistoric Skeleton

LONDON (AP) — Soviet scientists have unearthed the skeleton of a duck-billed dinosaur from the bed of a dried-up river near Tashkent, the Soviet news agency Tass reported Monday.

Report Khrush May Have Had Stroke Doubted

PARIS (AP) — The newspaper France Soir Monday quoted well-informed Western sources as saying that Soviet Premier Khrushchev apparently suffered a slight stroke recently.

The article by Michel Gorday, France Soir's Russian expert, said observers noted that Khrushchev stopped several times during a speech Saturday, seemed to lose the thread of his thoughts, stammered and had difficulty in finishing sentences or pronouncing certain words correctly. The story added that at the end of the 55-minute speech before the World Federation of Trade Unions, Khrushchev was covered with perspiration and seemed to be exhausted.

Gorday wrote that the reports reaching Paris said a slight stroke apparently was suffered after the closing of the 22nd Communist party congress.

The Moscow bureau of the Associated Press said it had found no substantiation of the France Soir report. Preston Grover, chief AP correspondent there, watched Khrushchev make the speech in question, and said he seemed in fine form.

Canada Expels Soviet Attache

OTTAWA (UPI)—The assistant military attache at the Soviet Embassy has been expelled from Canada for trying to buy secrets from a government employe, the External Affairs Department revealed Monday.

Lieut. Col. Anatoly F. Loginov, about 40, was caught in the act of receiving secret information by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the department said.

The department said Loginov cultivated the friendship of the government employe over an 18-month period, first seeking information of an "innocent nature" and finally making it clear he was prepared to pay for top secrets. At this stage, the department said, the employe went to the police.

East And West Approve Outer Space Program

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. main Political Committee approved unanimously Monday a comprehensive program for international cooperation in exploring outer space. Details were worked out in private negotiations between the United States and the Soviet Union.

U.S.-Soviet agreement broke a three-year deadlock on launching a U.N. program aimed at insuring that outer space be used strictly for peaceful purposes.

Delegates from the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France all hailed the agreement as laying the groundwork for fruitful cooperation in mankind's newest scientific field.

U.S. Delegate Charles W. Yost said unanimous approval gets the United Nations "off the launching pad."

"Whether we actually go into successful orbit will depend upon the energy, the responsibility and the wisdom we demonstrate in the subsequent stages of this great adventure," he added.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin said unanimity would be important in ensuring future cooperation and peaceful coexistence between states with different social systems.

The program was contained in five companion resolutions approved by the Political Committee.

They provided for enlarging the present 24-nation committee to 28 by addition of three African nations and Communist Mongolia. The African members are Chad, Morocco and Sierra Leone.

The Soviet Union had insisted upon a troika division with equal representation for the Communist, Western and neutral nations. The new committee will have 12 Western, eight Communist and eight nonaligned nations.

Under the agreement the committee is to meet no later than March 31 to get the outer space program into operation.

President Of American Stock Exchange Resigns

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American Stock Exchange, whose trading practices have been under investigation by the Securities & Exchange Commission for seven months, Monday announced the resignation of its president, Edward T. (Ted) McCormick, himself a former SEC commissioner.

The announcement, which climaxed reports current since May of dissension within the exchange over various regulations and practices, came from Joseph F. Reilly, chairman of the ASE board. Reilly was named president pro tem.

The next election for top officers of the board is scheduled for Feb. 12, 1962. The ASE constitution provides that the chairman of the board should take over the duties of the president in the case of "absence or inability to act," and the board, in case of vacancy, may designate a president pro tem.

The board accepted the resignations of McCormick and the ASE general counsel, Michael E. Mooney. Both men said they believed that because of recent publicity it would be in the best interests of the exchange to sever their connections with it.

A board spokesman said McCormick had signed a six-year contract March 1, 1959, as exchange president at $75,000 a year. But the spokesman said that when McCormick announced his resignation Monday he told him the contract was "out the window."

The spokesman said no settlement was involved in McCormick's action.

New Snowstorm Sweeps Across Nation's Midlands

CHICAGO (AP)—A snowstorm whirled across the Western plains Monday, slowing air and ground travel and closing schools in some areas.

Stinging cold that ranged to 34 below zero covered much of a frigid zone that extended from the Rockies to the Great Lakes.

The count of deaths since an earlier storm crossed the Midwest Friday night rose to 88. All but a few of the fatalities were caused by traffic accidents on slick roads.

Snow measured up to 11 inches in Nebraska.

A number of schools were closed on the eastern plains of Colorado. Wind-whipped snow scaled up to 18 inches in Pueblo County.

Heavy snow also shut schools in San Juan and Sante Fe counties in New Mexico.

The Will Rogers Airport in Oklahoma City reported no planes were arriving, and few took off, because of an inch of ice on the runways. Landings were on instrument only at the Tinker Air Force Base.

Some schools in the Oklahoma City area were closed. Tulsa school children were sent home an hour early.

Blizzard warnings were issued for the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle, western and north-central Kansas and northeastern Nebraska.

Glaze warnings were issued for parts of Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri.

Connally Will Seek Texas Governorship

JFK Names Korth, Former Army Aide, To Take Over Post

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Navy Secretary John B. Connally Jr. resigned Monday and announced he will run for governor of Texas.

President Kennedy accepted the resignation with regret. He immediately appointed another Fort Worth man, Fred Korth, 52, as Navy secretary.

Connally, 44, said he made the decision to run for governor only a few days ago, although political observers had predicted months ago that he would seek the Democratic nomination.

Connally, an oil man, lawyer and businessman, became Navy secretary Jan. 25 shortly after Kennedy took office. His resignation is effective Dec. 20.

Korth practices law and is president of the Continental National Bank in Fort Worth. In 1951, he was appointed deputy counsellor for the Army, and served as an assistant secretary of the Army in 1952 and 1953.

Connally Friend Of Johnson

Connally is a close friend and advisor of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. He also was a close friend of the late Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House, also a Texan.

"I return to Texas confident in the knowledge that our great Navy-Marine Corps team is ready and capable of carrying out any mission which the President may call upon them to perform," Connally told a news conference at which he made his announcement.

"I am proud to have had the opportunity to contribute to this strength."

"In announcing for governor, I do so with the conviction that military strength alone cannot guarantee our security and our way of life. If I were otherwise convinced, I would not be here today."

Texas Political Picture Scrambled

Connally has been a behind-the-scenes power in Texas politics since his graduation from the University of Texas.

Connally nominated Johnson for president at the 1956 Democratic Convention.

The announcement by Connally is expected to scramble the Texas political picture.

For instance, it may cause Gov. Price Daniel to make an announcement shortly on whether he plans to seek a fourth term.

Two persons earlier announced for governor. They are Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, a Democrat who is feuding with Daniel over several matters, and Republican Jack Cox, Breckenridge businessman.

Marshall Formby of Plainview, former chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, says he will announce in January. Half a dozen others are expected to run.

Moscow Makes Break Official

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union formally announced Monday night it has broken off diplomatic relations with Albania. It accused the Albanians of waging a "slanderous campaign" hostile to the Soviets and deliberately obstructing the work of Russian diplomats in Albania.

The announcement by the official Soviet Tass news agency confirmed the break which was disclosed by the Albanians Sunday. It climaxed a growing rift between the Kremlin and the "Stalinist" leaders of the tiny Communist Balkan state.

(Reports reaching Paris said Albania also had been ousted from the Communist bloc Warsaw military pact.)

Nation's Retail Sales Reach Record High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Retail sales activity rose sharply in November to a record high, the Commerce Department reported Monday.

Led by brisk buying of new cars, retail trade rose three per cent with gains in virtually all lines, the department said.

Sales totalled $19.3 billion on a seasonally adjusted basis. This was $400 million above the previous peak of $18.9 billion set 19 months ago in April, 1960.

Paris "Heat Wave"

PARIS (AP)—The temperature rose to 62.6 Fahrenheit Monday the highest recorded in Paris in December since the Weather Bureau started keeping records in 1873.

Supreme Court Upsets Conviction Of "Sit-Ins"

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court overturned Monday the conviction of 16 Negro sit-in demonstrators in Louisiana but left unanswered broad constitutional questions raised by the sit-in controversy.

The Congress of Racial Equality quickly hailed the decision as the dawning of a "new day" for Negroes, but officials of Southern states said it would have little effect on hundreds of similar pending cases.

The attorney general of Louisiana said the high court did not pass on the constitutionality of the state's so-called sit-in law.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, delivering the court's opinion, pointedly confined the unanimous decision to the Constitution's due process clause as applied to the convictions.

He said it was not necessary to consider other constitutional questions raised in the Louisiana cases—freedom of expression and equal protection.

Nor, Warren said, was it necessary to decide in Monday's decision whether a private business owner has the right to serve only whom he chooses, a question Louisiana had raised. He said that in the three 1960 Baton Rouge cases involved, at no time did representatives of the store owners ask the Negroes to leave the "white only" lunch counters.

These other questions could be touched on if the court agrees to hear Virginia and North Carolina sit-in cases presented to it.

The 16 Negroes, all students of Southern University in Baton Rouge, were convicted under a Louisiana law making it a breach of the peace to "act in such a manner as to unreasonably disturb or alarm the public."

Each was sentenced to four months in prison, with three months to be suspended on payment of $100 fines.

Warren said there was no evidence that the Negroes "disturbed the peace, either by outwardly boisterous conduct or by passive conduct likely to cause a public disturbance."

Louisiana had contended that the police were justified in making the arrests because they feared violence might erupt.

Weatherman Predicts Mild Winter In East

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jerome Namias, chief of the weather bureau's extended forecasts branch, Monday unveiled a strictly unofficial 90-day forecast which said this winter would be milder than usual in the East, but worse than usual in the West.

The forecast, which appeared to be just the opposite of last year's at this time, is not something Namias is willing to swear by, however.

Using a blend of science, past experience, and intuition, Namias produced this prediction for the December - January - February season:

Temperatures: Above normal over most of the eastern half of the county. Below normal west of the Continental Divide and down through west Texas. Near normal in the northern, central, and southern plains.

Precipitation: Substantially greater than normal on the West Coast, particularly in the central and southern coast areas. Modcrate to near normal in the southern part of the western plateau. Heavy in the southern and central plains up through the Great Lakes region. Below normal in the southeastern part of the country and east of the Appalachians and south of Pennsylvania. Below normal in a good part of the Pacific Northwest except along the coast. Rest of the country normal.

British Tab Sale Of Jets To China "Breakthrough"

PARIS (AP)—Britain's sale of four Viscount jets to Red China was portrayed by British sources Monday as a significant political breakthrough in the great wall of Peiping's isolation from the West.

The controversial trade deal on credit, according to British officials here, provides that technicians of Vickers-Armstrong Aircraft, Ltd., and Rolls-Royce, Ltd., will accompany the airliners to help train Chinese crews and maintain the craft.

It also marks the first time since the establishment of the Communist regime that Peiping has turned to a major Western power for aid and has agreed to admit specialists into Chinese territory, these officials said.

Perhaps the most important aspect of the transaction, as seen by the British, is that the Chinese found themselves unable to count on Soviet aid in a vital sphere of their development program.

British authorities consider this might be one of the byproducts of the ideological dispute just dramatized by the Soviet diplomatic break with Albania — a break which took place, according to information here, against Peiping's advice.

These British considerations were outlined amid indications that diplomatic leaders of the United States and Britain soon will examine the whole issue of trade with Red China on an informal basis.

This could take place in Paris between foreign ministers of the two countries this week or in Bermuda when President Kennedy meets with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan next week.

Judge Henderson Begins Interim Term

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Judge William L. Henderson will be sworn in Tuesday to a new interim term on the Maryland Court of Appeals.

The Baltimore jurist, who was appointed to the high court by former Gov. Herbert R. O'Conor in 1944, was elected to a 15-year term in 1946. That term expired Monday and Gov. Tawes reappointed him until the next general election when he is expected to seek re-election.

Arrest Uncovers Theft

SILVER SPRING (AP) — The police first arrested a suspect and then discovered robbery of a dress store Monday.

The suspect, James Campy Irby, 38, was seized after jumping from a car which Montgomery County police came upon in an alley in rear of Martin's Dress Shop.

The car, occupied by another man and a woman, got away after being shot at by the police arresting Irby.

After the car got away, police discovered the dress shop had been broken into. Mrs. David Doan, store manager, said thieves took about 134 pieces of clothing valued at between $8,000 and $10,000.

Police charged Irby with housebreaking and larceny based on the dress store theft. They said Irby had been free under bond while awaiting appeal of a federal court conviction in Alexandria, Va., on charges of illegally possessing $50,000 worth of narcotics.

Restaurateur Asks Jury Trial

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A restaurant owner charged with assault in a student during a sit-in demonstration Dec. 2 requested a jury trial Monday.

The student, Michael Vozick, 24, of Baltimore, was acquitted of a similar charge of assault but was fined $10 for disorderly conduct. Magistrate Robert S. Heise then suspended the fine.

Milton L. Henkel, 58, proprietor of Henkel's Steak House where the incident occurred, did not testify in the case. He told Magistrate Heise he preferred for a jury to determine the matter.

Vozick and Henkel were both arrested by Annapolis police during an altercation in the restaurant after Henkel had wet down anti-segregation demonstrators with a garden hose.

Miss Barbara Jacobs, 23, of Baltimore, who was also involved in the incident but was not charged, told Heise that Vozick came to her aid while Henkel was trying to get the group to leave the restaurant.

She said when Vozick approached Henkel, the restaurant manager slapped him twice and hit him on the head with the nozzle of the hose. She said Henkel also threatened to drive them off b going after a shotgun.

Vozick, a graduate student at Johns Hopkins University, and Miss Jacobs are both white.

Home owners in the United States are spending six billion, 600 million dollars for home repairs and improvements.

Tawes Holds Up Power Pact Shift

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. Tawes ordered the State Board of Public Works Monday to reconsider its cancellation of the Potomac Edison Co.'s contract to furnish electric power to Western Maryland State Hospital.

Charles D. Lyon, the utility's vice president for marketing, told a meeting of the board that Potomac has received notice of cancellation of the contract and its award to the City of Hagerstown.

"Let's see where we are in this," the governor said.

Lyon told the board that his firm has been providing the hospital in Hagerstown with satisfactory service since the institution opened its doors in 1955.

Two Brothers To Die For Rape

ROCKVILLE (AP)—Two brothers were sentenced to the gas chamber Monday for the rape of a 16-year-old Hyattsville girl last July.

Judge James H. Pugh of Montgomery County Circuit Court imposed the sentence on James V. Giles, 20, and John Giles, 22, of Spencerville. The brothers, who were convicted in county circuit court Dec. 6, showed little emotion when sentence was passed.

In imposing the sentence, Judge Pugh said, "The verdict of the jury in this case was just under the evidence."

The jurist said to each man that they were "not entitled to consideration" in the verdict.

Before sentence was passed, the court-appointed attorney for the pair, Stedman Prescott Jr., asked the judge not to impose the death penalty because of the ages of the brothers.

The two Negroes were accused of attacking the white girl and beating her 21-year-old escort in a wooded area near the Patuxent River.

Floods Hit East Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — Ten days of rain have sent streams in Cuba's easternmost tip over their banks, destroying homes, roads and crops, the newspaper Revolucion said Monday. No loss of life was reported.

Pennies In Demand

TORONTO (AP)—New U.S. pennies are in demand in Canada to meet a shortage of Canadian pennies caused by Yule shopping and the new Ontario sales tax. One supermarket chain has ordered a million.

Cornell Students Plan To Join Rt. 40 Sit-Ins

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—Students from Cornell University plan to participate in a series of sit-in demonstrations Saturday against racial segregation in restaurants along U.S. 40 in Maryland.

The Cornell Committee Against Segregation announced Monday a group of about 20 would leave the Cornell campus Friday and assemble on the New Jersey Turnpike with other demonstrators the next day. The group then would proceed to U.S. 40.

High Court Rebuffs Sheriff Killer's Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused Monday to hear an appeal by John Francis Butler, sentenced to death in Pennsylvania for the slaying of Sheriff James R. Lauer of Northumberland County Pa.

Lauer was shot with his own gun while taking Butler from Northumberland County to the State Correctional Institution at Pittsburgh. The shooting occurred in Lauer's automobile near Pittsburgh during a severe rain storm. The state charged Butler grabbed the sheriff's gun and the fatal shot was fired in a struggle.

Auxiliary Gives To Workshop Project

The Ladies Auxiliary of the United Commercial Travelers donated cash to the fund for the Friends Aware workshop, instead of exchanging jingles. The fund is to purchase an electric sewing machine for the workshop.

The donation was made at the annual Christmas party held at the Girl Scout house. A short business session preceded the party.

A "Penny March prize was won by Mrs. Nellie Crites.

Decortaions of pine, candles and poinsettias were used and a large golden arrangement centered the head table. Christmas carols were sung and a program presented under the direction of Mrs. May Orr. Mrs. Frances Shircliff and Mrs. Eleanor Snyder were cochairmen of arrangements.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Utterback, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. James Brant, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Chaney, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lefferty, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Elder, John Pfeiffer, Mrs. Helen Altstetter, Mrs. Jane Turner, Mrs. Betty Johnson, Mrs. Sara Conners, Mrs. Ethel Dom and Miss Margaret Phillips.

In Montreal most of the one million citizens speak French, many speak no English at all, and many of the theaters, newspapers and radio stations use only French.

The Cumberland Jayncees will hold a Christmas bazaar and dinner tomorrow evening at the Cumberland Country Club, beginning at 6:30.

Guests are welcome to attend both the dinner and bazaar. It will be entirely a social meeting with no business session.

Christmas gifts, candy and cake will be for sale at the bazaar.

The entertainment will consist of a Christmas reading and a musical program.

LaVale Club Packs Two Baskets

Officers were installed and two Christmas baskets packed at the covered dish luncheon meeting of the LaVale Homemakers Club, held yesterday at the LaVale fire hall.

Mrs. T. E. Williamson was installed as president and Mrs. J. Wesley Utterback as treasurer. Mrs. Douglas Smith officiated at the installation. They will assume their duties at the January 9 meeting, at which time projects will be selected.

Members contributed canned goods for two baskets and the club donated $5 for meat and $10 for groceries for each.

Following the flag salute, the Lord's Prayer was repeated; and instead of having the history of the hymn of the month, the group sang, "Silent Night." Roll call was answered with each suggesting what could be done to preserve the true Christmas spirit.

Reports on the county-wide open house, held at the court house, were given by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Kenneth Drumm and Mrs. Williamson. A report on the sales held last month was given by Mrs. John Beckman. Pennies for friendship were collected.

A Christmas program was presented. It consisted of a reading, "The Message of Christmas," given by Mrs. Donald Long. Mrs. E. E. Myers read, "Old Tears in Nazareth." The group sang, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear."

A white and gold basket, with white poinsettias and Christmas ornaments intermingled with three red candles, centered the luncheon table. The committee also made favors of Santa and his sleigh. Mrs. Beckman and her committee were in charge of arrangements.

"Thank you for employing such wonderful people"

The above words, which we value highly, are in a letter received from a young college coed. The letter goes on to say that she lost her wallet while running an errand for her family. She rushed back to the store, looked everywhere, but had no luck in finding it. Finally, sure that she would never get the wallet back, she started home feeling pretty down in the dumps.

But at almost that very minute the doorbell rang at her house and a voice said "Excuse me, I think this wallet I found belongs to someone who lives here." The voice belonged to a C & P installer, and the result was a greatly relieved young lady.

In itself this is a small thing—what any good neighbor would do. And we're glad the desire to be of help is so natural with telephone people. Whether it's a service representative taking a real interest in your problem, an operator making an extra effort, or an installer returning a lost wallet—the spirit of service is the same.

State Surplus Of $9.5 Million Forecast

BALTIMORE (AP) — Revenue estimators forecast Monday a state surplus of $9.5 million at the end of the current fiscal year which Gov. Tawes can use to balance next year's budget without a tax increase.

The governor is expected to have to dip heavily, however, into a Revenue Deficiency Fund of $12 million which he had the 1959 Legislature set aside for a fiscal "rainy day".

The combination of the two reserves, after $1.7 million is taken out of surplus for regular advances to state departments, will provide a revenue cushion of nearly $20 million to meet a normal rise in state spending.

In recent years the spending increase has been averaging around $17-$18 million without addition of any broad new programs. Revenues have failed to keep pace.

Tawes kept the revenue deficiency fund untapped this year — and avoided a probable election-year tax increase — by balancing the budget with a previous surplus and by making sales tax adjustments which financed his program of increased aid to local governments.

The board of revenue estimates revised slightly upward the forecast it gave last March. But it held out no hope that revenues would catch up with spending by 1963 when fiscal experts have predicted a tax increase will be necessary.

It said general fund revenue in the current fiscal year, which ends next June 30, should total $244,366,607 instead of the $241,139,116 previously forecast. A $2.8 million rise in individual income taxes and an increase of $445,000 in alcoholic beverage taxes account for most of the increase in the predicted surplus.

State appropriations in the current year total $252,419,000. This is $8 million more than revised revenues are expected to reach.

For next fiscal year, starting July 1, the board predicts general fund revenues of $253,636,588, only $1.2 million over appropriations for the current year.

The board reported that while individual income taxes can now be expected to reach $96.6 million this year, taxes from corporations will drop to $18.9 million from the anticipated $20.2 million but pick up next year with an expected improvement in business. Corporate profits this year are expected to be 8 per cent below 1960, corresponding to a national trend.

Sales tax revenues are expectd to hold steady at the $88.5 million prdicted when the tax base was lowered to 25 cents and a levy was placed on restaurant meals over $1 last July.

Taxes on income and sales account for three-fourths of the state's general fund revenue. The state shares the individual income tax with local governments and the corporation income tax with the state Port Authority. It keeps all of the sales tax revenue.

Maryland Briefs

CENTREVILLE, Md. (AP) — Robert Warren Klein, 27, York, Pa., will be given a hearing next Monday on a multitude of charges including assaulting a state trooper.

Klein compounded his auto driving troubles by pointing Trooper W. H. Hurley's own gun at him. Hurley and another trooper succeeded in taking back the gun after a scuffle.

Hurley had taken Klein to the Centreville police office to question the Pennsylvanian about driving while intoxicated and failing to stay on the right side of the road in a car with the wrong license plates.

Hurley put down his gun and went out to get some whisky from the car. When he came back, Klein was aiming the gun at him.

FT. MEADE (AP) — Army post commanders from six states in the 2nd Army will attend a briefing Tuesday.

They will hear a report on a conference held by the chief of staff in Washington last week. Commanders attending will be from Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Virginia and Kentucky.

COLLEGE PARK (AP) — The University of Maryland's total enrollment is 13th largest in the United States. The university enrollment of 24,386 includes full and part time students and in the professional schools.

State Surplus Of $9.5 Million Forecast

BALTIMORE (AP) — Revenue estimators forecast Monday a state surplus of $9.5 million at the end of the current fiscal year which Gov. Tawes can use to balance next year's budget without a tax increase.

The governor is expected to have to dip heavily, however, into a Revenue Deficiency Fund of $12 million which he had the 1959 Legislature set aside for a fiscal "rainy day".

The combination of the two reserves, after $1.7 million is taken out of surplus for regular advances to state departments, will provide a revenue cushion of nearly $20 million to meet a normal rise in state spending.

In recent years the spending increase has been averaging around $17-$18 million without addition of any broad new programs. Revenues have failed to keep pace.

Tawes kept the revenue deficiency fund untapped this year — and avoided a probable election-year tax increase — by balancing the budget with a previous surplus and by making sales tax adjustments which financed his program of increased aid to local governments.

The board of revenue estimates revised slightly upward the forecast it gave last March. But it held out no hope that revenues would catch up with spending by 1963 when fiscal experts have predicted a tax increase will be necessary.

It said general fund revenue in the current fiscal year, which ends next June 30, should total $244,366,607 instead of the $241,139,116 previously forecast. A $2.8 million rise in individual income taxes and an increase of $445,000 in alcoholic beverage taxes account for most of the increase in the predicted surplus.

State appropriations in the current year total $252,419,000. This is $8 million more than revised revenues are expected to reach.

For next fiscal year, starting July 1, the board predicts general fund revenues of $253,636,588, only $1.2 million over appropriations for the current year.

The board reported that while individual income taxes can now be expected to reach $96.6 million this year, taxes from corporations will drop to $18.9 million from the anticipated $20.2 million but pick up next year with an expected improvement in business. Corporate profits this year are expected to be 8 per cent below 1960, corresponding to a national trend.

Sales tax revenues are expectd to hold steady at the $88.5 million prdicted when the tax base was lowered to 25 cents and a levy was placed on restaurant meals over $1 last July.

Taxes on income and sales account for three-fourths of the state's general fund revenue. The state shares the individual income tax with local governments and the corporation income tax with the state Port Authority. It keeps all of the sales tax revenue.

Maryland Briefs

CENTREVILLE, Md. (AP) — Robert Warren Klein, 27, York, Pa., will be given a hearing next Monday on a multitude of charges including assaulting a state trooper.

Klein compounded his auto driving troubles by pointing Trooper W. H. Hurley's own gun at him. Hurley and another trooper succeeded in taking back the gun after a scuffle.

Hurley had taken Klein to the Centreville police office to question the Pennsylvanian about driving while intoxicated and failing to stay on the right side of the road in a car with the wrong license plates.

Hurley put down his gun and went out to get some whisky from the car. When he came back, Klein was aiming the gun at him.

FT. MEADE (AP) — Army post commanders from six states in the 2nd Army will attend a briefing Tuesday.

They will hear a report on a conference held by the chief of staff in Washington last week. Commanders attending will be from Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Virginia and Kentucky.

COLLEGE PARK (AP) — The University of Maryland's total enrollment is 13th largest in the United States. The university enrollment of 24,386 includes full and part time students and in the professional schools.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: As president, founder and sole member of the S.F.T.R.O.T.W.W.G.A.-A.S.O.C. I am soliciting membership. The organization is formally known as "The Society For The Restoration of the White Wedding Gown as a Symbol of Chastity."

There are no meetings, no dues and no fees. In fact, the organization may save its members money. The only requirement is that members boycott all white satin and lace weddings when it is apparent that the bride is already pregnant. I'm getting fed up going to weddings and viewing a blushing bride who hasn't blushed in years. One quick look reveals that she should be wearing a maternity dress instead of trying to squeeze herself into a size 12 Chantilly lace.

It's a mockery and an insult to intelligent people when 500 guests are invited to an extravaganza of this type. Perhaps if the white gown and veil were reserved for virgins only a few more girls might strive harder for the privilege of wearing white.—MAJORITY OF ONE

DEAR ONE: Sorry, but your little membership pitch is as appetizing as last week's fish.

A bride doesn't owe her guests an affadavit of chastity. Whether or not she's as pure as the float that soaps is not your business. And incidentally, you haven't much to say about the groom. Maybe he should sign a notarized statement, too?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently my brother committed suicide. His wife and I were both in such a state of shock we failed to place the official funeral notice in the newspaper.

Neither of us was in any shape to face people so we didn't phone anyone. The few who heard rushed over to get the morbid details. I couldn't bear to speak to anyone so I asked the callers to please excuse me.

Now the relatives on both sides tell me my behavior was an insult to my brother's memory. They say a widow has the right to fall apart, but a sister should stay in one piece and make sure everyone is notified so there will be a big funeral.

I'm sick over all this criticism. Will you say something please? Did I let everyone down?—S.L.G.

DEAR S.L.G.: No you did not. They are letting YOU down. God gave you two ears for just such occasions as this. Let the criticism go in one — and out the other.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: May an "Idiot Wife" speak her piece? I refer to the letter from the man who said the reason men look at so much TV is because their wives are such dumbbells.

THIS dumbbell was a bright, interesting career girl 25 years ago. She dressed well, had fascinating friends and a full life. Then she married a handsome lady-killer type who turned out to be cruel and self-centered.

Overnight she became a housekeeper, cook, laundress, gardener, nurse and seamstress. She had children (always went to the hospital alone) and he never raised a hand to help her. He drove her friends away and had none of his own.

Of course I'm illiterate. I have no time for reading. I have no decent clothes to wear, no social life. I never go any place and I never see anybody. I just fall into bed every night exhausted. So naturally HE watches TV. Why talk to an—IDIOT WIFE

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Your Problem Is More Than Skin Deep

Enlarged pores and blackheads, usually appearing side by side, are traceable to improper skin cleansing and diet. Your skin is what you make it.

If you are not proud of what your skin reveals, tackle your problem now . . . from within and without. Remember, I have told you before that a big part of a model's beauty comes from within.

Often a change in dietary procedure is just what is needed.

One of the best of skin "foods" comes right out of the tap — plain water. Drink lots of it.

Vitamin A will often arrest skin troubles. The rule of a carrot a day is no old wive's tale. You may find it beneficial to supplement your diet with Vitamin A pills; many girls have cleared up skin troubles by just this procedure.

Blackheads are concentrations of dirt mixed with the oil from the oil glands under the skin. Once each week wash your face with a grainy cleanser to draw out blackheads. Buy a prepared product at a cosmetic counter; or mix equal parts of uncooked corn meal or oatmeal and milk soap beads. Make the application on a clean face and use a feather touch. Let the grains dry on your skin. After rinsing pat an astringent on an oily skin. On a normal or dry skin, smooth on a little skin oil.

DRY SKIN? OILY SKIN? NORMAL SKIN? No matter what you skin type, John Robert Powers' booklet, "Secrets of Skin Care," can help you to achieve new skin beauty. A copy of this pint-sized problem solver is as near as your mailbox when you send 10 cents to Mr. Powers, c/o this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The bidding:

Opening lead: King of ♦

An interesting type of end play was effected today which gave the defenders a choice as to which one was going to present declarer with his ninth trick.

The three no trump contract was reached with dispatch. West opened the king of diamonds, and East, perforce, played the six. South, hopeful of a continuation, ducked the trick, but West could read the six of diamonds as partner's lowest. He therefore abandoned the suit and shifted to the deuce of clubs. East's queen was permitted to hold, and the king of clubs came back. This made it clear enough that East had no more diamonds, for if he had, surely he would have chosen to establish the suit which partner originally led.

At this point it appeared to declarer that West had six diamonds and four clubs. This would allot East three clubs (presumably king-queen-small) and a single diamond. Declarer took the second club lead, cashed the king of hearts and ran the four spades.

When West showed out on the third spade, the hand was open to a complete count. West had originally six diamonds, four clubs, two spades, and one heart. Since West had already followed to one heart he is now marked as void of the suit, and the heart finesse must fail.

However, declarer was sure of an end play which would operate against either defender. He has lost up to this point, two tricks, and the lead is given up with a club. If West takes the two club tricks he will be compelled to lead a diamond into South's ace-jack. If East wins the club, nature will force him to lead a heart. Either way declarer gets his ninth trick.

CUF Award Dinner Set Tonight At Shrine Club

The first of two Honor Award dinners in the form of "thank you" notices to chairmen, captains and workers in the 1961 County United Fund campaign will be held today at 7 p.m. at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Principal speaker at the dinner program will be Rep. Harley O. Staggers, Keyser, of West Virginia's Second Congressional District, according to Duard H. Little, general chairman of the successful 1961 campaign.

In announcing the speaker, Little said Congressman Staggers was asked to be the speaker to stress the two-county scope of the CUF territory, that consists of Allegany county, Maryland, and Mineral county, West Virginia.

Disdaining credit for the successful campaign, during which $364,011.73 was raised, Little said "credit for the record-setting contributions rests with the chairmen and captains who organized the drive among the various employe groups in the CUF areas."

Little, manager of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, will preside at the dinner meeting and present awards to captains and workers. He also will introduce Rep. Staggers and William E. Crooks, CUF president, who will speak briefly.

Andrew M. Lewis, Jr., co-chairman of the Big 7 Division of the campaign, will make the presentation of awards to committeemen who served in the area's major industries, and Winfield H. Adam, executive director of CUF, will present awards to the campaign auditors.

W. Harold Fredlock, Piedmont, general chairman of the Tri-Towns Division of the campaign, will present awards to county and community chairmen.

Little will preside at the presentation of plaques to county area general chairmen, the co-chairmen of the Cumberland Business Division, National Firms co-chairmen, and the Big 7 co-chairmen.

In commenting on the success of the campaign, Little said his greatest satisfaction in serving as chairman was realizing that the United Fund provides its affiliated agencies the greatest service for the most people at the least cost.

This year's campaign, Little noted, sends the total CUF contributions during the past five years over the $2,000,000 mark.

Lutheran Church Again To Present Nativity Scene

The Walther League of Trinity Lutheran Church, will present a living Nativity scene December 25 through 28 in the parsonage yard on North Centre Street.

Those who will take part in the living tableau are Paulome Crowe, as Mary, Terry Joy as Joseph, Nancy Knippenberg as an angel, James Kiifner, Donald Wagner, as shepherds; Helen Wilt, Margaret Joy and Paul McClain as the three Wise Men.

The Ladies Aid of the church will serve refreshments to the cast during the intermission periods. There will be a loudspeaker system and live sheep used in the program.

This is the fifth year the young people of the church have scheduled the Nativity scene.

There will be two showings each day starting at 7:30 p. m. and concluding at 9 p. m. The showings will be 35 minutes with a five-minute intermission.

Local College Gets Books

The library of Allegany Community College has been enriched by 144 volumes, many of which are near the rare book quality, according to Dr. Robert S. Zimmer, president.

Dr. Zimmer said he and Mrs. Mary Louise Holzapfel, librarian, obtained the 144 volumes from the Library of Congress through the services of Rep. Charles Mc. Mathias Jr. of Maryland's Sixth Congressional District.

The Library of Congress, Dr. Zimmer explained, has a section that provides books and other material to libraries and educational institutions. Rep. Mathias made arrangements for the local college officials to review what was available, and also saw that they were given a "free hand" in selection of volumes, Dr. Zimmer pointed out.

A number of the volumes include reference works that are of particular importance to Mrs. Holzapfel in her work as librarian, Dr. Zimmer said, adding that he places high regard on a number of reports on Indian matters that were provided by the Library of Congress.

The volumes also include a number of atlases and encyclopediae that will be of value to students, Dr. Zimmer stated.

DEAR ONE: Sorry, but your little membership pitch is as appetizing as last week's fish.

A bride doesn't owe her guests an affadavit of chastity. Whether or not she's as pure as the float that soaps is not your business. And incidentally, you haven't much to say about the groom. Maybe he should sign a notarized statement, too?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently my brother committed suicide. His wife and I were both in such a state of shock we failed to place the official funeral notice in the newspaper.

Neither of us was in any shape to face people so we didn't phone anyone. The few who heard rushed over to get the morbid details. I couldn't bear to speak to anyone so I asked the callers to please excuse me.

Now the relatives on both sides tell me my behavior was an insult to my brother's memory. They say a widow has the right to fall apart, but a sister should stay in one piece and make sure everyone is notified so there will be a big funeral.

I'm sick over all this criticism. Will you say something please? Did I let everyone down?—S.L.G.

DEAR S.L.G.: No you did not. They are letting YOU down. God gave you two ears for just such occasions as this. Let the criticism go in one — and out the other.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: May an "Idiot Wife" speak her piece? I refer to the letter from the man who said the reason men look at so much TV is because their wives are such dumbbells.

THIS dumbbell was a bright, interesting career girl 25 years ago. She dressed well, had fascinating friends and a full life. Then she married a handsome lady-killer type who turned out to be cruel and self-centered.

Overnight she became a housekeeper, cook, laundress, gardener, nurse and seamstress. She had children (always went to the hospital alone) and he never raised a hand to help her. He drove her friends away and had none of his own.

Of course I'm illiterate. I have no time for reading. I have no decent clothes to wear, no social life. I never go any place and I never see anybody. I just fall into bed every night exhausted. So naturally HE watches TV. Why talk to an—IDIOT WIFE

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Your Problem Is More Than Skin Deep

Enlarged pores and blackheads, usually appearing side by side, are traceable to improper skin cleansing and diet. Your skin is what you make it.

If you are not proud of what your skin reveals, tackle your problem now . . . from within and without. Remember, I have told you before that a big part of a model's beauty comes from within.

Often a change in dietary procedure is just what is needed.

One of the best of skin "foods" comes right out of the tap — plain water. Drink lots of it.

Vitamin A will often arrest skin troubles. The rule of a carrot a day is no old wive's tale. You may find it beneficial to supplement your diet with Vitamin A pills; many girls have cleared up skin troubles by just this procedure.

Blackheads are concentrations of dirt mixed with the oil from the oil glands under the skin. Once each week wash your face with a grainy cleanser to draw out blackheads. Buy a prepared product at a cosmetic counter; or mix equal parts of uncooked corn meal or oatmeal and milk soap beads. Make the application on a clean face and use a feather touch. Let the grains dry on your skin. After rinsing pat an astringent on an oily skin. On a normal or dry skin, smooth on a little skin oil.

DRY SKIN? OILY SKIN? NORMAL SKIN? No matter what you skin type, John Robert Powers' booklet, "Secrets of Skin Care," can help you to achieve new skin beauty. A copy of this pint-sized problem solver is as near as your mailbox when you send 10 cents to Mr. Powers, c/o this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Opening lead: King of ♦

An interesting type of end play was effected today which gave the defenders a choice as to which one was going to present declarer with his ninth trick.

The three no trump contract was reached with dispatch. West opened the king of diamonds, and East, perforce, played the six. South, hopeful of a continuation, ducked the trick, but West could read the six of diamonds as partner's lowest. He therefore abandoned the suit and shifted to the deuce of clubs. East's queen was permitted to hold, and the king of clubs came back. This made it clear enough that East had no more diamonds, for if he had, surely he would have chosen to establish the suit which partner originally led.

At this point it appeared to declarer that West had six diamonds and four clubs. This would allot East three clubs (presumably king-queen-small) and a single diamond. Declarer took the second club lead, cashed the king of hearts and ran the four spades.

When West showed out on the third spade, the hand was open to a complete count. West had originally six diamonds, four clubs, two spades, and one heart. Since West had already followed to one heart he is now marked as void of the suit, and the heart finesse must fail.

However, declarer was sure of an end play which would operate against either defender. He has lost up to this point, two tricks, and the lead is given up with a club. If West takes the two club tricks he will be compelled to lead a diamond into South's ace-jack. If East wins the club, nature will force him to lead a heart. Either way declarer gets his ninth trick.

CUF Award Dinner Set Tonight At Shrine Club

The first of two Honor Award dinners in the form of "thank you" notices to chairmen, captains and workers in the 1961 County United Fund campaign will be held today at 7 p.m. at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Principal speaker at the dinner program will be Rep. Harley O. Staggers, Keyser, of West Virginia's Second Congressional District, according to Duard H. Little, general chairman of the successful 1961 campaign.

In announcing the speaker, Little said Congressman Staggers was asked to be the speaker to stress the two-county scope of the CUF territory, that consists of Allegany county, Maryland, and Mineral county, West Virginia.

Disdaining credit for the successful campaign, during which $364,011.73 was raised, Little said "credit for the record-setting contributions rests with the chairmen and captains who organized the drive among the various employe groups in the CUF areas."

Little, manager of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, will preside at the dinner meeting and present awards to captains and workers. He also will introduce Rep. Staggers and William E. Crooks, CUF president, who will speak briefly.

Andrew M. Lewis, Jr., co-chairman of the Big 7 Division of the campaign, will make the presentation of awards to committeemen who served in the area's major industries, and Winfield H. Adam, executive director of CUF, will present awards to the campaign auditors.

W. Harold Fredlock, Piedmont, general chairman of the Tri-Towns Division of the campaign, will present awards to county and community chairmen.

Little will preside at the presentation of plaques to county area general chairmen, the co-chairmen of the Cumberland Business Division, National Firms co-chairmen, and the Big 7 co-chairmen.

In commenting on the success of the campaign, Little said his greatest satisfaction in serving as chairman was realizing that the United Fund provides its affiliated agencies the greatest service for the most people at the least cost.

This year's campaign, Little noted, sends the total CUF contributions during the past five years over the $2,000,000 mark.

Lutheran Church Again To Present Nativity Scene

The Walther League of Trinity Lutheran Church, will present a living Nativity scene December 25 through 28 in the parsonage yard on North Centre Street.

Those who will take part in the living tableau are Paulome Crowe, as Mary, Terry Joy as Joseph, Nancy Knippenberg as an angel, James Kiifner, Donald Wagner, as shepherds; Helen Wilt, Margaret Joy and Paul McClain as the three Wise Men.

The Ladies Aid of the church will serve refreshments to the cast during the intermission periods. There will be a loudspeaker system and live sheep used in the program.

This is the fifth year the young people of the church have scheduled the Nativity scene.

There will be two showings each day starting at 7:30 p. m. and concluding at 9 p. m. The showings will be 35 minutes with a five-minute intermission.

Local College Gets Books

The library of Allegany Community College has been enriched by 144 volumes, many of which are near the rare book quality, according to Dr. Robert S. Zimmer, president.

Dr. Zimmer said he and Mrs. Mary Louise Holzapfel, librarian, obtained the 144 volumes from the Library of Congress through the services of Rep. Charles Mc. Mathias Jr. of Maryland's Sixth Congressional District.

The Library of Congress, Dr. Zimmer explained, has a section that provides books and other material to libraries and educational institutions. Rep. Mathias made arrangements for the local college officials to review what was available, and also saw that they were given a "free hand" in selection of volumes, Dr. Zimmer pointed out.

A number of the volumes include reference works that are of particular importance to Mrs. Holzapfel in her work as librarian, Dr. Zimmer said, adding that he places high regard on a number of reports on Indian matters that were provided by the Library of Congress.

The volumes also include a number of atlases and encyclopediae that will be of value to students, Dr. Zimmer stated.

Federal Case Set Here In February

A damage suit brought by a New York corporation against the City of Cumberland and the B&O Railroad Company as the result of alleged damage from water flowing into a Gay Street building which housed the Cumberland Undergarment Company in July of 1954 will be heard in Federal Court at the Allegany County Court House here next February.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris and Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey have notified the Federal Court at Baltimore that the court room will be available for a three week period starting February 5, 1962.

Permission to use the local Court House facilities were requested by Chief Judge Roszel C. Thomsen of the Federal Court.

The case will be heard before a jury and the court.

The declaration in the damage action states that on July 14 and 15 of 1954 a heavy rain fell in Cumberland. Water which allegedly flowed from the B&O Railroad Company property, adjacent to the building used by the Monterey Company, Inc., of New York, caused heavy damages, the declaration states.

The City of Cumberland is being sued in connection with the damage on the allegation that the water flowed into the structure due to faulty sewage and drainage pipes.

Representing the New York firm will be Clarence Lippel, city, and Saul L. Harris, New York. The city will be represented by William R. Carscaden, city attorney, and Benjamin C. Howard, Baltimore. William H. Geppert, city, and J. Srasfield Sweeny, Baltimore, will be counsel for the railroad.

Parking Receipts Up

Parking meter receipts the week of December 3 were $947.35 compared to $861.53 the week of November 26, an increase of $85.82, Inspector Harry Whisner informed the Mayor and Council yesterday.

Cresaptown Man Thrown By Cow

A Cresaptown man was admitted yesterday to Sacred Heart Hospital with a fractured hip suffered when he was thrown to the cow suddenly lurched in an attempt while leading a cow.

Attaches said James McBee, 65, was leading a cow with a rope that became entangled about McBee's legs. The man was thrown heavily to the ground when the cow suddenly lurched in an attempt to get free or the rope.

The average alcoholic is absent from his job almost a full working month every year, with total loss to American industry of more than a billion dollars annually.

Tomorrow Final Checking Day For City Taxicabs

Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney said yesterday that a "final" inspection day for the city's taxicab fleet will be held Wednesday at the Police Department garage from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

At least 20 cab owners have not complied with the inspection which is required under the city's ordinance, he said. Inspections were held last Thursday and Friday and several were ordered to have mechanical defects repaired following a check by Earl Harper, the mechanic on duty. Harper is also in charge of inspecting the Allegany County school buses.

Except for some extenuating circumstances to be determined by the Police Department, cabs operating without inspection stickers are subject to being pulled out of service.

"We are going to make some arrests," the chief asserted.

In addition to the mechanical condition, cabs are also inspected for their appearance and the drivers for neatness, the chief said.

Most auto deaths occur in the nighttime despite its relatively light traffic.

Welfare Reforms Would Cost West Virginia Funds

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—State Welfare Director W. Bernard Smith said Monday he felt that the federal government's new welfare reforms were good but would probably cost West Virginia a considerable sum to comply.

The reforms were announced by Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Abraham Ribicoff in a move aimed at eliminating abuses in the various welfare program and put more emphasis on getting people off relief.

Smith said his department is going over the material sent to West Virginia by HEW.

"It will be some time before we can determine how much the program will cost West Virginia, if West Virginia is to particupate," Smith said, "but it probably will be a considerable sum."

Smith said HEW has asked his office for a complete plan of operation by April 1.

Tanganyikan Bid .

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council will meet Wednesday afternoon to consider the application of Tanganyika, newly independent African country, for U.N. membership.

If accepted, Tanganyika will be the 104th member of the world organization.

Admits Fraud

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI)—Robert E. Rinehart, 52, Weirton, was sentenced to 30 days in jail and three years probation Monday after pleading guilty before Federal Judge C. F. Paul to two counts of income tax evasion. Rinehart admitted understating his income by about $55,000 for 1957 and 1958.

Barron Backs N&W Plans For Rail Merger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. W. W. Barron of West Virginia said Monday the proposed merger of the Norfolk & Western and Nickel Plate Lines "should certainly result in better and faster service" to the West Virginia coal fields.

Barron made the remarks in a statement that was included in the record of Interstate Commerce Commission hearings which reopoened Monday on the merger.

Barron said coal was the most important industry in the state and the merger "would strengthen the competitive position of coal with reference to competing fuels."

Gov. J Lindsay Almond of Virginia testified in support of the merger and said the N&W provides "indispensable service to the economy and advancement of my state."

Almond said the merger would be in the spirit of sound national transportation policy.

The Akron, Canton and Youngstown Railroad Monday was granted permission by the ICC to withdraw its opposition to the proposed consolidation.

The Akron line recently agreed to have its controlling stock bought by the merged group. The New York Central Railroad opposes the merger.

"Lindy" Has New Granddaughter

RIDGEFIELD, Wash. (AP)—A daughter, said by friends to be named Erin Elizabeth Lindbergh, was born Thursday to Mrs. and Mrs. Land Morrow Lindbergh of Ridgefield. The father is the son of Charles A. Lindbergh and Anne Morrow Lindbergh.

The granddaughter of the first man to fly alone across the Atlantic, was born Thursday in a Portland, Ore., hospital. Attendants there said they had been asked to release no information.

No Weekend Fatals

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The past week end apparently was the first that has been free of traffic fatalities in 11 weeks. State Police said the last such accident-free period was the next-to-last week end in September. So far this year, 343 persons have been killed on West Virginia highways, one below 1960.

Grand Jury Studies Murder Case

FAYETTEVILLE, W. Va. (AP)—A murder charge against a young South Carolina sailor in the hitchhike slaying of a Huntington minister was presented to the Fayette County Grand Jury Monday.

Witnesses who went before the grand jury to present evidence against 18-year-old Willard Eugene Graham included Fayette County prosecutor J. Zane Summerfield and State Trooper G. L. Swartz.

The grand jury is expected to make its report late Tuesday.

Graham is charged with murder in the death of The Rev. Julius H. Keaton, 70. The minister disappeared while driving from Huntington to Princeton Aug. 11 to fill a speaking engagement.

Graham, absent over leave from the Navy at the time, was arrested at his home near Patrick, S. C., Sept. 14 after the missing minister's car was seen parked in the Graham driveway.

Keaton's body was found two days later beside W. Va. 61 in Fayette County. An autopsy showed he had been struck on the head with a dull object.

State Police said Graham, who is held in Fayette County Jail here, signed a statement admitting he beat the minister with a rock.

Chorus Plans Appearances

The Queen City Girls' Chorus, sponsored by the City Recreation Department, will make its first public appearance here tomorrow.

The chorus will present a group of Christmas carols at the Christmas party of the Young Republican Club of Allegany County Wednesday at 8 p. m. in Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

The girls have also been requested to sing at the LaVale Plaza Shopping Center on Friday, December 22, at 7:30 p. m.

Both appearances will be under the direction of R. Monroe Harris, director of the club.

Members are Shirley Tindle, Jean Gary, Shirley Ellsworth, Carroll Bower, Peggy Helmick, Pat Hanby, Bonnie Karr, Gwen Harris, Sherry Chaney.

Judy Hoenicka, Billie Sullivan, Mary Nelson, Shirley Wilhelm, Cora Hardin, Pat Campbell, Judy Garland, Carol Griggs, Karen Stephenson and Dorothea Jones.

Mrs. Eva Hogan is advisor of the club organized here in October. Membership is open to all girls and women who wish to sing for fun and in harmony. It meets each Friday at 8 p. m. in City Hall.

Classification Ordinance To Be Drafted

The Mayor and Council yesterday authorized City Attorney William R. Carscaden to prepare a revised classification and compensation ordinance for the city's 268 permanent workers.

The go-ahead was given after city officials, at a lengthy post-council meeting, made a number of changes in a plan prepared by Milton B. Milton, director of the Municipal Technical Advisory Service of the University of Maryland, based on job description prepared by the Department of Employment Security.

After the revised ordinance is prepared, it will be sent to the Civil Service Commission for review, comments and recommendations.

Final action will be taken by the Mayor and Council.

In addition to the changes affecting the classification of a number of city positions, the ordinance being drafted will consolidate existing ordinances covering hourly paid workers and salaried employes of the city.

Scientists Probe Nuclear Blast Site

CARLSBAD, N.M. (UPI) — Scientists in white protective suits to shield them from radioactivity Monday gathered steam samples for testing at the Project Gnome underground nuclear blast site.

Project Gnome was the explosion 1,200 feet underground Sunday of a five-kiloton (equivalent to 5,000 tons of TNT) nuclear device. U.S. scientists hope the explosion created a nuclear "boiler" they can tap for power.

A puff of radioactive vapor rose into the air Sunday and drifted north. Scientists said its radioactivity was well below the danger limit.

Duncan Named

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Gov. W. W. Barron announced Monday the appointment of Ray O. Duncan, dean of the West Virginia School of Physical Education and athletics, as new chairman of the State Youth Fitness Council. Duncan succeeds John J. Lane, Charleston, who resigned.

Street Work Cost Report Is Accepted

The Mayor and Council yesterday accepted cost reports on four streets which recently were resurfaced under the Street Department improvement program.

Here are the streets and the cost breakdown under the city's 50-50 payment plan:

Greenway Aveune, from Brookfield Avenue to the intersection with Williams Street, total cost $8,877.60; cost to property owner, $1.925 a lineal foot; cost to city $1.925 a lineal foot.

Tilghman Street, from Fayette to Niagara Street, total cost $4,633.20; cost to property owner, 88 cents a lineal foot; cost to city, 88 cents a lineal foot.

Sedgewick Street, from Tilghman to Thackeray Drive, total cost $3,187.80; cost to property owner, $1.05 a lineal foot; cost to city, $1.05 a lineal foot;

Brookfield Avenue, from Greenway to Kent Avenue, total cost, $4,905.28; cost to property owner, $1.85 a lineal foot; cost to city, $1.85 a lineal foot.

Street Commissioner John J. Long also announced that a turn at the intersection of Kearney Street and Wineow Street, across from the entrance to the A&P Market, will be modified by the city to eliminate a bothersome condition for large trucks.

The State Roads Commission recently purchased the property formerly occupied by Tri-State Electric Company at the intersection and John D. Bushby, District 6 engineer, informed Long the city could cut back or modify the corner.

Bushby said it will be about two years before that section of the South Cumberland Boulevard is up for construction.

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum recommended the improvement and said it would take a minimum of expense, mostly in labor. Large trucks could then get around the corner without running over the sidewalk, he added.

Congestion at the A&P lot also would be alleviated and the traffic situation improved, Nuzum said.

Another reason why Blue Cross-Blue Shield is your best protection

No fixed dollar limit on hospital room and board

In most cases of hospitalized illness your Standard Blue Cross program pays the full cost of your semi-private room and board. (If you're in a private room, you get an allowance equal to the hospital's average semi-private room and board charge.)

Ordinary hospitalization policies, by contrast, set a fixed dollar limit on hospital room and board benefits. A typical program might allow $10 or $15 a day. But the semi-private hospital room and board charge could easily amount to $20 a day. Who pays the difference? You do . . . out of your own pocket.

Full coverage of your semi-private room and board costs (and a liberal private room benefit) is another reason why Blue Cross-Blue Shield is your best protection against the cost of hospital and medical care.

Excess Fat In The Budget

Latest unofficial estimates on government spending indicate that fiscal 1962 will wind up June 30 with a deficit of $7 billion. With the customary reservation which bars "unforeseen and extraordinary" world events. The deficit is based on estimated expenditures of $89 billion and projected revenues of $82 billion.

The general impression seems to be that the heavy spending and large deficits of recent years are entirely due to the outlay for defense against the Soviet military threat. This is not altogether true. Actually, the pace of increased spending for "major national security" has been far less than that for non-defense purposes.

In the last 10 years, total federal expenditures have risen $23.7 billion—from $65.3 billion in 1952 to $89 billion for the current year, an increase of a little more than 36 per cent. But in the same period, spending for defense has increased by $7.1 billion, from $44 billion to an estimated $51.1 billion, a gain of only 14 per cent.

Taxpayers will hardly begrudge the $6.2 billion increase in defense spending in a decade; it is relatively inexpensive insurance for the nation's security. But the $16.6 billion 10-year bulge in non-defense spending is another matter. Allowing for increased federal spending attributed to a rapidly rising population, there is little doubt that the non-defense category would look better with wise trimming of the excess fat.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Thunder On The Right

When a movement is discussed, the writer needs to understand what it means. Such a movement as the Rightist or the Leftist represents ideas, concepts of life, the meaning of events. The reporter who runs to a fire or who gets excited over a kidnapping is not necessarily capable of understanding a mass movement which is basically philosophic. In fact, many who speak most loudly in these movements cannot describe them with any degree of accuracy. They know that something has happened but what is important is why it has happened.

Thus "Newsweek" recently published a lengthy article on "Thunder on the Far Right," the material for which was gathered by several persons and the collation assembled by someone who picked an item here and there out of a congeries of material.

To one who has studied Rightist movements in the United States, the article is puzzling because it is not a study of mass response to a philosophic concept but rather a selection of items about this and that. No sociologist in a foreign land could possibly get a correct picture of the Rightists from the article although he might put together items which are occasionally sensational and and occasionally exciting. It is a job of tailoring, not of study.

The Rightist movement in the United States is a response of youth in the 1960s to the idealogical offenses of the 1930s. It is a revolt against an effort to impose upon the American mind an offensively alien concept of life. As such movements always do, the Rightist movement in the United States swings from extreme reaction to middle - of - the - road resistance to Leftist movements, particularly Communism.

Among anti-Communists are numerous segments of the population ranging from intellectual opponents of Marxism who have profoundly studied both the economics and sociology of Marxism to those who are indignant that the course of events has changed without their consent.

Just as the Communists believe in historic inevitability, assuming that unless things go their way, they are unscientific, so the extreme Rightists assume that all human movements which differ from their concept of what is right are essentially evil. Among the latter are religious fundamentalists who do not understand the Hebrew Bible but demand that every word of it translated into post-Elizabethan English be accepted as absolute truth. Curiously, while many of them do not question a comma or a semi-colon of King James's version of the Hebrew Bible, they are nevertheless anti-Semites devising numerous concepts to justify their confusions.

From this irrational reaction to the scholarship of Eugene Lyons or Lawrence Fertig, to mention only two names that come to mind, is a vast range of thinkers who are no more closely associated than Earl Browder and Norman Thomas on the Left or James Wechsler and Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., in the center.

Unfortunately, the author of the "Newsweek" study of Rightism throws everything together into a potpourri. He makes no sharp distinctions of what is being thought by a variety of persons of differing experience.

Much is made of the John Birch Society, a newcomer in the political world which has taken over what remains of the Joe McCarthy effort. Bob Welch, the leader of the John Birch Society, was in the candy business in Massachusetts but he is very new in any kind of ideological struggle and it is doubtful whether he has studied the literature of Marxism although he is efficiently opposed to this movement. It is not to be assumed that Bob Welch or even Dr. Fred Schwarz, an Australian who operates out of Long Beach, California, could stand up in an intellectual discussion on Marxism.

They are emotionally anti-Communists which is insufficient to influence the scholarly mind. Anti-Communism is not sufficient as a mass movement. A mass movement must be positive; its assertions must be related to the growth of the human mind, not merely a resistance to the development of offensive movements.

What is interesting about the Rightist movement is not that it displays varieties of human emotions but rather that here is an opposition to Marxism and even to Liberalism. True, American conservatism has not yet established its own ideas fully but out of the welter of contesting concepts, a philosophy will develop which will provide the leadership which the country sorely needs.

'Oh, Shut Up!'

Justice Department Has Become New Political Arm Of Government

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—The worst New York judicial bribery scandal in the past quarter of a century illustrates the embarrassing predicament in which the President has put his brother by making him Attorney General.

The details of this scandal were published in this column six weeks ago—October 29—and need not be repeated here.

The important fact which causes embarrassment, however, is that the brother of Judge Vincent J. Keogh, charged with splitting a $35,000 bribe, is Congressman Eugene Keogh. The Congressman was one of the strong workers for John F. Kennedy's nomination at Los Angeles and necessarily was investigated, because of reports that he had been approached by the fixers. Attorney General Kennedy announced that he was not involved.

Republicans are bound to point out that in the pre-convention period when Bobby Kennedy was his brother's campaign manager and was working night and day to get him nominated, Congressman Keogh was one of his best supporters. In fact, Keogh was the New York spokesman for the Kennedy forces.

Now, during the investigation of the Keoghs, the man who worked intimately with the judge's brother sits in judgment on a man who helped make his brother's election as President of the United States possible.

This position is fair neither to Attorney General Kennedy nor to Congressman Keogh and is why a campaign manager should not hold the job of Attorney General.

Bobby Kennedy, who didn't really want the job but who has been a good Attorney General, is of course following plenty of precedent. Eisenhower appointed the former chairman of the Republican National Committee and campaign manager for Governor Dewey, Herbert Brownell, as Attorney General. Truman appointed Howard McGrath, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, as Attorney General.

This is because the Attorney General has become the chief political arm of every recent administration. No longer is the Post Office the department that hands out the political plums. Civil Service for postmasters has changed all that. The really big political power, with the right to prosecute or not prosecute, pardon or not pardon, push an income tax case or not push it, is the Justice Department.

Spokesman For Franco

Congressman Keogh and the Keogh family long have been a power in Democratic politics around New York. John Cashmore, Democratic boss of Brooklyn, used to tell how he had once offered Congressman Gene Keogh a state supreme court judgeship.

"Give it to my kid brother," Cashmore quoted Keogh as saying.

Latterly Congressman Keogh has won a reputation as President Kennedy's stanchest New York supporter on Capitol Hill. Earlier, he was known as a spokesman for Dictator Franco of Spain.

Keogh was elected to Congress in 1938, and for 11 years took no appreciable interest in Spain.

Then suddenly, after 11 silent years in Congress, Keogh became the champion of Dictator Franco. He littered the Congressional Record with statements and editorials favorable to Spain. He interrupted Congressional debates to defend Spain. He offered an amendment to include Spain in Marshall Plan handouts.

Franco Lobbyist

This began in 1949. It was in 1949 also that Congressman Keogh was seen frequently in the company of Franco's lobbyist, Charles Patrick Clark, who draws $100,000 annually from the Spanish embassy.

On October 8, 1949, Congressman Keogh paid a visit to Dictator Franco in Madrid. Lobbyist Charles Patrick Clark was in Madrid with him.

Traveling on a Spanish train that night, Congressman Keogh was reported to have had $5,000 stolen, together with his pants, when he hung the pants too near a window in a sleeping car.

Prior to 1949, also, Congressman Keogh opposed the natural gas lobby and voted against the Rizley Bill which would have hiked gas rates. The bill would have meant higher gas bills to Brooklyn housewives who elected him, and he voted for the housewives.

But in 1949, Keogh and Charley Clark, lobbyist for a gas pipeline company as well as for Spain, had become friendly and Keogh reversed himself.

Fees For Tax Case

At about this time, Congressman Keogh began to receive a series of checks from lobbyist Charley Clark. They were listed as payments by Clark for legal advice on a tax case which the federal government had against Silas E. Chambers of Miami. The first check was dated March 6, 1950, for $1,500; another on March 24, 1950, was for $1,000; April 5, $500; May 3, $500; and June 15, $1,000.

The interesting thing was that Keogh, as a member of Congress, had no business accepting a law fee in connection with a tax case. Such law practice against the federal government by a member of Congress is illegal.

In September, 1950, some months after the checks had passed, I handed the information to the Justice Department, whereupon both Keogh and Clark were quizzed by the FBI.

Immediately the Congressman wrote a letter to Clark, dated October 31, 1950, which appeared to be aimed at alibiing his transaction. It stated:

"I have given further consideration to the propriety of my continuing to act as advisory counsel. Therefore, if it meets with your approval, I should ask you to consider that our firm has withdrawn and consider that the fee which you previously paid us will be in full."

When the Congressman and lobbyist Clark were interviewed by this column regarding the purpose of these fees, they told different stories.

According to Keogh, Clark had merely dealt with his New York law firm, Halpin, Keogh, and St. John, not with him. But when Clark was asked how Keogh had earned these fees he explained that Keogh had given very helpful advice.

"Then it was Keogh who advised you on this case?" Clark was asked.

"Yes," was the reply.

President's Speeches Show "Anti-Business" Bias

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON —President Kennedy may wonder at times why his administration is so frequently referred to as "anti-business." He need wonder no longer. For while the President promised the National Association of Manufacturers last Wednesday in a speech at New York City that the next day in talking to the AFL-CIO convention he would "stress" the importance of holding down wage costs as a factor in price stability, he failed to do so. Indeed, his own Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, later "interpreted" Mr. Kennedy's brief and incidental remarks before the AFL-CIO as meaning that demands for increased wages—and even strikes—were justified if based on "productivity."

Now most businessmen know from experience in labor negotiations that "productivity" is not really based very much on any increase in individual efficiency but is conveniently calculated nevertheless by labor-union economists to include substantially all savings made by new machinery and equipment. Theoretically some of the economists due to better machinery should be divided three ways—to the consumer in lower prices, to the stockholders in the form of earnings, and to labor in the form of increased wages. But customarily the labor unions demand almost all of the savings, and that's what they mean by "wage increases based on increased productivity."

The President's failure to keep his promise to the N.A.M. and Secretary Goldberg's speech before the AFL-CIO may prove to be a turning point in Mr. Kennedy's political fortunes. Unfortunately, the President did not come to grips with the extremism of labor-union leaders at a crucial moment in the economic history of the United States when a serious maladjustment in the form of a recession or depression next year retard America's growth and increase unemployment.

The President raised high hopes at first when he talked severely to the businessmen at the N.A.M. about restraints in prices and promised to speak as forthrightly to the labor unions. Here is what he said to the N.A.M. convention last Wednesday:

"Labor, too, has its responsibility for price stability, and I shall stress this tomorrow in addressing the AFL-CIO."

But the next day Mr. Kennedy, in the course of a long speech at Miami before the labor union convention, discussed largely what his administration had done for labor and would continue to do. He made only a brief reference to the subject of price stability and he directed this to both labor and management. A stenographic record of what he said—as given out by the White House—follows:

"I am hopeful that management and labor will recognize their responsibility to permit us to compete, that those of you who are in the area of wage negotiation will recognize the desirability of us maintaining as stable prices as possible, and that the area of productivity and stable prices—that your negotiations will take adequate calculation and account of this need for us to maintain a balance of trade in our favor. In the long run it's in the interest of your own workers."

But this comment puzzled the unions, and hence Secretary of Labor Goldberg the next day in his speech to the same convention undertook to amplify it as follows:

"If we are going to keep the economy going on a sound non-inflationary basis, wage increases over-all should be earned by increasing productivity."

Mr. Goldberg then immediately declared that this did not mean wages should necessarily be stabilized. He pointed out that the formula provides "plenty of room for advance in this highly productive country."

Now it so happens that in his prepared speech Mr. Goldberg had urged labor to abandon "make-work" practices and he also deplored "a squeeze on business profits," but he omitted all this on delivery. He later explained to inquiring reporters that he did so just because he didn't have time." But Bernard Rossiter, staff reporter of the Washington "Post," telegraphed afterward from the Florida convention hall these observations:

"But however careful the Secretary was of the touchy union leaders' sensibilities, his remarks added muscle to the softer version of the wage restraint message that President Kennedy carried here yesterday. . . .

"Organized labor is preparing to ignore President Kennedy's plea for wage restraint and declare that substantial pay increases are needed to quicken the pace of economic growth."

Perhaps the best summing up of the damage done by the President's failure to speak out forcefully on the wage issue is contained in the following paragraph in a New York "Times" editorial on Sunday:

"If the end effect of the President's campaign for voluntary holding of the price line is to throw all the responsibility on industry, Mr. Kennedy will undo all the efforts he has been making to persuade the business community that he does not apply a double standard to business and to labor."

When, it may be asked, is America going to be blessed with a national leadership that eschews the politics of pressure groups and really champions the national interest? When, moreover, are recessions and depressions going to be nipped in the bud? A President some day who learns how to get across the doctrine that in America "there is enough for everybody's need but not enough for everybody's greed" could find himself an easy winner of re-election.

Inside Washington

FIGHT IN HOUSE — Congress is still weeks away from returning for the new session which begins in January, but already the Capitol is buzzing with political and legislative plans and rumors.

Leading the list, of course, is the new House Democratic leadership to be selected as a result of the death of Speaker Sam Rayburn. Rep. John McCormack of Massachusetts is emerging as the uncontested candidate to succeed Sam, but in title more than in power.

A hot fight is developing among rival factions for the House majority leadership, to be vacated by McCormack when he moves up. Reps. Carl Albert of Oklahoma and Albert Rains of Alabama are two men prominently mentioned. Their backers argue that their man would make a strong right arm for McCormack (and, incidentally, share his power). Another possibility is Rep. Richard Bolling of Missouri.

Prospects for major legislation are also being discussed on Capitol Hill and among the executive agencies. Leaders of the two branches of government are examining the future of specific measures in the light of the House leadership change and other developments.

The most important bill to be acted on in the upcoming session will supplant the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, which expires. The Kennedy administration has decided to go for a new law with a new approach, in effect a further liberalization of the free trade principles. This decision comes at a time when members of Congress are feeling pressures for higher tariffs because of inroads into traditional American markets by more vigorous foreign competition.

The administration will also press for tax revision laws to plug expense account and other loopholes, a politically unpopular move in an election year. And there is still the matter of federal aid to education, although all signs point to abandonment of any real drive to get a bill through Congress next session.

Nation Of Spectators

By John Crosby

President Kennedy, speaking at the National Football Foundation, has asked us as individuals —and not for the first time, either —to be more physically fit and to raise children who are more physically fit, too. In this speech, he put his finger on one of the fundamental individual problems of our age.

"The sad fact is that it looks more and more as if our national sport is not playing at all — but watching. We have become more and more not a nation of athletes, but a nation of spectators."

We certainly are. In more ways than one. The whole tenor of life is toward non-participation. If, for example, one goes back fifty years, the average boy would be a farm boy (we were largely a rural population then) who could do everything — milk the cows, shell the peas, play center field. Today the peas arrive picked, shelled, and frozen, and the boy watches Mickey Mantle play center field. Participation is left to the experts; the masses watch.

President Kennedy was talking largely about non-participation in sports, but non-participation, let's face it, extends far beyond sports. More and more our plants are being automated and the worker — if he's not tossed out altogether — is reduced to the role of watcher. In the offices, the business machines do the computing and the filing and the memorizing. If that infernal machine which understands a few words and types them gets perfected—and it almost certainly will — the machines will take dictation, too, replacing all those rounded, nubile girls, with a lot of non-esthetic knobs, a perfectly horrible thought.

Even when we have tried to spread participation in sports in such fields as the Little Leagues, we find the emphasis is on winning rather than on playing. The idea is to field the best team—not to field the most players. Democracy itself, it sometimes seems, is getting to be largely a spectator sport — the great majority of voters deferring altogether on the complicated problems to a few experts in the Rand Corporation who make the decisions and do the thinking.

What's to do about it? Well, I think the first step is to call attention to the condition so that we all become aware of it. I think that both as a nation and as individuals we should ask ourselves how much time in any given day and above all in any given week (since that is the real unit of our existence) we devote to being spectators and how much to actual participation.

I must lay down some rather arbitrary rules here. Reading a newspaper, for example (worthy as that operation is) is a spectator sport and so is looking at television. Arguing politics with a dinner partner is participation; reading about it in the newspaper is non-participation. The first requires opinion, facts, interest — well, participation. The other is a blotting-up operation. Going to the movies, watching television, watching a computer do the work — these are all spectator activities. (Even flying an airplane is getting to be largely a spectator sport as automation takes over.)

A participant activity — and I'm being pretty arbitrary here — is something in which you use your vocal cords, your muscles, or your mind, or preferably all three at once. It's quite possible, in this television-automobile-movie world, almost to get through life on 100 per cent non-participation basis.

A good many years ago Fred Allen gloomily predicted that the way things were going the human race would eventually have no minds at all "but eyeballs the size of canteloupes." Fortunately, there are some hopeful signs. Television is so bloody dull that a good many non-participants have fled to the saloons where at least they argue or to the cellar where they build boats or do some other Do-It-Yourself activity, both healthy participant exercises.

The growth in Do-It-Yourself activities, the increase in skiing and golfing and water skiing and skindiving and boating are all mildly hopeful — although, of course, they are far outweighed by the growth of spectator activities. If our streets get any more choked with cars, we may have to get out of them and walk to work. We will, of course, have long since torn up the tracks or allowed the railroads to die of neglect, so we'll have no commuter trains. (The very idiocy of our transportation policies might lead to a splendid upsurge of walking. I can think of nothing more bracing than a brisk walk from Westport to Wall Street and back every day.)

There's one other inexorable movement in the direction of participation rather than non-participation. The servant class is rapidly disappearing not only in America but all over an increasingly affluent Europe. Until somebody automates bed - making, you'll have to do the housework with your very own hands.

Severity Of Diabetes Varies With Individual

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

No two diabetics have the same degree of the disease. As a result, each has a problem that must be individualized to keep the condition under control and the victim in good health.

The age when the malady appears has an important bearing on its severity. It is most serious in children and young adults under age 35. This age group needs a calculated diet and insulin because the disease is likely to be brittle, labile, and difficult to manage. These persons must live with the disorder for many decades and the more they know about it, the better care they will take of themselves.

On the other hand, diabetes is mildest when it occurs after age 55. Many of these older victims are overweight and do well on a diet with or without the use of the anti-diabetic pills; the remainder must conbine diet with insulin.

The onset of dialetes in children and young adulthood usually is abrupt and occasionally terrifying. Many are found in a coma and die unless the situation is recognized immediately. Most physicians are familar with this type of coma and rush the person to the hospital as a life saving measure.

Diabetes may exist in older persons months to years before it is detected. Many middle aged victims become obese and are unaware that anything is amiss until they lose weight despite a ravenous appetite or an unslakable thirst. An annual urinalysis after age 40 helps uncover hidden diabetes.

That is wrong having diabetes? The carbohydrates in food is not metabolized properly and this leads to serious complications. Some die in coma; others develop hardening of the arteries or blindness years ahead of schedule. The diabetic state is aggravated whenever the person undergoes surgery, gets an infection, is injured, or becomes pregnant. Thus, the ordinary hazards of life affect the mortality rate of diabetics.

ONE IS THE LIMIT

J. P. S. writes: Does it hurt a person with diverticulosis to drink moderately?

REPLY

One drink has little or no effect but several may aggravate or precipitate infection. Alcohol causes congestion of the lining of these small out-pocketings and frequently produces spasm of the bowel wall. It is spasm and congestion that are harmful.

CORTISONE AND CANCER

F. V. writes: Does cortisone stimulate or reactivate an old cancer?

REPLY

Come again. It is unusual for cancers to become old. They continue to grow until the end. Certrain hormones retard or hasten cancer and cortisone tends to slow up the growth of many tumors.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

"Hello! Is this Police Headquarters?" came an anguished voice over the telephone. "This is the Old Maids Home. Send a riot squad quick! A burglar has broken in!"

"Okay, okay," soothed the lieutenant at the desk. "Who's this speaking?"

"It's the burglar," answered the terrified voice.

The new girl in the first grade was sneezing and sniffling all through the spelling lesson. The teacher finally asked her, "My dear child, haven't you got a handkerchief in your pocket?" "Yes, teacher," sniffled the new girl, "but mama told me never to lend it to anybody."

Young Maurice kept a firm clutch on his first report card from school. "Maybe," he told his dad, "I should explain you the system first. A means wonderful, B means excellent, C stands for all right, and D is what I got."

Excess Fat In The Budget

Latest unofficial estimates on government spending indicate that fiscal 1962 will wind up June 30 with a deficit of $7 billion. With the customary reservation which bars "unforeseen and extraordinary" world events. The deficit is based on estimated expenditures of $89 billion and projected revenues of $82 billion.

The general impression seems to be that the heavy spending and large deficits of recent years are entirely due to the outlay for defense against the Soviet military threat. This is not altogether true. Actually, the pace of increased spending for "major national security" has been far less than that for non-defense purposes.

In the last 10 years, total federal expenditures have risen $23.7 billion—from $65.3 billion in 1952 to $89 billion for the current year, an increase of a little more than 36 per cent. But in the same period, spending for defense has increased by $7.1 billion, from $44 billion to an estimated $51.1 billion, a gain of only 14 per cent.

Taxpayers will hardly begrudge the $6.2 billion increase in defense spending in a decade; it is relatively inexpensive insurance for the nation's security. But the $16.6 billion 10-year bulge in non-defense spending is another matter. Allowing for increased federal spending attributed to a rapidly rising population, there is little doubt that the non-defense category would look better with wise trimming of the excess fat.

These Days

Thunder On The Right

When a movement is discussed, the writer needs to understand what it means. Such a movement as the Rightist or the Leftist represents ideas, concepts of life, the meaning of events. The reporter who runs to a fire or who gets excited over a kidnapping is not necessarily capable of understanding a mass movement which is basically philosophic. In fact, many who speak most loudly in these movements cannot describe them with any degree of accuracy. They know that something has happened but what is important is why it has happened.

Thus "Newsweek" recently published a lengthy article on "Thunder on the Far Right," the material for which was gathered by several persons and the collation assembled by someone who picked an item here and there out of a congeries of material.

To one who has studied Rightist movements in the United States, the article is puzzling because it is not a study of mass response to a philosophic concept but rather a selection of items about this and that. No sociologist in a foreign land could possibly get a correct picture of the Rightists from the article although he might put together items which are occasionally sensational and and occasionally exciting. It is a job of tailoring, not of study.

The Rightist movement in the United States is a response of youth in the 1960s to the idealogical offenses of the 1930s. It is a revolt against an effort to impose upon the American mind an offensively alien concept of life. As such movements always do, the Rightist movement in the United States swings from extreme reaction to middle - of - the - road resistance to Leftist movements, particularly Communism.

Among anti-Communists are numerous segments of the population ranging from intellectual opponents of Marxism who have profoundly studied both the economics and sociology of Marxism to those who are indignant that the course of events has changed without their consent.

Just as the Communists believe in historic inevitability, assuming that unless things go their way, they are unscientific, so the extreme Rightists assume that all human movements which differ from their concept of what is right are essentially evil. Among the latter are religious fundamentalists who do not understand the Hebrew Bible but demand that every word of it translated into post-Elizabethan English be accepted as absolute truth. Curiously, while many of them do not question a comma or a semi-colon of King James's version of the Hebrew Bible, they are nevertheless anti-Semites devising numerous concepts to justify their confusions.

From this irrational reaction to the scholarship of Eugene Lyons or Lawrence Fertig, to mention only two names that come to mind, is a vast range of thinkers who are no more closely associated than Earl Browder and Norman Thomas on the Left or James Wechsler and Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., in the center.

Unfortunately, the author of the "Newsweek" study of Rightism throws everything together into a potpourri. He makes no sharp distinctions of what is being thought by a variety of persons of differing experience.

Much is made of the John Birch Society, a newcomer in the political world which has taken over what remains of the Joe McCarthy effort. Bob Welch, the leader of the John Birch Society, was in the candy business in Massachusetts but he is very new in any kind of ideological struggle and it is doubtful whether he has studied the literature of Marxism although he is efficiently opposed to this movement. It is not to be assumed that Bob Welch or even Dr. Fred Schwarz, an Australian who operates out of Long Beach, California, could stand up in an intellectual discussion on Marxism.

They are emotionally anti-Communists which is insufficient to influence the scholarly mind. Anti-Communism is not sufficient as a mass movement. A mass movement must be positive; its assertions must be related to the growth of the human mind, not merely a resistance to the development of offensive movements.

What is interesting about the Rightist movement is not that it displays varieties of human emotions but rather that here is an opposition to Marxism and even to Liberalism. President's Speeches Show "Anti-Business" Bias

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON —President Kennedy may wonder at times why his administration is so frequently referred to as "anti-business." He need wonder no longer. For while the President promised the National Association of Manufacturers last Wednesday in a speech at New York City that the next day in talking to the AFL-CIO convention he would "stress" the importance of holding down wage costs as a factor in price stability, he failed to do so. Indeed, his own Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, later "interpreted" Mr. Kennedy's brief and incidental remarks before the AFL-CIO as meaning that demands for increased wages—and even strikes—were justified if based on "productivity."

The President's failure to keep his promise to the N.A.M. and Secretary Goldberg's speech before the AFL-CIO may prove to be a turning point in Mr. Kennedy's political fortunes. Unfortunately, the President did not come to grips with the extremism of labor-union leaders at a crucial moment in the economic history of the United States when a serious maladjustment in the form of a recession or depression next year retard America's growth and increase unemployment.

The President raised high hopes at first when he talked severely to the businessmen at the N.A.M. about restraints in prices and promised to speak as forthrightly to the labor unions. Here is what he said to the N.A.M. convention last Wednesday:

"Labor, too, has its responsibility for price stability, and I shall stress this tomorrow in addressing the AFL-CIO."

But the next day Mr. Kennedy, in the course of a long speech at Miami before the labor union convention, discussed largely what his administration had done for labor and would continue to do. He made only a brief reference to the subject of price stability and he directed this to both labor and management. A stenographic record of what he said—as given out by the White House—follows:

"I am hopeful that management and labor will recognize their responsibility to permit us to compete, that those of you who are in the area of wage negotiation will recognize the desirability of us maintaining as stable prices as possible, and that the area of productivity and stable prices—that your negotiations will take adequate calculation and account of this need for us to maintain a balance of trade in our favor. In the long run it's in the interest of your own workers."

But this comment puzzled the unions, and hence Secretary of Labor Goldberg the next day in his speech to the same convention undertook to amplify it as follows:

Justice Department Has Become New Political Arm Of Government

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—The worst New York judicial bribery scandal in the past quarter of a century illustrates the embarrassing predicament in which the President has put his brother by making him Attorney General.

The details of this scandal were published in this column six weeks ago—October 29—and need not be repeated here.

The important fact which causes embarrassment, however, is that the brother of Judge Vincent J. Keogh, charged with splitting a $35,000 bribe, is Congressman Eugene Keogh. The Congressman was one of the strong workers for John F. Kennedy's nomination at Los Angeles and necessarily was investigated, because of reports that he had been approached by the fixers. Attorney General Kennedy announced that he was not involved.

Republicans are bound to point out that in the pre-convention period when Bobby Kennedy was his brother's campaign manager and was working night and day to get him nominated, Congressman Keogh was one of his best supporters. In fact, Keogh was the New York spokesman for the Kennedy forces.

Now, during the investigation of the Keoghs, the man who worked intimately with the judge's brother sits in judgment on a man who helped make his brother's election as President of the United States possible.

This position is fair neither to Attorney General Kennedy nor to Congressman Keogh and is why a campaign manager should not hold the job of Attorney General.

Bobby Kennedy, who didn't really want the job but who has been a good Attorney General, is of course following plenty of precedent. Eisenhower appointed the former chairman of the Republican National Committee and campaign manager for Governor Dewey, Herbert Brownell, as Attorney General. Truman appointed Howard McGrath, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, as Attorney General.

This is because the Attorney General has become the chief political arm of every recent administration. No longer is the Post Office the department that hands out the political plums. Civil Service for postmasters has changed all that. The really big political power, with the right to prosecute or not prosecute, pardon or not pardon, push an income tax case or not push it, is the Justice Department.

Spokesman For Franco

Congressman Keogh and the Keogh family long have been a power in Democratic politics around New York. John Cashmore, Democratic boss of Brooklyn, used to tell how he had once offered Congressman Gene Keogh a state supreme court judgeship.

"Give it to my kid brother," Cashmore quoted Keogh as saying.

Latterly Congressman Keogh has won a reputation as President Kennedy's stanchest New York supporter on Capitol Hill. Earlier, he was known as a spokesman for Dictator Franco of Spain.

Keogh was elected to Congress in 1938, and for 11 years took no appreciable interest in Spain.

Then suddenly, after 11 silent years in Congress, Keogh became the champion of Dictator Franco. He littered the Congressional Record with statements and editorials favorable to Spain. He interrupted Congressional debates to defend Spain. He offered an amendment to include Spain in Marshall Plan handouts.

Franco Lobbyist

This began in 1949. It was in 1949 also that Congressman Keogh was seen frequently in the company of Franco's lobbyist, Charles Patrick Clark, who draws $100,000 annually from the Spanish embassy.

On October 8, 1949, Congressman Keogh paid a visit to Dictator Franco in Madrid. Lobbyist Charles Patrick Clark was in Madrid with him.

Traveling on a Spanish train that night, Congressman Keogh was reported to have had $5,000 stolen, together with his pants, when he hung the pants too near a window in a sleeping car.

Prior to 1949, also, Congressman Keogh opposed the natural gas lobby and voted against the Rizley Bill which would have hiked gas rates. The bill would have meant higher gas bills to Brooklyn housewives who elected him, and he voted for the housewives.

But in 1949, Keogh and Charley Clark, lobbyist for a gas pipeline company as well as for Spain, had become friendly and Keogh reversed himself.

Fees For Tax Case

At about this time, Congressman Keogh began to receive a series of checks from lobbyist Charley Clark. They were listed as payments by Clark for legal advice on a tax case which the federal government had against Silas E. Chambers of Miami. The first check was dated March 6, 1950, for $1,500; another on March 24, 1950, was for $1,000; April 5, $500; May 3, $500; and June 15, $1,000.

The interesting thing was that Keogh, as a member of Congress, had no business accepting a law fee in connection with a tax case. Such law practice against the federal government by a member of Congress is illegal.

In September, 1950, some months after the checks had passed, I handed the information to the Justice Department, whereupon both Keogh and Clark were quizzed by the FBI.

Immediately the Congressman wrote a letter to Clark, dated October 31, 1950, which appeared to be aimed at alibiing his transaction. It stated:

"I have given further consideration to the propriety of my continuing to act as advisory counsel. Therefore, if it meets with your approval, I should ask you to consider that our firm has withdrawn and consider that the fee which you previously paid us will be in full."

When the Congressman and lobbyist Clark were interviewed by this column regarding the purpose of these fees, they told different stories.

According to Keogh, Clark had merely dealt with his New York law firm, Halpin, Keogh, and St. John, not with him. But when Clark was asked how Keogh had earned these fees he explained that Keogh had given very helpful advice.

"Then it was Keogh who advised you on this case?" Clark was asked.

"Yes," was the reply.

Nation Of Spectators

By John Crosby

President Kennedy, speaking at the National Football Foundation, has asked us as individuals—and not for the first time, either—to be more physically fit and to raise children who are more physically fit, too. In this speech, he put his finger on one of the fundamental individual problems of our age.

"The sad fact is that it looks more and more as if our national sport is not playing at all — but watching. We have become more and more not a nation of athletes, but a nation of spectators."

We certainly are. In more ways than one. The whole tenor of life is toward non-participation. If, for example, one goes back fifty years, the average boy would be a farm boy (we were largely a rural population then) who could do everything — milk the cows, shell the peas, play center field. Today the peas arrive picked, shelled, and frozen, and the boy watches Mickey Mantle play center field. Participation is left to the experts; the masses watch.

President Kennedy was talking largely about non-participation in sports, but non-participation, let's face it, extends far beyond sports. More and more our plants are being automated and the worker — if he's not tossed out altogether — is reduced to the role of watcher. In the offices, the business machines do the computing and the filing and the memorizing. If that infernal machine which understands a few words and types them gets perfected—and it almost certainly will — the machines will take dictation, too, replacing all those rounded, nubile girls, with a lot of non-esthetic knobs, a perfectly horrible thought.

Even when we have tried to spread participation in sports in such fields as the Little Leagues, we find the emphasis is on winning rather than on playing. The idea is to field the best team—not to field the most players. Democracy itself, it sometimes seems, is getting to be largely a spectator sport — the great majority of voters deferring altogether on the complicated problems to a few experts in the Rand Corporation who make the decisions and do the thinking.

What's to do about it? Well, I think the first step is to call attention to the condition so that we all become aware of it. I think that both as a nation and as individuals we should ask ourselves how much time in any given day and above all in any given week (since that is the real unit of our existence) we devote to being spectators and how much to actual participation.

I must lay down some rather arbitrary rules here. Reading a newspaper, for example (worthy as that operation is) is a spectator sport and so is looking at television. Arguing politics with a dinner partner is participation; reading about it in the newspaper is non-participation. The first requires opinion, facts, interest — well, participation. The other is a blotting-up operation. Going to the movies, watching television, watching a computer do the work — these are all spectator activities. (Even flying an airplane is getting to be largely a spectator sport as automation takes over.)

A participant activity — and I'm being pretty arbitrary here — is something in which you use your vocal cords, your muscles, or your mind, or preferably all three at once. It's quite possible, in this television-automobile-movie world, almost to get through life on 100 per cent non-participation basis.

A good many years ago Fred Allen gloomily predicted that the way things were going the human race would eventually have no minds at all "but eyeballs the size of canteloupes." Fortunately, there are some hopeful signs. Television is so bloody dull that a good many non-participants have fled to the saloons where at least they argue or to the cellar where they build boats or do some other Do-It-Yourself activity, both healthy participant exercises.

The growth in Do-It-Yourself activities, the increase in skiing and golfing and water skiing and skin-diving and boating are all mildly hopeful — although, of course, they are far outweighed by the growth of spectator activities. If our streets get any more choked with cars, we may have to get out of them and walk to work. We will, of course, have long since torn up the tracks or allowed the railroads to die of neglect, so we'll have no commuter trains. (The very idiocy of our transportation policies might lead to a splendid upsurge of walking. I can think of nothing more bracing than a brisk walk from Westport to Wall Street and back every day.)

There's one other inexorable movement in the direction of participation rather than non-participation. The servant class is rapidly disappearing not only in America but all over an increasingly affluent Europe. Until somebody automates bed - making, you'll have to do the housework with your very own hands.

Severity Of Diabetes Varies With Individual

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

No two diabetics have the same degree of the disease. As a result, each has a problem that must be individualized to keep the condition under control and the victim in good health.

The age when the malady appears has an important bearing on its severity. It is most serious in children and young adults under age 35. This age group needs a calculated diet and insulin because the disease is likely to be brittle, labile, and difficult to manage. These persons must live with the disorder for many decades and the more they know about it, the better care they will take of themselves.

On the other hand, diabetes is mildest when it occurs after age 55. Many of these older victims are overweight and do well on a diet with or without the use of the anti-diabetic pills; the remainder must conbine diet with insulin.

The onset of dialetes in children and young adulthood usually is abrupt and occasionally terrifying. Many are found in a coma and die unless the situation is recognized immediately. Most physicians are familar with this type of coma and rush the person to the hospital as a life saving measure.

Diabetes may exist in older persons months to years before it is detected. Many middle aged victims become obese and are unaware that anything is amiss until they lose weight despite a ravenous appetite or an unslakable thirst. An annual urinalysis after age 40 helps uncover hidden diabetes.

That is wrong having diabetes? The carbohydrates in food is not metabolized properly and this leads to serious complications. Some die in coma; others develop hardening of the arteries or blindness years ahead of schedule. The diabetic state is aggravated whenever the person undergoes surgery, gets an infection, is injured, or becomes pregnant. Thus, the ordinary hazards of life affect the mortality rate of diabetics.

ONE IS THE LIMIT

J. P. S. writes: Does it hurt a person with diverticulosis to drink moderately?

REPLY

One drink has little or no effect but several may aggravate or precipitate infection. Alcohol causes congestion of the lining of these small out-pocketings and frequently produces spasm of the bowel wall. It is spasm and congestion that are harmful.

CORTISONE AND CANCER

F. V. writes: Does cortisone stimulate or reactivate an old cancer?

REPLY

Come again. It is unusual for cancers to become old. They continue to grow until the end. Certain hormones retard or hasten cancer and cortisone tends to slow up the growth of many tumors.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

"Hello! Is this Police Headquarters?" came an anguished voice over the telephone. "This is the Old Maids Home. Send a riot squad quick! A burglar has broken in!"

"Okay, okay," soothed the lieutenant at the desk. "Who's this speaking?"

"It's the burglar," answered the terrified voice.

The new girl in the first grade was sneezing and sniffling all through the spelling lesson. The teacher finally asked her, "My dear child, haven't you got a handkerchief in your pocket?" "Yes, teacher," sniffled the new girl, "but mama told me never to lend it to anybody."

Young Maurice kept a firm clutch on his first report card from school. "Maybe," he told his dad, "I should explain you the system first. A means wonderful, B means excellent, C stands for all right, and D is what I got."

Fred Schwed's definition of "conscience": a little gimmick inside of you that makes you tell your wife before somebody else does.

13 Members Eulogized At Keyser Elks

Joseph A. Blundon Delivers Oration

KEYSER — Thirteen deceased members of Keyser Lodge No. 1916, B.P.O. Elks, were eulogized Sunday afternoon by Joseph A. Blundon, attorney, who delivered the oration during the annual Memorial Services for departed brothers.

The past exalted ruler said: "It has always been a universal impulse of mankind to erect memorials in the form of statues, buildings, or monuments; but oday the tendency is to erect living memorials. This is the type of memorials in which our brothers had a part.

"They gave willingly to the major projects of our order to educate the youth, help the handicapped, and our veterans. So to them we set up a memorial in our hearts and fix there a beautiful recollection of our hours of friendship and happiness, our pleasure in joining them in works which we cherished and which made us feel that we were accomplishing a definite and needed good."

Blundon, pointing out that the principals of the Order of Elks held the answer to the many "isms" that are endangering the free way of life, called on the living to carry the living flame from the falling hands of the brothers in the fight against all enemies.

Special music by Miss Norma Umstot included: "The Funeral March," by Chopin, "Send Out Thy Light," Gounod; "The Lord is My Shepherd," Koschat; "Unfold Ye Portals," Gounod; and "Auld Lang Syne."

Rev. John D. MacLeod Jr., pastor of the Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation and benediction and officers of the lodge participated in the dedication of the altar.

Honored members were: W. B. Woolf, Karl H. Siever, C. C. Stephan, Byron Kesner, H. J. Borgan, R. M. Frye, Bruce Bradford, John R. Crummey, M. F. Jackson, Dakin C. Morehouse, Robert B. Sims, Douglas Frye, and James Stickley.

Hospitalized

13 Members Eulogized At Keyser Elks

Joseph A. Blundon Delivers Oration

KEYSER — Thirteen deceased members of Keyser Lodge No. 1916, B.P.O. Elks, were eulogized Sunday afternoon by Joseph A. Blundon, attorney, who delivered the oration during the annual Memorial Services for departed brothers.

The past exalted ruler said: "It has always been a universal impulse of mankind to erect memorials in the form of statues, buildings, or monuments; but oday the tendency is to erect living memorials. This is the type of memorials in which our brothers had a part.

"They gave willingly to the major projects of our order to educate the youth, help the handicapped, and our veterans. So to them we set up a memorial in our hearts and fix there a beautiful recollection of our hours of friendship and happiness, our pleasure in joining them in works which we cherished and which made us feel that we were accomplishing a definite and needed good."

Blundon, pointing out that the principals of the Order of Elks held the answer to the many "isms" that are endangering the free way of life, called on the living to carry the living flame from the falling hands of the brothers in the fight against all enemies.

Special music by Miss Norma Umstot included: "The Funeral March," by Chopin, "Send Out Thy Light," Gounod; "The Lord is My Shepherd," Koschat; "Unfold Ye Portals," Gounod; and "Auld Lang Syne."

Rev. John D. MacLeod Jr., pastor of the Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation and benediction and officers of the lodge participated in the dedication of the altar.

Honored members were: W. B. Woolf, Karl H. Siever, C. C. Stephan, Byron Kesner, H. J. Borgan, R. M. Frye, Bruce Bradford, John R. Crummey, M. F. Jackson, Dakin C. Morehouse, Robert B. Sims, Douglas Frye, and James Stickley.

Psychiatrist Is Requested For W.Va. Pen

Warden Says 1,600 Inmates Need Help

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—West Virginia Penitentiary Warden Otto Boles said Monday that he has about 1,600 "sick people" at the prison.

A full - time psychiatrist is one of the needs at the prison, Boles said, in appealing to the State Board of Public Works Monday for approval of a $250,000 increase in the Moundsville Penitentiary budget.

Boles said "we are not doing enough" for prisoners with psychiatric troubles, nor others with various illnesses.

The warden told the board that guards and other employes at the prison deserve a pay raise, and that much of the proposed increase from the present fiscal year's budget of $1.1 million would go for higher salaries.

"Our men are dealing with some pretty rough customers and the pay is too low," he said. Their pay now averages $255 a month, he said.

Another proposal in Boles' budget request was for $90,000 to eliminate or substantially reduce a smoke problem in Moundsville — which has been a source of irritation among residents of the city for many years. The smoke billows from the prison's big main smoke stack.

Boles said that for $35,000 he could get a start on elimination of the problem by building a new smoke stack.

State Finance Commissioner Turman E. Gore cut the prison's budget request from $1.36 million to $1.22 in his recommendation to the board.

W. B. Van Horn, director of the new State Civil Service Commission, appeared before the board to urge approval of his request for a $143,000 budget for the year starting next July 1. Gore reduced this to $101,000 in his recommendation.

Van Horn said he needs all he asked in order to hire additional personnel and to buy new equipment.

The board continues Tuesday its three days of hearings, preparatory to preparation of a budget proposal to the 1962 Legislature, by hearing representatives of several other spending units.

An unusual appearance is to be made by Bluefield State College representatives, probably to take directly to the board their appeal for funds for two new buildings they say are needed to allow the college to progress. Otherwise, they indicated, it will continue to decline.

Also scheduled to appear Tuesday are officials of the State Tax Department, the Natural Resources Department, the Health Department, the Welfare Department and the Motor Vehicles Department.

Psychiatrist Is Requested For W.Va. Pen

Warden Says 1,600 Inmates Need Help

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—West Virginia Penitentiary Warden Otto Boles said Monday that he has about 1,600 "sick people" at the prison.

A full - time psychiatrist is one of the needs at the prison, Boles said, in appealing to the State Board of Public Works Monday for approval of a $250,000 increase in the Moundsville Penitentiary budget.

Boles said "we are not doing enough" for prisoners with psychiatric troubles, nor others with various illnesses.

The warden told the board that guards and other employes at the prison deserve a pay raise, and that much of the proposed increase from the present fiscal year's budget of $1.1 million would go for higher salaries.

"Our men are dealing with some pretty rough customers and the pay is too low," he said. Their pay now averages $255 a month, he said.

Another proposal in Boles' budget request was for $90,000 to eliminate or substantially reduce a smoke problem in Moundsville — which has been a source of irritation among residents of the city for many years. The smoke billows from the prison's big main smoke stack.

Boles said that for $35,000 he could get a start on elimination of the problem by building a new smoke stack.

State Finance Commissioner Turman E. Gore cut the prison's budget request from $1.36 million to $1.22 in his recommendation to the board.

W. B. Van Horn, director of the new State Civil Service Commission, appeared before the board to urge approval of his request for a $143,000 budget for the year starting next July 1. Gore reduced this to $101,000 in his recommendation.

Van Horn said he needs all he asked in order to hire additional personnel and to buy new equipment.

The board continues Tuesday its three days of hearings, preparatory to preparation of a budget proposal to the 1962 Legislature, by hearing representatives of several other spending units.

An unusual appearance is to be made by Bluefield State College representatives, probably to take directly to the board their appeal for funds for two new buildings they say are needed to allow the college to progress. Otherwise, they indicated, it will continue to decline.

Also scheduled to appear Tuesday are officials of the State Tax Department, the Natural Resources Department, the Health Department, the Welfare Department and the Motor Vehicles Department.

Frostburg State Scores Third Straight Win Over Hagerstown, 91-53

Bill Wiltison Leads Attack, Gets 21 Points

Thompson Scores 18; Shenandoah Visits Frostburg Thursday

Piling up a 25-2 lead in the first 10 minutes of play before Gary Davis scored the visitors' first field goal, Frostburg State Teachers College chalked up a total of 36 field goals as it routed he cagers of Hagerstown Junior College last night at Frostburg by the score of 91 to 53.

It was the third consecutive victory for Coach Ron Van Ryswyk's Bobcats and the victory was there third against two losses. The setback was the fifth in a row for Coach Irv Easterday's Nighthawks.

Thirteen of the 14 members of the Frostburg squad saw action and all crashed the scoring column.

Bill Wiltison, scoring ace of Bruce High School's 1960-61 Class B state championship quint, who led W. M. I. last season with 215 points in 10 games, paced the Frostburg attack with 21 points on nine field goals and three-for-four at the charity stripe. Jim Thompson was the runner-up with eight baskets and 18 tallie. The Bobcats converted 19 of 25 shots at the foul line.

Nelson Ebersole, Steve Berger and Richie Hawkins headed the Hagerstown scoring with 13, 12 and 11 point respectively.

Frostburg State held the long end of a 53-17 score at halftime.

West Virginia Hosts Spiders

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) —West Virginia will be out for its 14th consecutive basketball win over Richmond here Tuesday night in a game that Coach George King says has him more than a little worried.

Richmond is like any other Southern Conference team in that it can knock you off on any given night," he said. He was worried that his charges might be looking ahead to Saturday's game with undefeated Penn State.

Tom Lowry, West Virginia's 6-foot-8 sophomore center, apparently has earned himself a starting berth. King said Lowry probably would start against Richmond. Lowry opened in place of Dave Shuck in the Furman game Saturday which the Mountaineers won handily 96-79.

West Virginia's backcourt combination of Rod Thorn and Jim McCormick has accounted for most of the scoring punch, totaling 152 points. Thorn is averaging 21 points a game and McCormick is hitting at a 17-point per game clip.

Rockwood Whips Northern, 55-42

Northern High's Huskies lost their second game of the season last night as Rockwood, Pa., High turned back the Accident quintet, 55-42, on the Pennsylvanians' court.

Barclay paced the scorers with 18 points for Rockwood while Larry Yommer had 16 for Northern which trailed all the way after a 9-9 tie in the first quarter. The lineups:

Royals Score Over Packers

Robertson Gets 32 In 133-117 Contest

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI) — Oscar Robertson scored 32 points and was credited with 20 assists Monday night to lead the Cincinnati Royals to a 133-117 victory over the Chicago Packers in a National Basketball Association game before a crowd of 3,013.

Robertson's total of assists came within two of Cincinnati's club record and represented two-thirds of the total number of assists credited to the Royals Monday night. The Royals made 49.1 per cent of their field goals attempts compared to Chicago's 42.3 per cent.

The Royals broke away from a 16-16 tie with 7:48 left in the first period and led all the way by margins ranging up to 20 points. Bob Leonard led the Packers with 31 points.

WOMAN LOSES SUIT—Mrs. Joan Bowler, 40, (right) of Arcadia, Calif., was struck by a bat which slipped out of the hands of Wally Post, (left) of the Cincinnati Reds, during a 1954 National League game. Mrs. Bowler, who was sitting in the stands behind third base, sued Post and the Cincinnati Club for $65,000 damages. At Chicago yesterday, a Superior Court jury rejected the suit. Defense attorneys contended that anyone who enters a ball park assumes all risks.

Ingo To Meet Bygraves In Attempted Comeback

Bout Is Slated In Sweden Arena Jan. 12 Or Feb. 2

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP) — Ingemar Johansson, former world heavyweight boxing champion, will start a comeback Jan. 12 or Feb. 2 against Joe Bygraves, former British Empire champion. It will be Ingo's first start since he was knocked out by Floyd Patterson in their third fight in Miami Beach, Fla., last March.

The 10-round match was announced by matchmaker Edwin Ahlquist and Al Phillips, British manager of Bygraves who also is making a comeback. It will be held in Maesshallen Arena in Goteborg, seating about 5,000 people. A definite date will be announced soon.

Johansson repeatedly has said he wants to fight Patterson again if the money, time and place are right. He still is involved in a tax dispute with the U.S. government. There has been talk of matching the 29-year-old Johansson with Sonny Liston, the No. 1 challenger from Philadelphia.

During the last two months Johansson has started to train again. He claims he is in good condition.

Johansson and Bygraves met once previously Feb. 24, 1956 at Goteborg, with Ingemar winning a decision after 10 rounds.

Bygraves, 30, already had beaten two opponents in his comeback that he hopes will lead him to a European title fight with Dick Richardson.

When Johansson fought Patterson for the first time, June 26, 1959, he was unbeaten in 21 pro fights. He was knocked out by Patterson in a return bout, June 26, 1960 and was stopped again by Patterson in a third match last March.

Washington Signs Gamecocks' Costen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jim Costen of South Carolina has signed to play professional football with the Washington Redskins, and coach Bill McPeak says he'll use the 185-pound back on defense.

Costen, from Atlanta, Ga., was the Redskins 14th draft pick. "He had one of the best recommendations we received on any boy," McPeak says, "and he's willing to play defense. We told him that's where we want to use him."

Costen signed a Redskins contract Sunday. The Redskins also have signed Ron Hatcher, a fullback from Michigan State. Hatcher was the team's eighth draft selection.

Leek Of Angels Called By Army

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Gene Leek, slick-fielding third baseman for the Los Angeles Angels, has been called into the Army as a member of the 32nd Infantry Division Administration Co., the club reported Monday.

An excellent fielder, Leek, 24, played the first 57 games with the parent Angels in 1961 but hit only .226. He was sent to Portland and Spokane of the Pacific Coast League for the latter part of the season.

Michigan Downs Denver, 74-63

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Michigan overcame a strong first half by the University of Denver Monday night to down the Pioneers 74-63 to square their season's mark at 2-2.

John Oosterbaan led the Wolverines with 27 points and Jon Hall and Tom Cole each scored 11 points. Dennis Hodge scored 20 points for Denver.

Owens Retains Coaching Post At Washington

Accepts Dual Job For Five Years

SEATTLE (AP) — Jim Owens, University of Washington athletic director and head football coach, Monday accepted an offer to continue in the dual job for another five years. It ended speculation that he would fill one of the football coaching vacancies in the Southwest.

Dr. Charles E. Odegaard, university president, announced he had issued a letter of intent extending Owens' tenure until 1966.

Salary terms were not revealed.

"I am most happy to accept the extended term," Owens said after the official announcement. "I am not considering offers from any other institutions and I am delighted to be able to represent the University of Washington at the Athletic Association of Western Universities meeting in San Francisco this week."

Owens name had been mentioned prominently in connection with Texas A&M, Souther Methodist University and the University of Houston.

Joseph Drumheller, president of the university board of regents, indicated in Spokane Owens salary would be slightly under $25,000 a year.

$65,000 Damage Suit Against Wally Post And Reds Rejected

CHICAGO (AP) — A Superior Court jury rejected Monday a $65,000 damage suit against the Cincinnati Reds baseball club and outfielder Wally Post brought by a California woman who was struck by a baseball bat at Wrigley Field.

The jury found that neither the team nor Post was liable when a bat slipped out of Post's hands during a 1954 game and struck Mrs. Joan Bowler, 40, of Arcadia, Calif., who was sitting in the stands behind third base.

Wichita Upsets Purdue, 71-68

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Outside shooting of Wichita's Ernie Moore and Lanny Vaneman Monday night defeated Purdue's basketball team for the first time this season 71-68.

Even a 36-point performance by Purdue's All-America Terry Dischinger wasn't good enough to counter the 41 points the 5-foot-10 Moore and 5-foot-11 Vaneman collected between them.

Each of the shorties hit 10 fielders in 16 shots, mostly from just outside the foul circle.

Purdue, which had won two previous starts by big margins, played without senior playmaker Tim McGinley, hospitalized with bronchitis.

Dischinger potted 12 baskets in 21 shots and made 12 of 13 free throws.

Wichita has lost only to Ohio State.

Clay And Lavorante To Fight Dec. 29

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Promotor - matchmaker George Parnassus announced Monday that he had signed Alejandro Lavorante of Argentina to meet Von Clay of Philadelphia in a 10-round heavyweight bout here Friday, Dec. 29.

Lavorante, the third - ranking heavyweight in the National Boxing Association's ratings, owed Parnassus and his Olympic Boxing Club a bout for having been forced to step out of a nationally-televised fight Nov. 4 because of a badly split lip.

Maryland Deer Kill 4,218 Compared To 4,532 In '60

Allegany County Is Leader With 655

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Maryland deer hunters fell 314 short of their 1960 total in the seven-day statewide gunning season which ended Saturday.

The Department of Game and Inland Fish reported Monday that the total kill was 4,218 compared to 4,532 for last year.

Bucks were bagged in every county except Montgomery, which does not permit an open season, but in only 11 of the 23 counties were 1960 marks exceeded despite generally increased populations.

Allegany Leads State

Allegany led the shooting with 655 kills, compared to 780 last year. Its western neighbor, Garrett, was second with 638 after having led the list with 802 last year.

Charles H. Milton, Jr., state game warden, said shooting pressure was light in the Western Maryland counties during the middle of the week, and hunters began leaving the woods early on Saturday because of the snow.

Hunters also continued a recent trend of spreading to other sections of the state.

Washington County reported 397 kills, compared to 410 last season. Frederick dropped from 231 last year to 203 this year, and Carroll registered a gain from 68 to 91.

Added to the totals were those killed at two federal reserves. Army Chemical Center reported 177 compared to 183 last year and Aberdeen Proving Ground recorded 176 compared to 328 last year.

89 Illegal Kills

Milton said there were 89 illegal kills not included in the figures and approximately half of the violators were apprehended. The illegal kills will be included in the year's total when special seasons to be held later are completed.

Duke Takes 4th In Row

Blue Devils Top Clemson, 89-66

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—The unbeaten Duke Blue Devils scored their fourth straight victory Monday night, routing Clemson 89-66 in an Atlantic Coast Conference basketball game.

From an 8-8 tie after four minutes of play, Duke moved out in front and was never in trouble. The Blue Devils built up a commanding 48-32 lead at the half.

Duke was paced as usual by Art Heyman with 26 points. Buzzy Harrison added 15, and Fred Schmidt and Jeff Mullins had 12 each.

Indiana Edges Tar Heels, 76-70

GREENSBORO, N.C. (UPI)—Speedy Indiana lost an early lead but came back to edge out North Carolina, 76-70, Monday night in a neutral court game that handed the Tarheels their first loss of the season.

Indiana held a seven point margin, 38-31 at halftime but the Tarheels took the lead at 62-61 with 6:53 left to play. However, the lead was short lived and Tom Bolyard hit a goal with 5 minutes left to give Indiana the lead 66-64.

Bolyard was high for Indiana with 22 points, 17 in the second half.

Kentucky Triumphs

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI)—Kentucky, paced by fast-firing Cotton Nash, downed the St. Louis Billikens, 86-77, here Monday night.

Hewitt's Behavior Irks Net Officials

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) —Bob Hewitt, bad boy of Australian tennis, may have lost his place on Australia's Davis Cup Team by his behavior in last week's Victorian tennis championships.

The Davis Cup selectors have asked for a full report on Hewitt's tantrums during the titles, and it is believed they may replace him on the team with New South Wales player Fred Stolle.

Hewitt was reported by the umpire for bad language and ill temper and received a severe reprimand from Lawn Tennis Association of Victoria President Robert N. Urgland.

Frostburg State Scores Third Straight Win Over Hagerstown, 91-53

Thompson Scores 18; Shenandoah Visits Frostburg Thursday

Piling up a 25-2 lead in the first 10 minutes of play before Gary Davis scored the visitors' first field goal, Frostburg State Teachers College chalked up a total of 36 field goals as it routed he cagers of Hagerstown Junior College last night at Frostburg by the score of 91 to 53.

It was the third consecutive victory for Coach Ron Van Ryswyk's Bobcats and the victory was there third against two losses. The setback was the fifth in a row for Coach Irv Easterday's Nighthawks.

Thirteen of the 14 members of the Frostburg squad saw action and all crashed the scoring column.

Bill Wiltison, scoring ace of Bruce High School's 1960-61 Class B state championship quint, who led W. M. I. last season with 215 points in 10 games, paced the Frostburg attack with 21 points on nine field goals and three-for-four at the charity stripe. Jim Thompson was the runner-up with eight baskets and 18 tallies. The Bobcats converted 19 of 25 shots at the foul line.

Nelson Ebersole, Steve Berger and Richie Hawkins headed the Hagerstown scoring with 13, 12 and 11 point respectively.

Frostburg State held the long end of a 53-17 score at halftime.

West Virginia Hosts Spiders

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) —West Virginia will be out for its 14th consecutive basketball win over Richmond here Tuesday night in a game that Coach George King says has him more than a little worried.

Richmond is like any other Southern Conference team in that it can knock you off on any given night," he said. He was worried that his charges might be looking ahead to Saturday's game with undefeated Penn State.

Tom Lowry, West Virginia's 6-foot-8 sophomore center, apparently has earned himself a starting berth. King said Lowry probably would start against Richmond. Lowry opened in place of Dave Shuck in the Furman game Saturday which the Mountaineers won handily 96-79.

West Virginia's backcourt combination of Rod Thorn and Jim McCormick has accounted for most of the scoring punch, totaling 152 points. Thorn is averaging 21 points a game and McCormick is hitting at a 17-point per game clip.

Rockwood Whips Northern, 55-42

Northern High's Huskies lost their second game of the season last night as Rockwood, Pa., High turned back the Accident quintet, 55-42, on the Pennsylvanians' court.

Royals Score Over Packers

Robertson Gets 32 In 133-117 Contest

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI) — Oscar Robertson scored 32 points and was credited with 20 assists Monday night to lead the Cincinnati Royals to a 133-117 victory over the Chicago Packers in a National Basketball Association game before a crowd of 3,013.

Robertson's total of assists came within two of Cincinnati's club record and represented two-thirds of the total number of assists credited to the Royals Monday night. The Royals made 49.1 per cent of their field goals attempts compared to Chicago's 42.3 per cent.

The Royals broke away from a 16-16 tie with 7:48 left in the first period and led all the way by margins ranging up to 20 points. Bob Leonard led the Packers with 31 points.

Ingo To Meet Bygraves In Attempted Comeback

Bout Is Slated In Sweden Arena Jan. 12 Or Feb. 2

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP) — Ingemar Johansson, former world heavyweight boxing champion, will start a comeback Jan. 12 or Feb. 2 against Joe Bygraves, former British Empire champion. It will be Ingo's first start since he was knocked out by Floyd Patterson in their third fight in Miami Beach, Fla., last March.

The 10-round match was announced by matchmaker Edwin Ahlquist and Al Phillips, British manager of Bygraves who also is making a comeback. It will be held in Maesshallen Arena in Goteborg, seating about 5,000 people. A definite date will be announced soon.

Johansson repeatedly has said he wants to fight Patterson again if the money, time and place are right. He still is involved in a tax dispute with the U.S. government. There has been talk of matching the 29-year-old Johansson with Sonny Liston, the No. 1 challenger from Philadelphia.

During the last two months Johansson has started to train again. He claims he is in good condition.

Johansson and Bygraves met once previously Feb. 24, 1956 at Goteborg, with Ingemar winning a decision after 10 rounds.

Bygraves, 30, already had beaten two opponents in his comeback that he hopes will lead him to a European title fight with Dick Richardson.

When Johansson fought Patterson for the first time, June 26, 1959, he was unbeaten in 21 pro fights. He was knocked out by Patterson in a return bout, June 26, 1960 and was stopped again by Patterson in a third match last March.

Washington Signs Gamecocks' Costen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jim Costen of South Carolina has signed to play professional football with the Washington Redskins, and coach Bill McPeak says he'll use the 185-pound back on defense.

Costen, from Atlanta, Ga., was the Redskins 14th draft pick. "He had one of the best recommendations we received on any boy," McPeak says, "and he's willing to play defense. We told him that's where we want to use him."

Costen signed a Redskins contract Sunday. The Redskins also have signed Ron Hatcher, a fullback from Michigan State. Hatcher was the team's eighth draft selection.

Leek Of Angels Called By Army

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Gene Leek, slick-fielding third baseman for the Los Angeles Angels, has been called into the Army as a member of the 32nd Infantry Division Administration Co., the club reported Monday.

An excellent fielder, Leek, 24, played the first 57 games with the parent Angels in 1961 but hit only .226. He was sent to Portland and Spokane of the Pacific Coast League for the latter part of the season.

Michigan Downs Denver, 74-63

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Michigan overcame a strong first half by the University of Denver Monday night to down the Pioneers 74-63 to square their season's mark at 2-2.

John Oosterbaan led the Wolverines with 27 points and Jon Hall and Tom Cole each scored 11 points. Dennis Hodge scored 20 points for Denver.

$65,000 Damage Suit Against Wally Post And Reds Rejected

CHICAGO (AP) — A Superior Court jury rejected Monday a $65,000 damage suit against the Cincinnati Reds baseball club and outfielder Wally Post brought by a California woman who was struck by a baseball bat at Wrigley Field.

The jury found that neither the team nor Post was liable when a bat slipped out of Post's hands during a 1954 game and struck Mrs. Joan Bowler, 40, of Arcadia, Calif., who was sitting in the stands behind third base.

Wichita Upsets Purdue, 71-68

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Outside shooting of Wichita's Ernie Moore and Lanny Vaneman Monday night defeated Purdue's basketball team for the first time this season 71-68.

Even a 36-point performance by Purdue's All-America Terry Dischinger wasn't good enough to counter the 41 points the 5-foot-10 Moore and 5-foot-11 Vaneman collected between them.

Each of the shorties hit 10 fielders in 16 shots, mostly from just outside the foul circle.

Purdue, which had won two previous starts by big margins, played without senior playmaker Tim McGinley, hospitalized with bronchitis.

Dischinger potted 12 baskets in 21 shots and made 12 of 13 free throws.

Wichita has lost only to Ohio State.

Clay And Lavorante To Fight Dec. 29

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Promotor - matchmaker George Parnassus announced Monday that he had signed Alejandro Lavorante of Argentina to meet Von Clay of Philadelphia in a 10-round heavyweight bout here Friday, Dec. 29.

Lavorante, the third - ranking heavyweight in the National Boxing Association's ratings, owed Parnassus and his Olympic Boxing Club a bout for having been forced to step out of a nationally-televised fight Nov. 4 because of a badly split lip.

Owens Retains Coaching Post At Washington

Accepts Dual Job For Five Years

SEATTLE (AP) — Jim Owens, University of Washington athletic director and head football coach, Monday accepted an offer to continue in the dual job for another five years. It ended speculation that he would fill one of the football coaching vacancies in the Southwest.

Dr. Charles E. Odegaard, university president, announced he had issued a letter of intent extending Owens' tenure until 1966.

Salary terms were not revealed.

"I am most happy to accept the extended term," Owens said after the official announcement. "I am not considering offers from any other institutions and I am delighted to be able to represent the University of Washington at the Athletic Association of Western Universities meeting in San Francisco this week."

Owens name had been mentioned prominently in connection with Texas A&M, Souther Methodist University and the University of Houston.

Joseph Drumheller, president of the university board of regents, indicated in Spokane Owens salary would be slightly under $25,000 a year.

Duke Takes 4th In Row

Blue Devils Top Clemson, 89-66

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—The unbeaten Duke Blue Devils scored their fourth straight victory Monday night, routing Clemson 89-66 in an Atlantic Coast Conference basketball game.

From an 8-8 tie after four minutes of play, Duke moved out in front and was never in trouble. The Blue Devils built up a commanding 48-32 lead at the half.

Duke was paced as usual by Art Heyman with 26 points. Buzzy Harrison added 15, and Fred Schmidt and Jeff Mullins had 12 each.

Nick Milasnovich was Clemson's high scorer with 19 points.

Allegany County Is Leader With 655

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Maryland deer hunters fell 314 short of their 1960 total in the seven-day statewide gunning season which ended Saturday.

The Department of Game and Inland Fish reported Monday that the total kill was 4,218 compared to 4,532 for last year.

Bucks were bagged in every county except Montgomery, which does not permit an open season, but in only 11 of the 23 counties were 1960 marks exceeded despite generally increased populations.

Allegany Leads State

Allegany led the shooting with 655 kills, compared to 780 last year. Its western neighbor, Garrett, was second with 638 after having led the list with 802 last year.

Charles H. Milton, Jr., state game warden, said shooting pressure was light in the Western Maryland counties during the middle of the week, and hunters began leaving the woods early on Saturday because of the snow.

Hunters also continued a recent trend of spreading to other sections of the state.

Washington County reported 397 kills, compared to 410 last season. Frederick dropped from 231 last year to 203 this year, and Carroll registered a gain from 68 to 91.

Added to the totals were those killed at two federal reserves. Army Chemical Center reported 177 compared to 183 last year and Aberdeen Proving Ground recorded 176 compared to 328 last year.

89 Illegal Kills

Milton said there were 89 illegal kills not included in the figures and approximately half of the violators were apprehended. The illegal kills will be included in the year's total when special seasons to be held later are completed.

Indiana Edges Tar Heels, 76-70

GREENSBORO, N.C. (UPI)—Speedy Indiana lost an early lead but came back to edge out North Carolina, 76-70, Monday night in a neutral court game that handed the Tarheels their first loss of the season.

Indiana held a seven point margin, 38-31 at halftime but the Tarheels took the lead at 62-61 with 6:53 left to play. However, the lead was short lived and Tom Bolyard hit a goal with 5 minutes left to give Indiana the lead 66-64.

Bolyard was high for Indiana with 22 points, 17 in the second half.

Kentucky Triumphs

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI)—Kentucky, paced by fast-firing Cotton Nash, downed the St. Louis Billikens, 86-77, here Monday night.

Hewitt's Behavior Irks Net Officials

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) —Bob Hewitt, bad boy of Australian tennis, may have lost his place on Australia's Davis Cup Team by his behavior in last week's Victorian tennis championships.

The Davis Cup selectors have asked for a full report on Hewitt's tantrums during the titles, and it is believed they may replace him on the team with New South Wales player Fred Stolle.

Hewitt was reported by the umpire for bad language and ill temper and received a severe reprimand from Lawn Tennis Association of Victoria President Robert N. Urgland.

Beall-LaSalle, Elk Garden-Bruce Games Head Cage Card Tonight

Mountaineers And Explorers To Play Here

Undefeated Quints Play In Westernport, 5 PVC Tilts Listed

LaSalle High School's Explorers do battle with Beall High's Mountaineers here and Elk Garden and Bruce, a pair of unbeaten quints, will tangle at Westernport, in the feature contests on tonight's basketball program in the tri-state area.

Coach George Geatz's Explorers, idle since December 2, when they defeated Fort Ashby, 71-64, will face Beall's defending champions in a Potomac Valley Conference engagement on SS. Peter & Paul court at 8 o'clock. Coach "Eobie" Finzel's cagers are 1-1 in the P. V. C., having beaten Fort Ashby, 61-52, and lost to the Piedmont High Lions, 59-49.

Beall won the P. V. C. championship last season with a 9-1 record and swept the series with LaSalle, 73-71 and 68-66. The only loss came at the hands of Keyser in overtime, 58-56. LaSalle finished in third place in back of Elk Garden (11-3) with a 7-2 record.

Charley Lattimer and Ray Ralston will officiate tonight's contest.

Unbeaten Teams Clash

With the scalps of Piedmont (35-33), Ridgeley (53-35) and Southern (69-41) dangling from its belt, Coach Paul Kalbaugh's Elk Garden quint will be shooting for win No. 4 when it tackles Leonard Ritchie's Bulldogs tonight. Bruce would like to make it three in a row, having beaten Northern (59-40) and Southern of Oakland (72-54).

In addition to the LaSalle-Beall tilt, four other P. V. C. games appear on tonight's card. Ridgeley entertains Fort Ashby, Petersburg opposes Piedmont on the latter's court, Paw Paw visits Capon Bridge and Circleville invades Mathias.

Southern's Highlanders (0-2) and Valley (0-2) will collide at Lonaconing.

Comer Makes Debut

Coach Nick Scallion's South Hagerstown Rebels open their season at Westminster, Mel Henry's North Hagerstown team, defeated by Greencastle, 56-55, battle Boonsboro at the latter place and Coach Roy Comer makes his debut as head of the Martinsburg Bulldogs who launch their campaign with Waynesboro, Pa., at Martinsburg.

On the collegiate front Coach Dana "Horse" Lough's Potomac State Catamounts (1-3) face the Davis & Elkins Senators (3-1) and high scoring Bob Ferrell in a West Virginia Conference game at Elkins while the Shepherd Rams (1-3) meet Bethany's Bisons in a conference engagement at Bethany.

Ridgeley Trips Lions, 48-43

Jividen Gets 26 For W. Va. Deaf

Baskets by Del Schoonover and Gary Cuppett brought Ridgeley High from behind in the fourth quarter last night as the Hawks defeated the W. Va. School for Deaf Lions, 48-43, in a Potomac Valley Conference basketball contest on the Ridgeley floor.

The triumph was the second in four games for Coach Tom O'Connor's Hawks and made them 2-1 in the conference. The Lions evened their mark at 2-2 for the season as they dropped their second league tilt in three engagements.

Schoonover's basket knotted the count at 38-38 early in the fourth period and Cuppett put the Hawks ahead to stay with his goal.

Ridgeley built up a 12-7 lead but trailed 20-18 at halftime as the Hawks' second team played most of the second quarter.

Tommy Jividen was the game's high scorer with 26 points for the losers while Schoonover took the laurels for Ridgeley with 17 tallies.

Catholic Loop To Open Sunday

Doubleheader Here Will Start At 1:30

The Catholic Youth Basketball League will open its 16th campaign Sunday with two games scheduled on SS. Peter & Paul court and a single contest at Frostburg.

In the twin bill here, St. Patrick's, Mt. Savage, will play SS. Peter & Paul at 1:30 p. m., and St. Peter's, Westernport, will meet St. Mary's, of Cumberland, at 2:45 p. m.

St. Michael's defending champions will host St. Patrick's of Cumberland at 2:30 p. m., in the Mountain City.

The league has adopted a split season schedule as in past years and each team will play 20 games, ten in each half.

St. Michael's has won seven championships, SS. Peter & Paul, four, St. Patrick's, Cumberland, three, and St. Mary's one.

Ferguson, Hornung To Get Grid Awards

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Maxwell Club announced Monday its annual football awards will be presented to Bob Ferguson of Ohio State and Paul Hornung of the Green Bay Packers.

Ferguson will be given the Robert W. Maxwell Award as the outstanding collegiate player of the year and Hornung, now an Army private, will be presented with the Bert Bell Memorial Award as the outstanding player of the National Football League.

Both were selected unanimously for the awards, to be made at the club's 25th annual dinner here on Feb. 5.

Young Keller To Be Honored

Will Get Award At Sports Dinner

BALTIMORE (AP) — Charley Keller of the New York Yankees will be honored at the Tops in Sports banquet Jan. 15.

This Charley Keller is 22 years old and he'll receive an award as the Maryland baseball Star of the Future.

His father is a star of the past. Charley, senior, was a slugging outfielder for the New York Yankees until 1949.

Charley, junior, played last season for the Yankee farm at Binghamton, N.Y. He led the Class A Eastern League in batting .351, 37 doubles, 16 triples and also hit 18 home runs while driving in 100 runs.

Like his father, young Charley hits the ball from the left side of the plate. He was signed by the Yankees in 1958 while a sophomore at the University of Maryland from where his father was graduated.

Since ending all his baseball connections after two years of pinch hitting for the Detroit Tigers and for a time in 1957 as Yankee coach, Keller has been breeding harness horses at a farm near Frederick, Md.

Blackwell Accepts WVU Scholarship

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) —West Virginia football coach Gene Corum announced Monday that fullback Roger Blackwell of Oak Hill High School has accepted a football scholarship to the University.

Blackwell, a 6-foot-2, 210-pounder, gained more than 1,200 yards rushing this past season and also gained more than 1,000 in his junior year. He was a member of the Triple-A All - State second team.

In the 1960 Rome Olympic Games Japan won 18 medals, including four golds — all in the gymnastic events.

Frigid Philly Could Bother Miami Eleven

To Play Syracuse In Liberty Bowl

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Visions of thermometers dropping to subfreezing levels bothered the Miami Hurricanes more this week than nightmares in which Ernie Davis gallops for touchdowns.

They must contain Heisman Trophy winner Davis to beat Syracuse in Saturday's Liberty Bowl football game at Philadelphia. That would be hard to do in the friendly warmth of Miami's own stadium, let alone in what may be a frigid Philly.

How will cold affect George Mira, the Hurricanes' sensational sophomore passer who was born and raised in tropical Key West, considers Miami "up north," and is a total stranger to snow and ice?

And how will Mira's All America end target, Bill Miller, and the other receivers be able to handle his passes—the hardest thrown in college football — with numb fingers?

"We're not worrying abou the weather," says Coach Andy Gustafson, in the tone of a man whistling his way past the graveyard.

A peek in the supply room shows otherwise. There are big stacks of new stufflong - handled underwear, heavy wool jerseys, long wool socks and hand warmers. And Miami has arranged to borrow sideline parkas and charcoal bench stoves from Pennsylvania University.

Gustafson well remembers what cold can mean to Miami teams. In 1951, the Hurricanes were supposed to play a close game with Kentucky at Lexington. But in 16-degree weather they were numbed 32-0.

The Miami squad will get to Philadelphia in time to work out Thursday and Friday in the Liberty Bowl.

With a tiger-tough defensive line that held enemy teams to an average of 92 yards running during the season, the Hurricanes might make the going rough for Davis. That would bring up the question: How strong is the Syracuse passing?

"They'll be very tough to the defense," says Gustafson's top assistant, Walt Kichefski, "because they pass off the run and every run could be a potential pass."

NBA Suspends Bob Cleroux

TORONTO, Ont. (UPI) — The National Boxing Association Monday suspended Canadian heavyweight champion Bob Cleroux.

Ontario Athletic Commissioner Merv McKenzie announced that the NBA had upheld the Ontario suspension of the Montreal fighter. McKenzie said that Cleroux was automatically suspended in Ontario — which is a member of the NBA—when he did not fulfill a rematch with George Chuvalo of Toronto in Toronto in September.

Neither fighter signed contracts for the proposed Sept. 18 bout.

Cleroux regained the Canadian title from Chuvalo last August in their third fight. Chuvalo's handlers claimed that by winning Cleroux was legally bound by contract to give Chuvalo a return fight in Toronto no later than Sept. 18.

The ban means Cleroux can fight only in such non-NBA places as California, New York, Massachusetts and Europe.

McKenzie said the suspension would be lifted as soon as Cleroux meets Chuvalo for the fourth time.

Go Fly A Kite:

Pender Will Not Step Aside For Fullmer To Meet Downes

Turns Down $15,000 Offer; Can Get More For Fighting Terry

BOSTON (UPI)—Brookline middleweight Paul Pender politely suggested that Gene Fullmer go fly a kite Monday in reply to the suggestion that he step aside from his proposed title rematch with Terry Downes.

Pender, who lost his Massachusetts, New York and European share of the middleweight crown to Downes in London last September, has a contract for a rematch in Boston. The proposed bout was to have taken place last month but was put off by a Downes hand injury and last was tentatively scheduled for next Jan. 20.

In the meantime, Fullmer, who holds the National Boxing Association middleweight crown, proposed a $15,000 direct payment to Pender to step aside as Downes' next opponent. Fullmer said he would sign a three-way contract in which the winner of a Fullmer-Downes meeting would agree to take on Pender.

"I won't have any part of it," Pender said.

"Where was Fullmer when I was looking for him to fight me? He wasn't interested then. I'm not interested now," Pender said.

"Why should I take $15,000 to stand by?" Pender asked.

"I can get three times that by fighting Downes for the title. And that's what I'm going to do. Then Fullmer and I can make arrangements after that," Pender concluded.

3,500 Deer Slain In West Virginia, May Be New Low

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—West Virginia's deer kill during the past six - day season apparently was only about 3,500, the Natural Resources Department said Monday. It may have been the smallest kill on record in the state.

The deer kill in 1946 was 4,000, apparently the lowest on record.

This was only the second exclusively bucks - only season the state had had in the past 12 years. It had been predicted that the kill would be about 6,500. The total for the 1957 bucks - only season was about 6,000.

The death toll among deer hunters apparently was two. A Grant County woman was shot to death and a South Charleston man died of a heart attack.

A Natural Resource Department spokesman also said Monday that a Petersburg man was wounded Saturday while standing on Spring Street in Petersburg. They said Lemont Hedrick was hit in the leg by a stray bullet from the rifle of an unknown hunter.

Beall-LaSalle, Elk Garden-Bruce Games Head Cage Card Tonight

Mountaineers And Explorers To Play Here

Undefeated Quints Play In Westernport, 5 PVC Tilts Listed

LaSalle High School's Explorers do battle with Beall High's Mountaineers here and Elk Garden and Bruce, a pair of unbeaten quints, will tangle at Westernport, in the feature contests on tonight's basketball program in the tri-state area.

Coach George Geatz's Explorers, idle since December 2, when they defeated Fort Ashby, 71-64, will face Beall's defending champions in a Potomac Valley Conference engagement on SS. Peter & Paul court at 8 o'clock. Coach "Eobie" Finzel's cagers are 1-1 in the P. V. C., having beaten Fort Ashby, 61-52, and lost to the Piedmont High Lions, 59-49.

Beall won the P. V. C. championship last season with a 9-1 record and swept the series with LaSalle, 73-71 and 68-66. The only loss came at the hands of Keyser in overtime, 56-56. LaSalle finished in third place in back of Elk Garden (11-3) with a 7-2 record.

Charley Lattimer and Ray Ralston will officiate tonight's contest.

Unbeaten Teams Clash

With the scalps of Piedmont (35-33), Ridgeley (53-35) and Southern (69-41) dangling from its belt, Coach Paul Kalbaugh's Elk Garden quint will be shooting for win No. 4 when it tackles Leonard Ritchie's Bulldogs tonight. Bruce would like to make it three in a row, having beaten Northern (59-40) and Southern of Oakland (72-54).

In addition to the LaSalle-Beall tilt, four other P. V. C. games appear on tonight's card. Ridgeley entertains Fort Ashby, Petersburg opposes Piedmont on the latter's court, Paw Paw visits Capon Bridge and Circleville invades Mathias.

Southern's Highlanders (0-2) and Valley (0-2) will collide at Lonaconing.

Comer Makes Debut

Coach Nick Scallion's South Hagerstown Rebels open their season at Westminster, Mel Henry's North Hagerstown team, defeated by Greencastle, 56-55, battle Boonsboro at the latter place and Coach Roy Comer makes his debut as head of the Martinsburg Bulldogs who launch their campaign with Waynesboro, Pa., at Martinsburg.

On the collegiate front Coach Dana "Horse" Lough's Potomac State Catamounts (1-3) face the Davis & Elkins Senators (3-1) and high scoring Bob Ferrell in a West Virginia Conference game at Elkins while the Shepherd Rams (1-3) meet Bethany's Bisons in a conference engagement at Bethany.

Ridgeley Trips Lions, 48-43

Jividen Gets 26 For W. Va. Deaf

Baskets by Del Schoonover and Gary Cuppett brought Ridgeley High from behind in the fourth quarter last night as the Hawks defeated the W. Va. School for Deaf Lions, 48-43, in a Potomac Valley Conference basketball contest on the Ridgeley floor.

The triumph was the second in four games for Coach Tom O'Connor's Hawks and made them 2-1 in the conference. The Lions evened their mark at 2-2 for the season as they dropped their second league tilt in three engagements.

Schoonover's basket knotted the count at 38-38 early in the fourth period and Cuppett put the Hawks ahead to stay with his goal.

Ridgeley built up a 12-7 lead but trailed 20-18 at halftime as the Hawks' second team played most of the second quarter.

Tommy Jividen was the game's high scorer with 26 points for the losers while Schoonover took the laurels for Ridgeley with 17 tallies.

Doubleheader Here Will Start At 1:30

The Catholic Youth Basketball League will open its 16th campaign Sunday with two games scheduled on SS. Peter & Paul court and a single contest at Frostburg.

In the twin bill here, St. Patrick's, Mt. Savage, will play SS. Peter & Paul at 1:30 p. m., and St. Peter's, Westernport, will meet St. Mary's, of Cumberland, at 2:45 p. m.

St. Michael's defending champions will host St. Patrick's of Cumberland at 2:30 p. m., in the Mountain City.

The league has adopted a split season schedule as in past years and each team will play 20 games, ten in each half.

St. Michael's has won seven championships, SS. Peter & Paul, four, St. Patrick's, Cumberland, three, and St. Mary's one.

Ferguson, Hornung To Get Grid Awards

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Maxwell Club announced Monday its annual football awards will be presented to Bob Ferguson of Ohio State and Paul Hornung of the Green Bay Packers.

Ferguson will be given the Robert W. Maxwell Award as the outstanding collegiate player of the year and Hornung, now an Army private, will be presented with the Bert Bell Memorial Award as the outstanding player of the National Football League.

Both were selected unanimously for the awards, to be made at the club's 25th annual dinner here on Feb. 5.

Young Keller To Be Honored

Will Get Award At Sports Dinner

BALTIMORE (AP) — Charley Keller of the New York Yankees will be honored at the Tops in Sports banquet Jan. 15.

This Charley Keller is 22 years old and he'll receive an award as the Maryland baseball Star of the Future.

His father is a star of the past. Charley, senior, was a slugging outfielder for the New York Yankees until 1949.

Charley, junior, played last season for the Yankee farm at Binghamton, N.Y. He led the Class A Eastern League in batting .351, 37 doubles, 16 triples and also hit 18 home runs while driving in 100 runs.

Like his father, young Charley hits the ball from the left side of the plate. He was signed by the Yankees in 1958 while a sophomore at the University of Maryland from where his father was graduated.

Since ending all his baseball connections after two years of pinch hitting for the Detroit Tigers and for a time in 1957 as Yankee coach, Keller has been breeding harness horses at a farm near Frederick, Md.

Frigid Philly Could Bother Miami Eleven

To Play Syracuse In Liberty Bowl

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Visions of thermometers dropping to subfreezing levels bothered the Miami Hurricanes more this week than nightmares in which Ernie Davis gallops for touchdowns.

They must contain Heisman Trophy winner Davis to beat Syracuse in Saturday's Liberty Bowl football game at Philadelphia. That would be hard to do in the friendly warmth of Miami's own stadium, let alone in what may be a frigid Philly.

How will cold affect George Mira, the Hurricanes' sensational sophomore passer who was born and raised in tropical Key West, considers Miami "up north," and is a total stranger to snow and ice?

And how will Mira's All America end target, Bill Miller, and the other receivers be able to handle his passes—the hardest thrown in college football — with numb fingers?

"We're not worrying abou the weather," says Coach Andy Gustafson, in the tone of a man whistling his way past the graveyard.

A peek in the supply room shows otherwise. There are big stacks of new stufflong - handled underwear, heavy wool jerseys, long wool socks and hand warmers. And Miami has arranged to borrow sideline parkas and charcoal bench stoves from Pennsylvania University.

Gustafson well remembers what cold can mean to Miami teams. In 1951, the Hurricanes were supposed to play a close game with Kentucky at Lexington. But in 16-degree weather they were numbed 32-0.

The Miami squad will get to Philadelphia in time to work out Thursday and Friday in the Liberty Bowl.

With a tiger-tough defensive line that held enemy teams to an average of 92 yards running during the season, the Hurricanes might make the going rough for Davis. That would bring up the question: How strong is the Syracuse passing?

"They'll be very tough to the defense," says Gustafson's top assistant, Walt Kichefski, "because they pass off the run and every run could be a potential pass."

A Natural Resource Department spokesman also said Monday that a Petersburg man was wounded Saturday while standing on Spring Street in Petersburg. They said Lemont Hedrick was hit in the leg by a stray bullet from the rifle of an unknown hunter.

You-All, Me Eye

On the first play of the game, a Duke back, with a real Southern accent, was tackled hard by an Illini defender.

"Say, there, boy, that was a fine tackle you-all made!" "You-all, me eye," said the Illini, "I made it myself!"

Bowler Is Fined $100 For Grabbing Heckler

DALLAS (AP) — Carmen Salvino, star bowler of the Dallas Broncos, has been suspended for three days and fined $100, Commissioner Dick Charles announced Monday.

Charles said Salvino was disciplined after he went into the stands after a heckler at Fort Worth Sunday night.

The commissioner of the National Bowling League said Salvino "didn't physically hit him, but he grabbed him and gave him the business."

Ohio State Buckeyes Hold Top Ranking In UPI Basketball Poll

Three Cities Seek 8th Berth In NY-P League

New Team Will Replace Elmira

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — The president of the Class D New York - Pennsylvania League said Monday he would probably announce by the end of the week whether Warren and Bradford, Pa., or Hamilton, Ont., receive a baseball franchise as the loop's eighth team.

Vincent McNamara, NY-P president, said all three cities have expressed interest in replacing the Elmira, N.Y. team. Elmira returned to the Class A Eastern League recently.

A. J. Mullen, former president of the Hamilton Cardinals in the PONY League, forerunner of the NY-P, said last week his city would enter a team if a working agreement could be arranged with a major league club.

McNamara said Baltimore and the Chicago Cubs were interested in an affiliation with the Class D circuit. He said the Los Angeles Angels have abandoned plans to seek a working agreement.

Bradford is a city of 15,600 population and Warren's latest census figure is 14,505. Hamilton, with a population of 240,000, would be the largest city in the league.

Erie, Pa., Wellsville, Jamestown, Olean, Batavia, Geneva and Auburn, N.Y., have active franchises in the NY-P.

Giardello, Nucci Fight At Boston

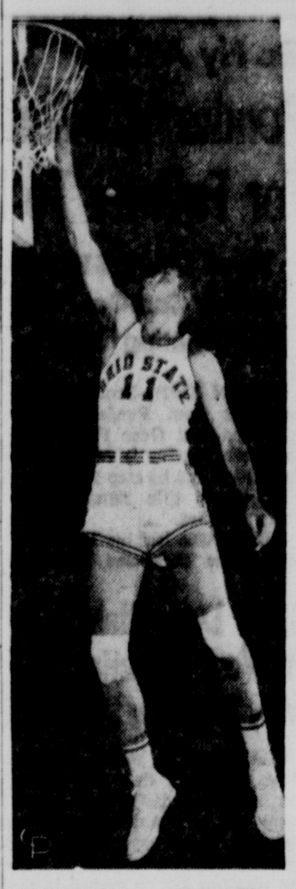

BOSTON (UPI) — A pair of middleweight Joes named De Nucci and Giardello tangle at Boston Garden Tuesday night in the 10-round feature of a boxing show expected to attract a $20,000 gate.

Promoter Sam Silverman matched local boy De Nucci, of Newton, Mass., with the well-travelled Giardello in the former's latest bid to go bigtime. The victor will claim shots at the current foursome which heads the division since Giardello is fifth-ranked in the division.

The odds were 8 to 5 on Giardello, a 31-year-old Philadelphian.

Bonus Cops Third Win At Pimlico

French Brings In Two Winners

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 11 (AP) — Gaining his third win of Pimlico's waning fall race meeting, Bonus returned $11.20, 5.20 and 3.20 in the $4,000 Havre de Grace Purse here today.

Temperatures were in the mid 40's an dthe skies overcast, threatening either rain or snow. But despite the unpleasantness of the weather, a crowd of 9,415 witnessed the program.

Bonus, owned by William E. Bridgeforth, turned the six furlongs over a "good" track in 1:12 3/5. He scored by a half-length over Mr. Egotist (6.20 and 3.80) with Poppy Jay (3.60) another two lengths away in third position.

Moon Shot was installed 3-2 favorite, but he failed to threaten at any stage while finishing fifth.

Bonus, ridden by Bill Stagmaier, moved boldly leaving the turn to overtake Mr. Egotist. But the later came on again in the final furlong to narrow the winner's margin in what was always a two-horse race.

Cincinnati's Bearcats Are Runners-Up

Bucks Selected On 26 Of 35 Ballots; Kansas State Third

By JOE SARGIS
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ohio State, named the nation's No. 1 major college basketball team every week of the season a year ago, held the top spot for the second straight week of the 1961-62 campaign Monday in the ratings by the United Press International coaches board.

q The magnificent Buckeyes, whose only loss last season was to Cincinnati in the NCAA finals, rolled over three straight opponents—Pittsburgh, Wichita, and Wake Forest—last week to gain the No. 1 spot on 26 of the 35 ballots cast by the UPI rating board. They were named second by the nine other coaches for a total of 341 points out of a possible 350.

Cincinnati, unbeaten in three games this season, again ran second to the Buckeyes, gaining eight first-place votes, 25 seconds and two thirds for 326 points. The Bearcats defeated Miami (Ohio) and Wisconsin last week.

Moves Up Notch

Kansas State, tied for fourth Providence a week ago, moved up a notch to third on the strength of victories over St. Louis and Indiana, while Providence held fourth by itself. Duke was fifth, Purdue Sixth, Southern California was seventh, Arizona State was eighth, West Virginia was ninth and Wake Forest, third last week, was 10th.

Wake Forest took the biggest drop of the week, while Duke, Furdue, Southern California, Arizona State and West Virginia all moved up a peg.

The second 10 was made up of St. John's (N.Y.) in 11th, followed by Utah, Dayton, Kentucky, St. Bonaventure, Wichita and St. Louis through 17th with Santa Clara and Seattle tied for 18th and Temple and Texas tech tied for 20th.

One Game On Tap

Ohio State, led by All-America Jerry Lucas, has only one game on tap this week—against Loyola (Ill.) on Saturday night—while Cincinnati played Drake Monday night and then tackles Marshall on Saturday.

Kansas State Plays Marquette on Saturday and 11th ranked St. John's (N.Y.) on Saturday: Providence meets Brown on Wednesday and San Francisco on Friday; Duke played Clemson Monday and then goes against North Carolina on Wednesday before starting play Friday in the Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh.

Purdue has only one game this week—against Butler Saturday — while Southern California plays Colorado State U. on Friday and Depauw on Saturday; Arizona State met Kansas Monday and plays New Mexico on Saturday; West Virginia meets Richmond Tuesday and Penn State on Saturday, and Wake Forest plays Florida on Tuesday, Virginia on Friday and Maryland on Saturday.

The Sports Patrol

United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) —Best of the bowl games? The Cotton Bowl at Dallas rates the honor this year with Texas and Mississippi signed, sealed and ready to deliver their bombs on New Year's Day.

The Sugar Bowl game produces national champion Alabama and the second best attraction of the day with Arkansas as the foe and Miami's Orange Bowl rates a close third with Louisiana State vs. Colorado.

For once, the Rose Bowl brings up the rear among the top post-season showdowns with Minnesota vs. UCLA, only a shade ahead of the talent lined up for the Gator, Liberty and Bluebonnet bowls.

The bowl talent is measured on the basis of final national rankings by the United Press International board of coaches. Add the ratings of the two teams involved and you get the picture.

Cotton Bowl Tops

Alabama (1) and Arkansas (8) give the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans a nine-point game by adding the ratings. The Cotton Bowl also has a nine pointer with Texas (4) and Mississippi (5) but Dallas also has the most evenly matched pair, one peg apart in the rankings, and thus rates as potentially the best of the bowls.

The Orange Bowl has a 10-point game with Louisiana State (3) and Colorado (7) while the Rose Bowl trails with Minnesota (6) and UCLA (21) for a total of 27.

In the Gator Bowl are Georgia Tech (13) and Penn State (19); the Liberty Bowl has Syracuse (16) and Miami (19); Bluebonnet has Kansas (15) and Rice (22).

The oddsmakers make Mississippi 2 points over Texas, Georgia Tech 2 over Penn State, Rice 1½ over Kansas, Syracuse 6 over Miami, Minnesota 8 over UCLA, Alabama 12½ over Arkansas, Louisiana State 13½ over Colorado.

Bowl customers in Dallas will see two of the top ground-gaining teams in the nation when the host team Texas, takes on Mississippi's mighty Rebels.

Each Lost One

Each lost only one of 10 games. Texas rolled up 25 or more points in every game except its one loser, a 6-0 shutout by Texas Christian. Mississippi hit 16 points or more in all except its 10-7 loss to LSU.

The Longhorns feature slick quarterbacking by Mike Cotten and the distance-running threat of Jimmy Saxton, who is called James by the folks out that way. Mississippi has a pair of nifty quarterbacks in its two-unit system—Doug Elmore and Glynn Griffing.

Alabama matches its stout defense and the pass-run abilities of quarterback Pat Trammell against the running threat of Lance Alworth. As the unbeaten national champ, Alabama obviously rates the edge the oddsmakers set up.

LSU is a solid team, unbeaten after dropping its opener to Rice, and is a heavy favorite since once beaten Colorado was upset by Utah, an outfit that didn't figure. However, Colorado has a fine passer in Gale Weidner and plenty of savvy to help him out at other positions.

Maybe all those bowl games will be nifties. But the folks with the best chance of seeing a whopper will be in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Ohio State Buckeyes Hold Top Ranking In UPI Basketball Poll

New Team Will Replace Elmira

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — The president of the Class D New York - Pennsylvania League said Monday he would probably announce by the end of the week whether Warren and Bradford, Pa., or Hamilton, Ont., receive a baseball franchise as the loop's eighth team.

Vincent McNamara, NY-P president, said all three cities have expressed interest in replacing the Elmira, N.Y. team. Elmira returned to the Class A Eastern League recently.

A. J. Mullen, former president of the Hamilton Cardinals in the PONY League, forerunner of the NY-P, said last week his city would enter a team if a working agreement could be arranged with a major league club.

McNamara said Baltimore and the Chicago Cubs were interested in an affiliation with the Class D circuit. He said the Los Angeles Angels have abandoned plans to seek a working agreement.

Bradford is a city of 15,600 population and Warren's latest census figure is 14,505. Hamilton, with a population of 240,000, would be the largest city in the league.

Erie, Pa., Wellsville, Jamestown, Olean, Batavia, Geneva and Auburn, N.Y., have active franchises in the NY-P.

Giardello, Nucci Fight At Boston

BOSTON (UPI) — A pair of middleweight Joes named De Nucci and Giardello tangle at Boston Garden Tuesday night in the 10-round feature of a boxing show expected to attract a $20,000 gate.

Promoter Sam Silverman matched local boy De Nucci, of Newton, Mass., with the well-travelled Giardello in the former's latest bid to go bigtime. The victor will claim shots at the current foursome which heads the division since Giardello is fifth-ranked in the division.

The odds were 8 to 5 on Giardello, a 31-year-old Philadelphian.

Bonus Cops Third Win At Pimlico

French Brings In Two Winners

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 11 (AP) — Gaining his third win of Pimlico's waning fall race meeting, Bonus returned $11.20, 5.20 and 3.20 in the $4,000 Havre de Grace Purse here today.

Temperatures were in the mid 40's an dthe skies overcast, threatening either rain or snow. But despite the unpleasantness of the weather, a crowd of 9,415 witnessed the program.

Bonus, owned by William E. Bridgeforth, turned the six furlongs over a "good" track in 1:12 3/5. He scored by a half-length over Mr. Egotist (6.20 and 3.80) with Poppy Jay (3.60) another two lengths away in third position.

Moon Shot was installed 3-2 favorite, but he failed to threaten at any stage while finishing fifth.

Bonus, ridden by Bill Stagmaier, moved boldly leaving the turn to overtake Mr. Egotist. But the later came on again in the final furlong to narrow the winner's margin in what was always a two-horse race.

The Sports Patrol

By STEVE SNIDER
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) —Best of the bowl games? The Cotton Bowl at Dallas rates the honor this year with Texas and Mississippi signed, sealed and ready to deliver their bombs on New Year's Day.

The Sugar Bowl game produces national champion Alabama and the second best attraction of the day with Arkansas as the foe and Miami's Orange Bowl rates a close third with Louisiana State vs. Colorado.

For once, the Rose Bowl brings up the rear among the top post-season showdowns with Minnesota vs. UCLA, only a shade ahead of the talent lined up for the Gator, Liberty and Bluebonnet bowls.

The bowl talent is measured on the basis of final national rankings by the United Press International board of coaches. Add the ratings of the two teams involved and you get the picture.

Cotton Bowl Tops

Alabama (1) and Arkansas (8) give the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans a nine-point game by adding the ratings. The Cotton Bowl also has a nine pointer with Texas (4) and Mississippi (5) but Dallas also has the most evenly matched pair, one peg apart in the rankings, and thus rates as potentially the best of the bowls.

The Orange Bowl has a 10-point game with Louisiana State (3) and Colorado (7) while the Rose Bowl trails with Minnesota (6) and UCLA (21) for a total of 27.

In the Gator Bowl are Georgia Tech (13) and Penn State (19); the Liberty Bowl has Syracuse (16) and Miami (19); Bluebonnet has Kansas (15) and Rice (22).

The oddsmakers make Mississippi 2 points over Texas, Georgia Tech 2 over Penn State, Rice 1½ over Kansas, Syracuse 6 over Miami, Minnesota 8 over UCLA, Alabama 12½ over Arkansas, Louisiana State 13½ over Colorado.

Bowl customers in Dallas will see two of the top ground-gaining teams in the nation when the host team Texas, takes on Mississippi's mighty Rebels.

Each Lost One

Each lost only one of 10 games. Texas rolled up 25 or more points in every game except its one loser, a 6-0 shutout by Texas Christian. Mississippi hit 16 points or more in all except its 10-7 loss to LSU.

The Longhorns feature slick quarterbacking by Mike Cotten and the distance-running threat of Jimmy Saxton, who is called James by the folks out that way. Mississippi has a pair of nifty quarterbacks in its two-unit system—Doug Elmore and Glynn Griffing.

Alabama matches its stout defense and the pass-run abilities of quarterback Pat Trammell against the running threat of Lance Alworth. As the unbeaten national champ, Alabama obviously rates the edge the oddsmakers set up.

LSU is a solid team, unbeaten after dropping its opener to Rice, and is a heavy favorite since once beaten Colorado was upset by Utah, an outfit that didn't figure. However, Colorado has a fine passer in Gale Weidner and plenty of savvy to help him out at other positions.

Maybe all those bowl games will be nifties. But the folks with the best chance of seeing a whopper will be in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Cincinnati's Bearcats Are Runners-Up

Bucks Selected On 26 Of 35 Ballots; Kansas State Third

By JOE SARGIS
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ohio State, named the nation's No. 1 major college basketball team every week of the season a year ago, held the top spot for the second straight week of the 1961-62 campaign Monday in the ratings by the United Press International coaches board.

q The magnificent Buckeyes, whose only loss last season was to Cincinnati in the NCAA finals, rolled over three straight opponents—Pittsburgh, Wichita, and Wake Forest—last week to gain the No. 1 spot on 26 of the 35 ballots cast by the UPI rating board. They were named second by the nine other coaches for a total of 341 points out of a possible 350.

Cincinnati, unbeaten in three games this season, again ran second to the Buckeyes, gaining eight first-place votes, 25 seconds and two thirds for 326 points. The Bearcats defeated Miami (Ohio) and Wisconsin last week.

Moves Up Notch

Kansas State, tied for fourth Providence a week ago, moved up a notch to third on the strength of victories over St. Louis and Indiana, while Providence held fourth by itself. Duke was fifth, Purdue Sixth, Southern California was seventh, Arizona State was eighth, West Virginia was ninth and Wake Forest, third last week, was 10th.

Wake Forest took the biggest drop of the week, while Duke, Purdue, Southern California, Arizona State and West Virginia all moved up a peg.

The second 10 was made up of St. John's (N.Y.) in 11th, followed by Utah, Dayton, Kentucky, St. Bonaventure, Wichita and St. Louis through 17th with Santa Clara and Seattle tied for 18th and Temple and Texas tech tied for 20th.

One Game On Tap

Ohio State, led by All-America Jerry Lucas, has only one game on tap this week—against Loyola (Ill.) on Saturday night—while Cincinnati played Drake Monday night and then tackles Marshall on Saturday.

Kansas State Plays Marquette on Saturday and 11th ranked St. John's (N.Y.) on Saturday; Providence meets Brown on Wednesday and San Francisco on Friday; Duke played Clemson Monday and then goes against North Carolina on Wednesday before starting play Friday in the Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh.

Purdue has only one game this week—against Butler Saturday — while Southern California plays Colorado State U. on Friday and Depauw on Saturday; Arizona State met Kansas Monday and plays New Mexico on Saturday; West Virginia meets Richmond Tuesday and Penn State on Saturday, and Wake Forest plays Florida on Tuesday, Virginia on Friday and Maryland on Saturday.

Market Scores Advance On Fairly Heavy Volume

NEW YORK (UPI)—Moderate but widespread gains for a variety of stocks gave the popular market indicators a healthy lift on fairly heavy turnover Monday.

Sales volume swelled to 4,360,000 shares from 4,010,000 last Friday. With a broad total of 1,338 issues traded, 583 advanced, 66 to new highs, and 519 declined, 14 to new lows.

Standard & Poor's comprehensive 500 stock index closed at an all-time high of 72.39 on a gain of 0.35, indicating that roughly $2.2 billion was added to paper values during the course of trading.

Dow-Jones industrials scored a gain of 4.33, and finished less than 2 points below its record close at 732.56. Features among the issues in the average were Woolworth up 2¼, American Telephone up 1¾, American Tobacco up 2, Chrysler up 1⅞, Eastman Kodak up 1⅛, General Foods off 1, International Harvester up 1, Johns-Manville up 1, Standard Oil (N.J.) up 1, and Texaco off 1⅛.

The DJ rail component showed a loss of .023 despite a rise of 1⅛ in C&O. Utilities gained 1.10 with Houston Lighting ahead 4½ and People's Gas up 2⅛, trading ex-dividend.

Royal Dutch ranked as the market's most active issue, climbing 1⅜ points on 93,300 shares.

Market Scores Advance On Fairly Heavy Volume

NEW YORK (UPI)—Moderate but widespread gains for a variety of stocks gave the popular market indicators a healthy lift on fairly heavy turnover Monday.

Sales volume swelled to 4,360,000 shares from 4,010,000 last Friday. With a broad total of 1,338 issues traded, 583 advanced, 66 to new highs, and 519 declined, 14 to new lows.

Standard & Poor's comprehensive 500 stock index closed at an all-time high of 72.39 on a gain of 0.35, indicating that roughly $2.2 billion was added to paper values during the course of trading.

Dow-Jones industrials scored a gain of 4.33, and finished less than 2 points below its record close at 732.56. Features among the issues in the average were Woolworth up 2¼, American Telephone up 1¾, American Tobacco up 2, Chrysler up 1⅞, Eastman Kodak up 1⅛, General Foods off 1, International Harvester up 1, Johns-Manville up 1, Standard Oil (N.J.) up 1, and Texaco off 1⅛.

The DJ rail component showed a loss of .023 despite a rise of 1⅛ in C&O. Utilities gained 1.10 with Houston Lighting ahead 4½ and People's Gas up 2⅛, trading ex-dividend.

Royal Dutch ranked as the market's most active issue, climbing 1⅜ points on 93,300 shares.

Cards of Thanks

We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere thanks and appreciation to all friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind and helpful during the death of our dear wife and mother, Sarah Elizabeth Taylor. We also wish to thank all who sent flowers an dfood or helped in any way. We wish to thank Elder Jackson and President Heaton for their words of comfort and inspiration and the Sisters who sang. May the Lord bless each of you for your kindness
John M. Taylor (husband) and daughters

In Memoriam

In memory of Francis D. Norton who passed away 9 years ago December 12th, 1952.
God took him home, it was his will,
But in our hearts we love him still.
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.
Sadly missed by loving Wife, Daughters, and son.

Her smiling way and pleasant face are a pleasure to recall.
She had a kindly word for each and died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet her,
someday we know not when.
To clasp her hand in a better land.
Never to part again.
Sadly missed by,
Husband, Daughter, Son and Grandchildren

In memory of our son, Elmer E. (Sonny) Seiler, Jr., killed in England, December 12, 1959.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear,
Too far away for sound of speed,
But not too far for thoughts to reach.
Sadly missed by his Mother, Father, Sisters & Brothers

In loving memory of our dear one, George H. Layman, who went away December 12, 1952.
Loved in life, in death rembered,
Real loneliness brings sorrow
One love, one life, one hope,
Some glad tomorrow.
Very lonely wife,
Maggie Layman

Cards of Thanks

We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere thanks and appreciation to all friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind and helpful during the death of our dear wife and mother, Sarah Elizabeth Taylor. We also wish to thank all who sent flowers an dfood or helped in any way. We wish to thank Elder Jackson and President Heaton for their words of comfort and inspiration and the Sisters who sang. May the Lord bless each of you for your kindness
John M. Taylor (husband) and daughters

In Memoriam

In memory of Francis D. Norton who passed away 9 years ago December 12th, 1952.
God took him home, it was his will,
But in our hearts we love him still.
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone.
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.
Sadly missed by loving Wife, Daughters, and son.

In loving memory of my wife Alice Lee Swartley who died 4 years ago today.
Her smiling way and pleasant face are a pleasure to recall.
She had a kindly word for each and died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet her, someday we know not when.
To clasp her hand in a better land.
Never to part again.
Sadly missed by,
Husband, Daughter, Son and Grandchildren

In memory of our son, Elmer E. (Sonny) Seiler, Jr., killed in England, December 12, 1959.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear,
Too far away for sound of speed,
But not too far for thoughts to reach.
Sadly missed by his Mother, Father, Sisters & Brothers

In loving memory of our dear one, George H. Layman, who went away December 12, 1952.
Loved in life, in death rembered.
Real loneliness brings sorrow.
One love, one life, one hope,
Some glad tomorrow.
Very lonely wife,
Maggie Layman

In The Matter of The Adoption of Robert Charles Pyles and Phyllis Louise Pyles, infants, by Arnold Michael Arnone and Mary Virginia Arnone, his wife. P. O. Box 116, LaVale, Maryland, vs. Robert Franklin Pyles, 400 North Port Street, Baltimore 24, Maryland. No. 336 Adoption Docket. In The Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure the adoption of Robert Charles Pyles and Phyllis Louise Pyles, infants.

The Bill of Complaint states that the Petitioners are husband and wife, having been married in Allegany County, on December 9, 1950, and have lived in Allegany County since said marriage, and presently reside at 922 National Highway, LaVale, Maryland; that Arnold Michael Arnone is Assistant Manager of Tri-State Discount Company and Mary Virginia Arnone is a housewife; that Robert Charles Pyles and Phyllis Louise Pyles, infants, were born on December 1, 1958, in Baltimore, Maryland, and being the children of Robert Franklin Pyles and Phyllis Angela Pyles, his wife, who were subsequently divorced; that the custody of said children was awarded unto Robert Franklin Pyles, who was charged with their support and maintenance, with the right reserved unto Phyllis Angela Pyles, mother, to visit said children at reasonable times; that Robert Franklin Pyles, father of said children, retained the children in his custody until the month of March, 1961, at which time he took the children to his parents home in Fort Ashby, West Virginia, where the children were maintained until on or about June 25, 1961, at which time the mother of Robert Franklin Pyles delivered the custody of said children unto Phyllis Angela Pyles, and that the said mother of the children gave custody of the said children to your Petitioners on or about July 6, 1961; that the parents of the children are caucasians and that your Petitioners are caucasians and members of the Roman Catholic faith; that the Petitioners have no children of their own; that they desire to adopt the children; and are well able to support them; maintain, and educate the said children; and desire to change the names of the children from Robert Charles Pyles to Robert Charles Arnone and Phyllis Louise Pyles to Phyllis Louise Arnone, and avers that it would be for the best interest of the children that the adoption be granted as prayed.

It is, thereupon, this 17th day of November, 1961, ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, that the Complainants, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 18th day of December, 1961, giving notice to the said absent Respondent of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint, warning him to appear in this Court, in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 19th day of January, 1962, to show cause, if any he have, why Decree ought not to be passed herein as prayed.

City Gets Bids On Fuel, Oils

Each company listed wholesale prices, quoted discounts and excluded state and federal taxes in the quotations.

Bidding were Cumberland Oil Company (Shell); Texaco, Inc.; Independent Motor Fuel Supply (Sinclair), this city; Humble Oil and Refining Company, Eastern Esso Region; Atlantic Refining Company; and Sinclair of Baltimore.

Bids were referred to Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder for tabulation and report.

Queen City Electric Company and Sterling Electric Company submitted bids for the rewiring of City Hall and the City Hall Annex. The bids were referred to Street Commissioner John J. Long and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum for study and recommendation.

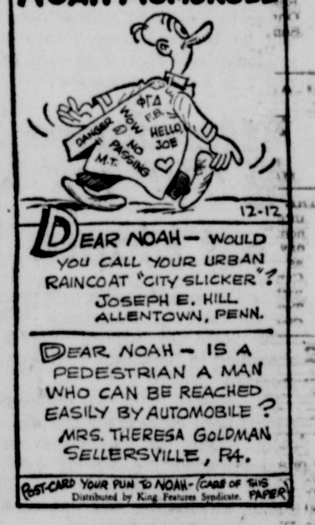

Exhaustive studies of the effects of unpleasant noises on human beings conducted at England's National Physical Laboratory disclose the surprising fact that you needn't go any farther than your own kitchen to hear the world's most annoying sound: the scraping of a knife against a saucepan!

In The Matter of The Adoption of Robert Charles Pyles and Phyllis Louise Pyles, infants, by Arnold Michael Arnone and Mary Virginia Arnone, his wife. P. O. Box 116, LaVale, Maryland, vs. Robert Franklin Pyles, 400 North Port Street, Baltimore 24, Maryland. No. 336 Adoption Docket. In The Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure the adoption of Robert Charles Pyles and Phyllis Louise Pyles, infants.

The Bill of Complaint states that the Petitioners are husband and wife, having been married in Allegany County, on December 9, 1950, and have lived in Allegany County since said marriage, and presently reside at 922 National Highway, LaVale, Maryland; that Arnold Michael Arnone is Assistant Manager of Tri-State Discount Company and Mary Virginia Arnone is a housewife; that Robert Charles Pyles and Phyllis Louise Pyles, infants, were born on December 1, 1958, in Baltimore, Maryland, and being the children of Robert Franklin Pyles and Phyllis Angela Pyles, his wife, who were subsequently divorced; that the custody of said children was awarded unto Robert Franklin Pyles, who was charged with their support and maintenance, with the right reserved unto Phyllis Angela Pyles, mother, to visit said children at reasonable times; that Robert Franklin Pyles, father of said children, retained the children in his custody until the month of March, 1961, at which time he took the children to his parents home in Fort Ashby, West Virginia, where the children were maintained until on or about June 25, 1961, at which time the mother of Robert Franklin Pyles delivered the custody of said children unto Phyllis Angela Pyles, and that the said mother of the children gave custody of the said children to your Petitioners on or about July 6, 1961; that the parents of the children are caucasians and that your Petitioners are caucasians and members of the Roman Catholic faith; that the Petitioners have no children of their own; that they desire to adopt the children; and are well able to support them; maintain, and educate the said children; and desire to change the names of the children from Robert Charles Pyles to Robert Charles Arnone and Phyllis Louise Pyles to Phyllis Louise Arnone, and avers that it would be for the best interest of the children that the adoption be granted as prayed.

It is, thereupon, this 17th day of November, 1961, ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, that the Complainants, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the 18th day of December, 1961, giving notice to the said absent Respondent of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint, warning him to appear in this Court, in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 19th day of January, 1962, to show cause, if any he have, why Decree ought not to be passed herein as prayed.

City Gets Bids On Fuel, Oils

Each company listed wholesale prices, quoted discounts and excluded state and federal taxes in the quotations.

Bidding were Cumberland Oil Company (Shell); Texaco, Inc.; Independent Motor Fuel Supply (Sinclair), this city; Humble Oil and Refining Company, Eastern Esso Region; Atlantic Refining Company; and Sinclair of Baltimore.

Bids were referred to Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder for tabulation and report.

Queen City Electric Company and Sterling Electric Company submitted bids for the rewiring of City Hall and the City Hall Annex. The bids were referred to Street Commissioner John J. Long and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum for study and recommendation.

Exhaustive studies of the effects of unpleasant noises on human beings conducted at England's National Physical Laboratory disclose the surprising fact that you needn't go any farther than your own kitchen to hear the world's most annoying sound: the scraping of a knife against a saucepan!

Eckhart Man Dies Of Injuries In Hospital

Bernard Byrnes Is Crash Victim

Bernard D. Byrnes, 39, of Eckhart, died about 1:45 p. m. yesterday in Miners Hospital, Frostburg, as a result of injuries sustained in a one-car accident Sunday night on the New Germany Road in Garrett County.

The driver of the car, Robert S. Bowser, 25, also of Eckhart, suffered abrasions of the hands and face and was treated at the hospital.

Tfc. Joseph V. Stakem, who is investigating the accident which occurred about 9 p. m. Sunday, said it happened on the New Germany Road about six miles from Grantsville.

Questioning Planned

The driver, he added, will be questioned and is expected to be taken to the state's attorney's office in Oakland for further action. No charge has been placed against the driver, said Trooper Stakem.

The car was traveling along the wet highway on a slight curve when the driver lost control of the vehicle, went off onto the right shoulder, which was snow-covered, and continued about 200 feet before ramming into a tree.

A passerby called the Newman Funeral Home in Grantsville and an ambulance was sent to the scene to take the two men to the hospital.

No Other Traffic

Police said there was no other traffic in the immediate vicinity at the time of the accident.

Mr. Byrnes was a member of St. Michael's Catholic Church in Frostburg.

Besides his parents, Bernard J. and Loretta (Maher) Byrnes, he is survived by three brothers, John Byrnes, at home; William J. Byrnes, Frostburg; and Thomas Byrnes, Falls Church, Va.

The body is at Hafer's Funeral Home in Frostburg where friends will be received from 7 to 9 p. m. today and from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m. tomorrow.

Hospital Staff Elects Officers

Dr. Lewis Brings, center, yesterday was elected president of the medical staff of Sacred Heart Hospital. Dr. William P. Iames, right, was elected vice president, and Dr. L. Michael Glick, left, was named secretary. The post of treasurer, an appointive office, will be announced later. Some 48 physicians, surgeons and dentists attended the meeting. The association announced that starting in 1962, monthly meetings will be held on Tuesdays instead of Mondays.

Participation In World's Fair By State Urged

Economic Group Supports Action

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's Department of Economic Development recommended Monday that the state participate in the New York World's Fair, which opens in April, 1964.

William Pate, deputy director of the department, told a meeting of the State Board of Public Works that plans call for construction on the New York site of a restaurant costing between $320,000 and $633,000.

He recommended against Maryland joining with one or several other state in a regional display at the event, which is scheduled to extend until October of its opening year and run for a comparable period the following year.

"Maryland should go in alone," Pate told the board.

New Jersey and Delaware already have plans of their own and a joint exhibition with Pennsylvania would result in Maryland's being overshadowed, he said later.

Pate said economic geography seemed to render a joint Maryland-District of Columbia entry impractical.

Gov. Tawes said the department should compile a list of business, industrial and farm interests whose views would be solicited before any action is taken.

He told the board that Eastern Shore seafood and poultry interests and the state's tobacco growers, among others, might be interested.

Pate said after the meeting that a Maryland-sponsored restaurant would serve to attract tourists to the state.

The eating place would offer one of the state's outstanding products — its food — and save Maryland from becoming overshadowed by exhibits from states with larger economies.

Some 30 million persons are expected to attend the fair in 1964 and 1965, he said.

Oldtown High Graduate Helps Write Book On Food

A graduate of Oldtown High School, who is now a doctor of philosophy and assistant professor in the Department of Horticulture at the University of Maryland, has corroborated in publishing a book entitled "Fundamentals of Quality Control in the Food Industry."

He is Bernard A. Twigg, who compiled the 18 chapter book in cooperation with Amihud Kramer, Ph.D., professor in the same department at the university.

Joseph M. Steger, who is Allegany County farm agent, said Dr. Twigg was a member of the Oldtown 4-H Club about 1943, when he was assistant farm agent in charge of 4-H Club work.

In the book, which contains about 400 pages, the subject of quality control is considered in the broad sense, including not only measurement, but also the reporting and decision making functions.

Since food quality is ultimately judged by the human consumer, this material in the book is organized in accordance with the human senses involved.

In the volume, the fundamental principles have been outlined rather than details of procedures presented. Liberal use has been made of examples taken from actual practice.

The book was published by the Avi Publishing Company, Inc., Westport, Conn., publishers of books for the food industry.

Two of Twigg's brothers, Roy and James, farm in the Walnut Ridge area near Oldtown. A sister, Miss Mabel Twigg, teaches at Oldtown School.

HARRY F. DIXON

WM Foreman Dies Suddenly While At Work

Harry F. Dixon, 58, road foreman of engines for the Western Maryland Railway, died suddenly yesterday while at work. He resided at 696 Fayette Street.

Mr. Dixon had been employed by the Western Maryland Railway for 35 years and had resided in Cumberland the past 20 years.

He was a native of Jennings, W. Va., and was a member of Central Methodist Church; Lodge 63, B. P. O. Elks, and the American Association of Railroad Superintendents.

Surviving are his widow, Jessie (Hall) Dixon; two sons, Clarke Dixon, Tulsa, Okla., and Frederick Dixon, Baton Rouge, La.; three daughters, Mrs. Willard Lewis, New Berlin, N. Y., and Mrs. John E. Mertens and Mrs. Bashor A. Cross Jr., both of this city; four brothers, Ray T., Charleston, W. Va.; John, Orrville, Ohio,; Gale, Los Angeles, Calif., and Blake H. Dixon, California; two sisters, Mrs. Harry Fast, Penny Farms, Fla., and Mrs. G. C. Starbuck, Arlington, Va., and 10 grandchildren.

The body is at the Kight Funeral Home where the family will receive friends from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

Snowfall Halts Road Projects In This Area

Garrett County Job Completed

The snowstorm which blew into Western Maryland over the weekend brought an almost compicte end to highway construction until spring.

A great deal of progress was made, however, during the closing weeks of the 1961 road construction season, according to John D. Bushby, District 6 engineer for the State Roads Commission.

Completed on November 30 was the improvement of Route 219 in Garrett County by the George F. Hazelwood Company.

At least 99 per cent complete was the modernization of U. S. 40 from the top of Martin Mountain to a point near the Johnson Road at the foot of the western slope.

Only a few minor tasks remained of the 3.9 mile Martin Mountain contract awarded to the S. J. Groves Company

Another Garrett County project, a Route 42 contract awarded to the Baughman Contracting Company, has been shut down for the winter.

The Groves firm, engaged in modernizing Route 40 on the east slope of Polish Mountain, has received permission from the SRC to shut the job down except for winter maintenance.

Shut down yesterday was the Hazelwood firm's contract on Route 40 between Town Hill Mountain and Sideling Hill Mountain.

Mr. Bushby said, however, that the firm has not officially asked the SRC to shut the job down, and that it is possible it may want to continue some work if weather conditions permit.

When highway jobs are shut down for the winter, contractors are required to perform work needed to maintain traffic and to control drainage.

Exam Is Asked On Postmaster In Westernport

Democrats Planning Dinner In March

The Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee went on record yesterday to request the United States Post Office Department, to conduct an open competitive Civil Service examination for the postmaster vacancy in Westernport.

Russell W. McBee, assistant postmaster at Westernport for a number of years, has been serving as acting postmaster since early this year when the former postmaster retired.

Motion for this open examination was made by F. Allan Weatherholt, vice chairman of the committee, and seconded by John R. Kelly, a committee member. The action was unanimous, according to William L. Wilson, chairman, who presided.

The committee also discussed a vacancy for a magistrate at Oldtown, created by the death of Magistrate Ned Hose. It was agreed that a recommendation on this appointment would not be made until after January 1, to give those interested a chance to contact committee members and make application. Three applications haye been received, Mr. Wilson said.

The committee decided to hold a Jefferson-Jackson dinner about the second or third week in March. A nationally prominent speaker will be obtained and all state and county candidates are to be invited. The committee agreed that the affair should be held after the final date for filing as candidates and prior to the Primary, so that all party candidates would have an equal opportunity to appear at the dinner.

In another action, the committee appointed Milton Gerson as party treasurer and William B. Orndorff as chairman of the party's county finance committee. Mr. Gerson is attorney and member of the County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners. Mr. Orndorff is county tax collector.

Ambulance In Crash; No One Hurt

An ambulance of the McDonald Ambulance Service here, which was on a call to the Bedford Road area, yesterday was involved in an accident at the intersection of South Centre and Salem streets. No one was injured.

Police Officer Clarence Valentine said Charles McDonald was driving the ambulance north on Centre Street when a car driven by a 16-year-old Cresaptown youth pulled out of Salem Street resulting in the collision about 4:50 p. m.

Officer Valentine indicated the youth would be charged with failure to grant the right of way to an emergency vehicle.

Mr. McDonald said the ambulance will be back in service today. Meanwhile a second ambulance was in readiness for any emergency calls last night.

He explained that a third ambulance is expetced to be put into service in the near future.

Fleming Asks Correction Of Traffic Hazard

Police Commissioner Philmore Fleming yesterday requested City Engineer C. R. Nuzum to investigate the possibility of correcting a traffic hazard at the intersection of Valley and Walnut streets.

Mr. Fleming asked the city engineer to see if the street could be straightened at that point to make it easier for vehicles to pass.

He said he believed the hazard could be corrected at minimum cost.

After investigating, Mr. Nuzum said the situation could be corrected at a cost of less than $100 by cutting down the curb around a city park area at that point.

He said traffic going south on Valley Street toward Henderson Avenue has been running over the curb of the park area to escape oncoming traffic.

He added that cutting the curb back two feet would provide sufficient space for easy passing.

Shopping Area Lease Signed By Woolworth

Ground Breaking Slated Next Year

A 20-year lease between the Cumberland Shopping Center Inc., which is planning a park-and-shop plaza at Winchester and Vocke roads, and the F. W. Woolworth Company, was filed yesterday in the land records office at the Allegany County Court House.

The lease is apparently the first to be filed in conjunction with the new shopping center which is expected to have its ground breaking in February or March next year.

Last summer H. K. Duffield, vice president in charge of the eastern territory of Sears, Roebuck and Company, announced plans for the firm's new store which will be the focal point in the shopping center about five miles from downtown Cumberland.

Sears store will be the largest store in the center which will be constructed by Buildrers and Developers Corporation of Washington. D. C.

The new store will house some 30 seperate merchandising departments ranging from men and women's fashions to home appliances.

It is planned that the park-and-shop plaza will be ready for occupancy about one year after ground broken.

The lease which was signed by H. J. Cook, vice-president of Woolworth, and James Juliano for the center, will end January 31, 1982.

The tenant was granted five successive options to extend the term of the lease for any period of time not exceeding five years for each option.

Toy Distribution Set This Week By CUF Agency

Up to 10,000 toys will be distributed this week by the Associated Charities.

Letters have been sent to nearly 200 families of the Cumberland area, asking parents to come in at appointed times to select toys which their children might want for Christmas.

The CUF agency, as usual, will try to supply one large and a number of small toys for each child.

The toys are being distributed from the agency's Toyland at 11 Frederick Street, which is overflowing with new or salvaged toys collected or made by dozens of organizations and hundreds of individuals.

Injuries Fatal To Everett Boy

Michael C. Cogan, nine, of RFD 2, Everett, Pa., died Saturday of injuries he received when he was struck by a car Friday evening on Pennsylvania Route 26.

The youngster was taken to Bedford County Memorial Hospital following the accident and later was removed to Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh, where he died of internal injuries.

Case Continued In Knife Incident

The case against Charles Pope, of 309 Central Avenue, who has been charged with assault in the knifing of another local man, has been continued until next Monday.

Pope was charged by City Police with cutting Joseph Mann, 38, of 435 Pine Avenue, following an argument at a local bar Saturday evening.

Meeting Postponed

The meeting of the Methodist Men's Club of Central Methodist Church, scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until December 19, at 6:30, because of the death of F. H. Dixon.

Attendance At "Y" Up Last Month

For the second month in a row, an increase in attendance has been noted at Central YMCA, according to Benjamin F. Haines, program director.

Mr. Haines said 52 different groups used classrooms and clubrooms during last month with the total attendance exceeding 4,400.

This is the second straight month attendance has exceeded any other previous month.

Ronald Riggs, physical instructor, said 5,587 persons, used the physical facilities. This was an increase of 25 per cent over the month of October and a 12 per cent increase for the same month last year.

Mr. Haines announced membership for the entire year will exceed the 2,000 mark this month.

Bridge Club Plans Christmas Party

The Recreation Bridge Club, which meets weekly at the Girl Scout House on Greene Street, will hold its annual Christmas party Wednesday at 8 p. m., according to Miss Christine Alderton.

Refreshments will be served by the refreshment committee, Mrs. Jean Cioni and Mrs. Ruth Langham. The evening will be spent playing contract bridge with prizes being awarded. This will be the last meeting until January 3.

The club is sponsored by the Recreation Department and is made up mainly of people who have completed the Goren point system bridge lessons given by the Recreation Department. Anyone wishing to join the club may do so by calling the president or by contacting the Recreation Department.

The meeting will begin at 8:30 p. m. and the fun night program will be under the auspices of Joseph Soethe, faithful captain.

WTBO Power Increase In Daytime Proposed

The Federal Communications Commission in Washington yesterday proposed that radio station WTBO in Cumberland be authorized to increase its daytime power, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

The proposal calls for a boost from 250 watts to one kilowatt.

Damage Suit Filed By Local Resident

Charles W. Neil, 705 Virginia Avenue, through his attorneys, has filed a damage suit in Allegany County Circuit Court as a result of injuries he allegedly sustained when hit by a car on Virginia Avenue.

The suit was filed against Leon A. Jones of 325 Frederick Street, who was reported as driver of the car which hit the plaintiff on December 12, 1958, as he was crossing the avenue.

Lakes Are Down

Water consumption last week averaged 11,090,000 gallons daily, a decrease from last year's 12,197,000 gallons. Lake Gordon was down 5½ feet on Sunday, and Lake Koon was 20 feet below the spillway.

Meeting Cancelled

The December meeting of the Upper Potomac Industrial Development Company, planned for today, has been cancelled because of the County United Fund Honor Award dinner.

Veterans Plan Yule Party At VA Center

The Area Veterans Group which is composed of organizations of Ridgeley, Keyser, McCoole and Lonaconing, will hold a Christmas party Sunday for patients in the Newton D. Baker VA Center, Martinsburg, W. Va.

The various organizations will meet at the Center at 2 p. m. and will provide refreshments and cigarets for the patients of this area.

A highlight of the afternoon program will be entertainment by the Dixettes of a local dance studio.

Planning to attend are members of the American Legion in Ridgeley; American Legion and 40-8 in Keyser; VFW and Cooties of McCoole and the American Legion and VFW in Lonaconing. Auxiliary members will also attend.

DOWNTOWN STORES OPEN THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY, UNTIL 9 P. M.

Club Launches Safety Belt Drive

Four Courses In Languages

Four different language courses will be offered at Central YMCA starting in January, according to Banjamin F. Haines, program director.

Mr. Haines said Miss Felina Ferragut is presently teaching adults and children in conversational Spanish and she will instruct another adult Spanish class for adults next month.

Mrs. Douglas Paulsen will begin a new French class next month, and Dr. Myron Simpson, science Instructor at Allegany Community College, will teach a course in German.

John R. Michalec, Masontown, Pa., will conduct a course in Russian. Mr. Michalec is a representative of the Rochester Germicide Company and is a graduate of West Virginia University. He will teach the course under the auspices of John Puckarsh, Russian instructor at West Virginia University.

Mr. Haines said all the language classes will be conducted for a period of approximately 10 weeks, and all classes are scheduled to start the third week in January.

Persons interested in taking any of the course should contact Mr. Haines at Central YMCA.

Petition, Appeal Filed In Court

A local brewery worker has filed a petition and appeal in Allegany County Circuit Court from a decision of the Board of Appeals of the Maryland Department of Employment Security.

John Taylor filed the papers against the Board of Appeals and the Cumberland Brewing Company contending that the decision of the referee of the Board was not based on the law and finding of facts.

The petitioner prays that the court review the proceedings. He is represented by John C. Sullivan and Peter J. Carpenti.

River Bend Dam Plans Discussed

Opposition to the proposed River Bend dam on the Potomac River a short distance upstream from Great Falls, voiced at the recent series of public meetings concerning plans for the conservation and development of the Potomac's water resources, prompted editorial comment in the Baltimore Sunday Sun.

The editorial said in part as follows:

"The River Bend project would flood a long stretch of the Potomac Valley, it is true. The impounded water would extend well above Point of Rocks in Frederick County. A long strip of the old Chesapeake and Ohio Canal would be submerged. A seven-mile section of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's right of way would have to be moved. Many farms and much land with relatively high development potential would be flooded. And the undertaking would be costly. There is, however, another side to the case.

"In a highly regarded report prepared four years ago for the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin it was stated without reservation that the dam at River Bend would have to be built to provide metropolitan Washington with an ample water supply and to meet the increasingly serious problem of silt in the Potomac at Washington. Obviously something will have to give — either the considered judgement of objective experts or the opposition of a segment of the public which does not want a section of the Potomac Valley flooded. The initial step towards this decision rests with the Corps of Engineers."

Dimes Discovered After Snow Melts

Two men "struck it rich" on Baltimore Street early yesterday afternoon and gathered up quite a few dimes lying in the street.

The coins apparently had been dropped by someone during the snowstorm Saturday and when it melted the dimes were visible.

About 12 or 14 coins were collected around 12:45 p. m. yesterday as the two men dodged traffic between Mechanic and Canal Street to retrieve the dimes.

Local 1874 Plans Christmas Party

Celanese Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, will hold its annual Christmas party for the children Saturday at 10 a. m. in the union hall at 418 North Centre Street.

Invited to attend the party are children of all members of the union.

Eckhart Man Dies Of Injuries In Hospital

Bernard Byrnes Is Crash Victim

Bernard D. Byrnes, 39, of Eckhart, died about 1:45 p. m. yesterday in Miners Hospital, Frostburg, as a result of injuries sustained in a one-car accident Sunday night on the New Germany Road in Garrett County.

The driver of the car, Robert S. Bowser, 25, also of Eckhart, suffered abrasions of the hands and face and was treated at the hospital.

Tfc. Joseph V. Stakem, who is investigating the accident which occurred about 9 p. m. Sunday, said it happened on the New Germany Road about six miles from Grantsville.

Questioning Planned

The driver, he added, will be questioned and is expected to be taken to the state's attorney's office in Oakland for further action. No charge has been placed against the driver, said Trooper Stakem.

The victim who was admitted to the hospital in critical condition suffered a fractured skull and severe lacerations of the head.

The car was traveling along the wet highway on a slight curve when the driver lost control of the vehicle, went off onto the right shoulder, which was snow-covered, and continued about 200 feet before ramming into a tree.

A passerby called the Newman Funeral Home in Grantsville and an ambulance was sent to the scene to take the two men to the hospital.

No Other Traffic

Police said there was no other traffic in the immediate vicinity at the time of the accident.

Mr. Byrnes was a member of St. Michael's Catholic Church in Frostburg.

Besides his parents, Bernard J. and Loretta (Maher) Byrnes, he is survived by three brothers, John Byrnes, at home; William J. Byrnes, Frostburg; and Thomas Byrnes, Falls Church, Va.

The body is at Hafer's Funeral Home in Frostburg where friends will be received from 7 to 9 p. m. today and from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m. tomorrow.

Hospital Staff Elects Officers

Dr. Lewis Brings, center, yesterday was elected president of the medical staff of Sacred Heart Hospital. Dr. William P. Iames, right, was elected vice president, and Dr. L. Michael Glick, left, was named secretary. The post of treasurer, an appointive office, will be announced later. Some 48 physicians, surgeons and dentists attended the meeting. The association announced that starting in 1962, monthly meetings will be held on Tuesdays instead of Mondays.

Participation In World's Fair By State Urged

Economic Group Supports Action

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's Department of Economic Development recommended Monday that the state participate in the New York World's Fair, which opens in April, 1964.

William Pate, deputy director of the department, told a meeting of the State Board of Public Works that plans call for construction on the New York site of a restaurant costing between $320,000 and $633,000.

He recommended against Maryland joining with one or several other state in a regional display at the event, which is scheduled to extend until October of its opening year and run for a comparable period the following year.

"Maryland should go in alone," Pate told the board.

New Jersey and Delaware already have plans of their own and a joint exhibition with Pennsylvania would result in Maryland's being overshadowed, he said later.

Pate said economic geography seemed to render a joint Maryland-District of Columbia entry impractical.

Gov. Tawes said the department should compile a list of business, industrial and farm interests whose views would be solicited before any action is taken.

He told the board that Eastern Shore seafood and poultry interests and the state's tobacco growers, among others, might be interested.

Pate said after the meeting that a Maryland-sponsored restaurant would serve to attract tourists to the state.

The eating place would offer one of the state's outstanding products — its food — and save Maryland from becoming overshadowed by exhibits from states with larger economies.

Some 30 million persons are expected to attend the fair in 1964 and 1965, he said.

Oldtown High Graduate Helps Write Book On Food

A graduate of Oldtown High School, who is now a doctor of philosophy and assistant professor in the Department of Horticulture at the University of Maryland, has corroborated in publishing a book entitled "Fundamentals of Quality Control in the Food Industry."

He is Bernard A. Twigg, who compiled the 18 chapter book in cooperation with Amihud Kramer, Ph.D., professor in the same department at the university.

Joseph M. Steger, who is Allegany County farm agent, said Dr. Twigg was a member of the Oldtown 4-H Club about 1943, when he was assistant farm agent in charge of 4-H Club work.

In the book, which contains about 400 pages, the subject of quality control is considered in the broad sense, including not only measurement, but also the reporting and decision making functions.

Since food quality is ultimately judged by the human consumer, this material in the book is organized in accordance with the human senses involved.

In the volume, the fundamental principles have been outlined rather than details of procedures presented. Liberal use has been made of examples taken from actual practice.

The book was published by the Avi Publishing Company, Inc., Westport, Conn., publishers of books for the food industry.

Two of Twigg's brothers, Roy and James, farm in the Walnut Ridge area near Oldtown. A sister, Miss Mabel Twigg, teaches at Oldtown School.

The body is at the Kight Funeral Home where the family will receive friends from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

Snowfall Halts Road Projects In This Area

Garrett County Job Completed

The snowstorm which blew into Western Maryland over the weekend brought an almost complete end to highway construction until spring.

A great deal of progress was made, however, during the closing weeks of the 1961 road construction season, according to John D. Bushby, District 6 engineer for the State Roads Commission.

The snowfall found one contract completed and another with 99 per cent of all work done.

Completed on November 30 was the improvement of Route 219 in Garrett County by the George F. Hazelwood Company.

At least 99 per cent complete was the modernization of U. S. 40 from the top of Martin Mountain to a point near the Johnson Road at the foot of the western slope.

Only a few minor tasks remained of the 3.9 mile Martin Mountain contract awarded to the S. J. Groves Company

Another Garrett County project, a Route 42 contract awarded to the Baughman Contracting Company, has been shut down for the winter.

The Groves firm, engaged in modernizing Route 40 on the east slope of Polish Mountain, has received permission from the SRC to shut the job down except for winter maintenance.

The Cumberland Contracting Company, which is rebuilding Route 40 in the Long Hill area, received permission last week to halt construction for the winter.

Shut down yesterday was the Hazelwood firm's contract on Route 40 between Town Hill Mountain and Sideling Hill Mountain.

Mr. Bushby said, however, that the firm has not officially asked the SRC to shut the job down, and that it is possible it may want to continue some work if weather conditions permit.

When highway jobs are shut down for the winter, contractors are required to perform work needed to maintain traffic and to control drainage.

Exam Is Asked On Postmaster In Westernport

Democrats Planning Dinner In March

The Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee went on record yesterday to request the United States Post Office Department, to conduct an open competitive Civil Service examination for the postmaster vacancy in Westernport.

Russell W. McBee, assistant postmaster at Westernport for a number of years, has been serving as acting postmaster since early this year when the former postmaster retired.

Motion for this open examination was made by F. Allan Weatherholt, vice chairman of the committee, and seconded by John R. Kelly, a committee member. The action was unanimous, according to William L. Wilson, chairman, who presided.

The committee also discussed a vacancy for a magistrate at Oldtown, created by the death of Magistrate Ned Hose. It was agreed that a recommendation on this appointment would not be made until after January 1, to give those interested a chance to contact committee members and make application. Three applications haye been received, Mr. Wilson said.

The committee decided to hold a Jefferson-Jackson dinner about the second or third week in March. A nationally prominent speaker will be obtained and all state and county candidates are to be invited. The committee agreed that the affair should be held after the final date for filing as candidates and prior to the Primary, so that all party candidates would have an equal opportunity to appear at the dinner.

In another action, the committee appointed Milton Gerson as party treasurer and William B. Orndorff as chairman of the party's county finance committee. Mr. Gerson is attorney and member of the County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners. Mr. Orndorff is county tax collector.

Ambulance In Crash; No One Hurt

An ambulance of the McDonald Ambulance Service here, which was on a call to the Bedford Road area, yesterday was involved in an accident at the intersection of South Centre and Salem streets. No one was injured.

Police Officer Clarence Valentine said Charles McDonald was driving the ambulance north on Centre Street when a car driven by a 16-year-old Cresaptown youth pulled out of Salem Street resulting in the collision about 4:50 p. m.

Officer Valentine indicated the youth would be charged with failure to grant the right of way to an emergency vehicle.

Mr. McDonald said the ambulance will be back in service today. Meanwhile a second ambulance was in readiness for any emergency calls last night.

He explained that a third ambulance is expetced to be put into service in the near future.

Shopping Area Lease Signed By Woolworth

Ground Breaking Slated Next Year

A 20-year lease between the Cumberland Shopping Center Inc., which is planning a park-and-shop plaza at Winchester and Vocke roads, and the F. W. Woolworth Company, was filed yesterday in the land records office at the Allegany County Court House.

The lease is apparently the first to be filed in conjunction with the new shopping center which is expected to have its ground breaking in February or March next year.

Last summer H. K. Duffield, vice president in charge of the eastern territory of Sears, Roebuck and Company, announced plans for the firm's new store which will be the focal point in the shopping center about five miles from downtown Cumberland.

Sears store will be the largest store in the center which will be constructed by Buildrers and Developers Corporation of Washington. D. C.

The new store will house some 30 seperate merchandising departments ranging from men and women's fashions to home appliances.

It is planned that the park-and-shop plaza will be ready for occupancy about one year after ground broken.

The lease which was signed by H. J. Cook, vice-president of Woolworth, and James Juliano for the center, will end January 31, 1982.

The tenant was granted five successive options to extend the term of the lease for any period of time not exceeding five years for each option.

Fleming Asks Correction Of Traffic Hazard

Police Commissioner Philmore Fleming yesterday requested City Engineer C. R. Nuzum to investigate the possibility of correcting a traffic hazard at the intersection of Valley and Walnut streets.

Mr. Fleming asked the city engineer to see if the street could be straightened at that point to make it easier for vehicles to pass.

He said he believed the hazard could be corrected at minimum cost.

After investigating, Mr. Nuzum said the situation could be corrected at a cost of less than $100 by cutting down the curb around a city park area at that point.

He said traffic going south on Valley Street toward Henderson Avenue has been running over the curb of the park area to escape oncoming traffic.

He added that cutting the curb back two feet would provide sufficient space for easy passing.

Injuries Fatal To Everett Boy

Michael C. Cogan, nine, of RFD 2, Everett, Pa., died Saturday of injuries he received when he was struck by a car Friday evening on Pennsylvania Route 26.

The youngster was taken to Bedford County Memorial Hospital following the accident and later was removed to Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh, where he died of internal injuries.

Toy Distribution Set This Week By CUF Agency

Up to 10,000 toys will be distributed this week by the Associated Charities.

Letters have been sent to nearly 200 families of the Cumberland area, asking parents to come in at appointed times to select toys which their children might want for Christmas.

The CUF agency, as usual, will try to supply one large and a number of small toys for each child.

The toys are being distributed from the agency's Toyland at 11 Frederick Street, which is overflowing with new or salvaged toys collected or made by dozens of organizations and hundreds of individuals.

Case Continued In Knife Incident

The case against Charles Pope, of 309 Central Avenue, who has been charged with assault in the knifing of another local man, has been continued until next Monday.

Pope was charged by City Police with cutting Joseph Mann, 38, of 435 Pine Avenue, following an argument at a local bar Saturday evening.

YMCA To Offer Four Courses In Languages

Four different language courses will be offered at Central YMCA starting in January, according to Banjamin F. Haines, program director.

Mr. Haines said Miss Felina Ferragut is presently teaching adults and children in conversational Spanish and she will instruct another adult Spanish class for adults next month.

Mrs. Douglas Paulsen will begin a new French class next month, and Dr. Myron Simpson, science Instructor at Allegany Community College, will teach a course in German.

John R. Michalec, Masontown, Pa., will conduct a course in Russian. Mr. Michalec is a representative of the Rochester Germicide Company and is a graduate of West Virginia University. He will teach the course under the auspices of John Puckarsh, Russian instructor at West Virginia University.

Mr. Haines said all the language classes will be conducted for a period of approximately 10 weeks, and all classes are scheduled to start the third week in January.

Persons interested in taking any of the course should contact Mr. Haines at Central YMCA.

River Bend Dam Plans Discussed

Opposition to the proposed River Bend dam on the Potomac River a short distance upstream from Great Falls, voiced at the recent series of public meetings concerning plans for the conservation and development of the Potomac's water resources, prompted editorial comment in the Baltimore Sunday Sun.

The editorial said in part as follows:

"The River Bend project would flood a long stretch of the Potomac Valley, it is true. The impounded water would extend well above Point of Rocks in Frederick County. A long strip of the old Chesapeake and Ohio Canal would be submerged. A seven-mile section of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's right of way would have to be moved. Many farms and much land with relatively high development potential would be flooded. And the undertaking would be costly. There is, however, another side to the case.

"In a highly regarded report prepared four years ago for the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin it was stated without reservation that the dam at River Bend would have to be built to provide metropolitan Washington with an ample water supply and to meet the increasingly serious problem of silt in the Potomac at Washington. Obviously something will have to give — either the considered judgement of objective experts or the opposition of a segment of the public which does not want a section of the Potomac Valley flooded. The initial step towards this decision rests with the Corps of Engineers."

Attendance At "Y" Up Last Month

For the second month in a row, an increase in attendance has been noted at Central YMCA, according to Benjamin F. Haines, program director.

Mr. Haines said 52 different groups used classrooms and clubrooms during last month with the total attendance exceeding 4,400.

This is the second straight month attendance has exceeded any other previous month.

Ronald Riggs, physical instructor, said 5,587 persons, used the physical facilities. This was an increase of 25 per cent over the month of October and a 12 per cent increase for the same month last year.

Mr. Haines announced membership for the entire year will exceed the 2,000 mark this month.
